Brynes to Meet Johnson in November Test

John Brynes, veteran Eighth District Republican congressman from Green Bay, will be opposed by Green Bay attorney and businessman Cletus Johnson in the November election.

Celebrating by Johnson, the Democrat, must have been limited, however, because he has been hospitalized in Green Bay's St. Vincent Hospital for the past five days.

Brynes had no opposition in the Republican primary, but Johnson was involved in a three-way race with two mayors — Joseph (Doty) Bayorgeon of Kaukauna and Frank Tachovsky of Sturgeon Bay.

Brynes' 35,007 vote total was 5,410 higher than the 29,597 of his three Democratic foes combined.

Democratic Votes

Johnson had 14,203 votes in the seven Eighth District counties to 8,349 for Bayorgeon and 7,045 for Tachovsky.

Bayorgeon carried his home Outagamie County by a wide margin, finished second in Brown County and was last in the other five counties. Tachovsky won his home Door County by a safe margin and edged Johnson in Kewaunee County.

However, Johnson won handily in Brown, Manitowish, Marinette and Oconto counties.

Geography Important

Johnson proved geography an important factor in a primary campaign. While his two Democratic opponents stumped the district, Johnson was limited by severe pain throughout his body and has been hospitalized since last Friday at St. Vincent Hospital where he is undergoing

Khanh Becomes Defense Minister

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Khanh took on the added title of defense minister today, government sources said.

In a continuing reshuffle of top posts, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh has reportedly been named chairman of the ruling triumvirate on which Khanh and Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khien also serve. But Khanh is still considered the most powerful man in the government.

Khien resigned as defense minister last week but reportedly remained military commander of the armed forces under Khanh.

Accord Averts Strike Threat At Chrysler

Reached Less Than Hour Before Deadline Set by Union

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union announced agreement today on a national contract, avoiding the threat of a nationwide strike by some 74,000 workers.

The announcement came less than one hour before the strike deadline.

Walter P. Reuther, union president, termed the contract agreement "the most historic agreement in the history of the American labor movement."

Reuther told newsmen the settlement included a pension plan calling for up to $400 a month payment in benefits at the age of 60 years for workers with 30 years service.

3 Year Contract

Reuther said negotiators were still working on language technicalities but that a three-year agreement had been reached on all major issues.

Without a contract, a crippling walkout would have hit Chrysler's 40 plants in 12 states and shut down production just as the new 1965 models have started rolling off the assembly lines.

Reuther said he had notified all local units across the nation of the settlement.

There was still a remote possibility of scattered walkouts on local plant agreements — but more than half of the 106 UAW bargaining units already have reported settlement of their problems.

Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. declined immediate comment on the new three-year pact at Chrysler.

Reuther said the agreement added two new paid holidays for each worker — Good Friday

Plane Crashes in South China Sea; 5 Die, 8 Rescued

MANILA (AP) — A U.S. Navy patrol plane with 13 crewmen on board crashed Tuesday in the South China Sea, the Navy announced tonight. A spokesman said five men were killed and the others rescued.

The plane was on an operational patrol flight, the Navy said.

The destroyer Maddox, operating in the vicinity, picked up the survivors, a spokesman at Sangley Point Naval Air Station said.

The Maddox was the Navy ship engaged in the Gulf of Tonkin crisis last month.

The spokesman said the plane was en route to Sangley. He said he did not know where it came from. He said 13 is the normal crew for the aircraft.

Wege Unopposed on Democratic Ticket for 14th Senate District

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Gerald Lorge Tuesday passed the main roadblock on his way to a third full four-year term as state senator from Wisconsin's 14th District.

Lorge, a Bear Creek attorney, easily outpolled his Appleton opponent "George" Buckley, also an attorney, by a surprisingly heavy 5,512 votes. Lorge's total was 10,601 to Buckley's 5,089.

Richard Wege, a labor union official from Appleton, was uncontested in the Democratic 14th District primary and captured 5,860 votes.

Buckley strategists had said that, in order to win, Buckley had to gain an approximate 2,500 vote majority in Appleton and about 25 per cent of the vote in the rest of the district. However, Buckley failed to win a single Appleton precinct. Of the 56 Outagamie County precincts, Buckley won only one, the Town of Maple Creek by a 28 to 18 margin.

2-County District

Two counties, Waupaca and Outagamie, make up the 14th Senate District. Lorge defeated Buckley 6,609 to 3,472 in Outagamie County while Wege had 4,990. In Waupaca County, Lorge had 3,992 votes to 1,617 for his primary opponent and 870 for Wege, the Democrat.

Lorge did not win by a spectacularly one-sided margin in many precincts, but maintained a solid two to one margin.

Lorge's heaviest victory margins came in the rural Outagamie and Waupaca County precincts. His most one-sided margin was in the Village of Black Creek where he defeated Buckley 101 to 19 and in Bear Creek, his home town, where he won 93 to 16.

Buckley came the closest to Lorge in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Wards in Appleton where he lost by 16, 11 and 13 votes respectively. Buckley lost his home precinct, the 14th Ward, by a substantial margin 250 to 157.

Wege's vote topped the total vote for Lorge and Buckley combined in 11 Outagamie precincts — the towns of Kaukauna, Buchanan and Vandenberg; the villages of Kimberly, Little Chute and Combined Locks; plus all five Kaukauna wards.

Wege's strength in this area wasn't a surprise, however, since the Democratic Party strength in Outagamie County is concentrated in the Fox Villages and their surrounding townships. This is due to a large population of industrial employees.

Lorge was elected to the Senate in 1954 in a special election to fill the unexpired term of Gordon A. Bubolz, Appleton, who resigned. He was re-elected by margins even more comfortable than Tuesday's in the 1956 and 1960 elections.

In a concession statement Buckley congratulated Lorge and pledged "to work for Lorge's re-election and for the county, congressional and state GOP ticket."

Uruguay Cuts Off Relations With Cubans

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The last Cuban embassy in South America gets closing orders today.

Uruguay's nine-man governing council voted Tuesday night to break relations with Fidel Castro's government in accordance with the resolution of the Organization of American States.

The council's vote was six in favor and three abstentions.

Mexico and Canada will be the only countries in the Western Hemisphere maintaining relations with Cuba. Canada is not a member of the OAS.

The Uruguayan announcement said diplomatic relations were ended "as of this date."

It said direct or indirect commercial exchanges also were ended, "with the exception of foodstuffs, medicine and medical equipment which might be sent to Cuba for humanitarian reasons."

Police reinforcements were sent to foreign embassies and key public service areas to prevent damage by Cuban demonstrators in downtown Montevideo.

St. Augustine Hit Sharply by Hurricane Dora

Telephone Service At Marineland Is Disrupted by Storm

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Dora, thrashing slowly toward the Florida coast, knocked out telephone service at Marineland today with 81-mile gusts and sent gales whirling through the quaint streets of St. Augustine.

Six-foot tides crashed into the beach at Marineland, a tourist spot noted for its collection of living sea creatures, as the giant tropical storm lashed the Atlantic.

This 400-year-old city of 15,000, oldest in the nation, lay in the path of the storm. Dora, slowed down to an eight-mile an hour travel, was centered 100 miles east-southeast of the city and moving toward the north-west.

Velocity Drops

Highest winds were estimated to have dropped from 125 to 115 miles an hour.

Hurricane warnings were displayed from Vero Beach, Fla., to Brunswick, Ga., and gale warnings with a hurricane watch were extended northward to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Eastern Air Lines canceled its flight today from Philadelphia to Jacksonville, Daytona-Beach and Melbourne, Fla. The flight was terminated at Washington. Thirty miles north of St. Augustine, the city of Jacksonville braced for what could be the first head-on blow by a hurricane in its history. Highest wind ever recorded in this city of 250,000 was 86 miles an hour in gusts in 1944.

Health Care Vote Seen Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders hope to bring up President Johnson's proposal for Social Security health care for a crucial vote next Wednesday.

The vote would be on whether to instruct House members of a Senate-House conference to back the Senate-passed health care proposal. Unless the House conferees are so instructed, most members believe the conference would reject the health care plan.

The health care plan — an amendment to a bill raising Social Security benefits — was passed 49 to 44 by the Senate last week. There has never been a test vote on it in the entire House.

Almost 30 Per Cent of Party Vote for Frinzi; Knowles Loses 7 Counties

BY DION HENDERSON

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds and long-time Republican wheelhorse Warren P. Knowles won the major party nominations for governor in Tuesday's primary, but for each there was a jolt in victory.

Dominic Frinzi, Milwaukee attorney who won nearly 30 per cent of the Democratic vote with a campaign assailing Reynolds, state party chairman Louis Hanson and former chairman Patrick J. Lucey for what he termed "bossism," said early today he hadn't decided whether to run as an independent Nov. 3.

"The triumvirate can make the next move, it's up to them," said Frinzi, who chewed heavily into Reynolds' industrial strongholds in southeastern Wisconsin.

And Knowles lost seven counties to Milo G. Knutson, outspoken conservative mayor of La Crosse whose part-time campaign was based largely on television appearances. Knutson, 43-year-old foe of state spending and early advocate of GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, congratulated Knowles but warned the three-time lieutenant governor on to a "more aggressive campaign" against state spending.

Reynolds, who held the state's convention delegates for President Lyndon B. Johnson against Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace last April, said he was "very gratified" at the results.

All Counties for Reynolds He carried every county, but held somewhat less of his party's vote than did Knowles, who took nearly 72 per cent of the Republican total. Knowles, veteran of 20 years in state serv-

Two Men Killed on NFO Picket Line

Demonstrators Run Over by Truck In Front of Bonduel Market Yard

BONDUEL, Wis. (AP) — Two men were killed during a National Farmers Organization picketing demonstration today when they were run over by a livestock dealer's truck loaded with cattle.

Killed were Howard Falk, 64, route 2, Bonduel, and Melvin L. Cummings, 44, rural Birnamwood.

The incident occurred in front of the Equity Livestock Cooperative yards in Bonduel, a northeastern Wisconsin community near Green Bay.

About 250 NFO pickets were at the yards when a truck carrying the name Ivan Miller of Cecil, Wis., arrived with a load of cattle. The driver was armed with a pistol. Police took the weapon away from the driver after the truck entered the gate of the yards.

Mob Truck

The pickets were jammed around the truck.

Police said that before they had a chance to push the demonstrators away from in front of the truck the vehicle moved forward, running over the two men.

Rain began falling immediately after the driver was taken into the office but most of the pickets continued to mill around the building.

State patrolmen joined county police in an effort to keep the group under control.

Three ambulances were sent to the scene and Shawano County authorities issued a call for "every available man." They also asked surrounding counties to send all possible manpower.

A short time before the men were run over, the pickets had succeeded in turning back a truck loaded with hogs.

One of the victims was identified tentatively as Howard Falk of the Bonduel area.

Authorities said the two bodies were taken to the Zastrow Funeral Home in Bonduel.

Three persons were injured. Two of them were identified as Richard Peters, 32, of Route 2, Shiocton, and Roger Heinz, 46, of Route 1, Bonduel. Peters suffered a cut hand and Heinz had an arm bruise.

Sgt. Ed Krueger of the Shawano County sheriff's department identified the truck driver as Ivan Miller of Cecil.

The windshield on the truck was smashed.

Roger Robson, manager of the yards, said he had tried to reach various state officials, including Gov. John Reynolds, Atty. Gen. George Thompson and Lt. Gov. Jack Olson unsuccessfully earlier in the day.

Robson said the driver was edging the truck through the crowd when he apparently saw a clear space ahead of him.

He accelerated, but forgot the rack on the back of the truck, which struck the two men and knocked them beneath the dual wheels, Robson said.

NFO demonstrators stormed the gates of the livestock yards, but Shawano County authorities were able to hold back the mob,

"every available man." They

'Senseless Sabotage'

Reynolds Asks State to Join in Bombing Probe

MADISON (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds has described the dynamiting of three southwestern Wisconsin livestock yards as "senseless acts of sabotage" and asked that state investigators join local authorities in probing the explosions.

Lafayette County authorities said the blasts occurred during the Labor Day holiday weekend but were not discovered until employees reported for work Tuesday morning.

Racine County authorities said that shots were fired into two trucks near Burlington Monday night.

There was no evidence linking the incidents to the livestock withholding action being carried on by the National Farmers Organization, authorities said.

Voters Apparently Nudge Knowles to Be More to Right

Strong Knutson Vote Shows GOP Hopeful Lacks Some Support

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Warren P. Knowles, the Republican Party's chosen candidate for the governorship of Wisconsin, apparently was given a nudge by Republican voters Tuesday toward a more aggressively conservative posture.

The vote rolled up by Mayor Milo Knutson of LaCrosse, self-styled "Goldwater Conservative" challenger for the GOP top office nomination, was probably the most significant disclosure of voting sentiment, taking into account the uncertainty of meaning in a light total vote.

Impact of the Knutson showing was stronger because it was almost totally unexpected. The Knutson campaign effort was negligible. He is scarcely known as a state-wide political personality and had never been on a state ballot before. Republican politicians generally paid little attention to his late starting campaign, and contented themselves with speculation about the probability that Gov. John W. Reynolds, leader of the state Democratic Party, would be embarrassed by a protest vote in his own Democratic primary.

Frinzi Supported

As it turned out Dominic Frinzi of Milwaukee, Reynolds' challenger, turned out a respectable number of supporters in the face of heavy odds in his own first-time bid for state political recognition.

Normally that would have been cause for consternation in the circle of an incumbent governor, but the simultaneous showing of Republican voters' apparent reserve about Knowles provided comfort for Reynolds. Reynolds had publicly declared that he was in political trouble and was known to be worried about the Knowles threat in the November election.

The Republican organization and the Knowles campaign headquarters are now likely to consider the wisdom of modifying their campaign strategy in their effort to recover control of the state executive department, which is the all-important prize in state politics.

Knowles has campaigned thus far with detailed discussions on specific state affairs, problems and proposals, but without much ideological emphasis.

Attack Spending

Some Republicans want to hit harder on the Democratic state administration's spending and taxation record, but Knowles has evidently resisted that tack because of a belief that he is favored to win and a doubt that a Republican administration can significantly alter the rise in state government costs and tax levies.

Now they will ponder the Knutson vote, and wonder whether it reflects a restiveness among Republican voters on state spending trends.

It will be hard to make any other interpretation, because Knutson campaigned exclusively on fiscal conservatism and resistance to what he called extravagant spending pressures.

Knutson also told the voters, in a comparatively light campaign effort, that the reason he was bidding for leadership of the party is that he saw little difference in the approach of Knowles and Reynolds on the key question of taxation and fiscal policy.

The election returns have informed both parties that their state ticket leaders are not as strong as they hoped, and that there is yet no clearly visible clue to the general election decision in November.

49 Oneida Voters Nullify Ballots

What Town of Oneida poll officials considered a good vote turnout was nullified Tuesday when 49 persons attempted to split tickets in the primary vote.

Primary ballots cannot be split as in a general election. Purpose of the primary is to determine standard bearers for each party in the fall races.

The defective ballots turned up among the 238 cast in the township.

Same Names on Ballot in Fall, Except for Sheriff's Contest

It was cut and dried for county-level politicians in Tuesday's primary elections, and as was expected, Republicans outpolled their political rivals in five contests by hefty 2-1 margins.

In only the sheriff contest in which Republican candidate Elden Broehm announced Tuesday morning that he would no longer be a candidate after the primary, did Democrats show mastering strength.

Incumbent Democratic Sheriff Calvin Spicer polled 6,005 votes to lead his party in vote gathering. Broehm gathered 5,926 votes, and was about 2,000 votes off the pace set by fellow GOP candidates.

Because there was no intra-party rivalry for space on the November ballot, the voting that took place Tuesday — except for the fight for sheriff — will be repeated in November with the same candidates.

Two Republican incumbents, Coroner Bernard H. Kemps and Surveyor Frank Charlesworth Jr., are unopposed for the fall election.

Outagamie County Clerk Miss Mollie Pfeffer was her party's standard bearer, collecting 8,966 votes. She is opposed by Mrs. Marilyn Taylor who collected 4,728 votes in her first try for office.

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer outshone his rival collecting 8,822. His opponent Donald Green had 5,179 tallies.

Political newcomer Dominic Peeters, running for the county register of deeds office to be vacated by his father, Stephen, collected 8,861 votes to 4,830 votes for Eugene Court.

Other vote totals were for county treasurer, Republican Raymond Bentz, 8,702, to 4,663 for Mrs. Shirley Cherkasky, Democrat; for clerk of court, Sydney Shannon, Republican, 8,741 to 4,953 for Mrs. Martha O'Brien, Democrat. Kemps collected 8,807 votes and Charlesworth, 8,555 in unopposed races.

County Republicans showed predicted strength in City of Appleton precincts where they outpolled Democratic rivals by as many as 3,500 votes in all contested races with the exception of the sheriff contest. In that race, Broehm outpolled Spicer 3,693 to 2,689. Broehm is the City of Appleton clerk.

Democrats drew expected support in five Kaukauna wards where two "favorite sons," Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon and Spicer sought party support at the polls. Bayorgeon lost the Eighth District Congress seat, however. In all contested county races, Kaukauna Democrat candidates lashed Republican vote seekers by about 900 votes in each test.

The race for sheriff, which county political observers felt at best to be a close race, has apparently been settled by Broehm's announcement to withdraw. The Republican Party Tuesday said it is inquiring what steps to take to place a candidate on the ballot in November, even if the candidate would be an independent Republican.

Broehm announced his desire to quit after he was arrested Friday in Milwaukee and pleaded no contest to a disorderly conduct charge. He was fined $100 and costs in a Milwaukee court.

Hurricane Cuts Off Phones at Marineland

hums with activity, was virtually deserted except for four destroyers on repair status in the basin. Other vessels put to sea to ride out the storm. Lighter craft were moved upriver.

A five-foot tide topped by crashing waves rolled into the beach along the ocean side of a narrow peninsula just across Matanzas Bay from St. Augustine.

Another Storm on Way

Another hurricane, Ethel, was "stacked up" in the Atlantic, like an airliner over a crowded airport, apparently waiting for Dora to land before making her own move.

Ethel, with winds of 80 miles an hour, has remained almost stationary for several hours 350 miles south-southeast of Bermuda and almost due east of Dora.

The St. Augustine peninsula was almost completely evacuated by its some 3,000 residents late Tuesday and early this morning, many leaving via National Guard trucks and public school buses.

"There will always be some people who will refuse to move," said Civil Defense Director Fred Lillis. "All we can do is let them stay."

Hurricane and gale winds raged over 200,000 square miles of the Atlantic.

Huge waves rolled across Matanzas Bay and crashed over St. Augustine's main thoroughfare, Bay Street, site of many historical buildings.

Apparently out of danger were 5,000 persons who ignored the warnings of Civil Defense workers and chose to ride out the storm in oceanfront homes at Daytona Beach, about 50 miles south of St. Augustine.

A tide of about six feet hit the Daytona Beach peninsula early this morning, but did not damage any buildings. Police cautioned against sightseeing on the beach, however, warning that the storm danger had not passed.

Just 30 miles north of St. Augustine is Jacksonville, a city of 250,000 population which has not been hit by a full-sized hurricane in this century.

Hurricane warnings were displayed from Stuart, Fla., northward to Brunswick, Ga., but the Air Force predicted that the Cape Kennedy missile base would get winds no higher than 65 m.p.h.

Gale warnings spread from Fort Myers to Apalachicola on the Florida Gulf coast, from Fort Lauderdale to Stuart on the Atlantic coast, and across giant Lake Okeechobee in the rich Everglades farming area.

The Weather Bureau said torrential rains falling around the eye of the hurricane might bring 10 inches to extreme north Florida and southeastern Georgia.

Hurricane warnings were lowered for the Tampa Bay area.

tests. The cause of his pain apparently has not yet been diagnosed. Johnson's large vote totals came from the counties distant from his two opponents.

In Outagamie County Byrnes had 9,142 votes to 4,288 for Bayoregon, 1,372 for Johnson and 602 for Tachovsky.

County Totals

Other county votes were:

Brown—Byrnes 11,345, Johnson 4,959, Bayoregon 1,893 and Tachovsky 1,896.

Manitowoc — Byrnes 5,190, Johnson 5,371, Bayoregon 1,310 and Tachovsky 2,638.

Kewaunee—Byrnes 662, Johnson 288, Bayoregon 116, and Tachovsky 311.

Door—Byrnes 1,526, Johnson 183, Bayoregon 123 and Tachovsky 723.

Marinette — Byrnes 3,840, Johnson 1,216, Bayoregon 408 and Tachovsky 713.

Oconto—Byrnes 3,302, Johnson 814, Bayoregon 205 and Tachovsky 254.

Easy Home Win

Bayoregon walked past his two Democratic opponents in Kaukauna's five wards and in the villages of Kimberly, Combined Locks and Little Chute.

In Kaukauna, Bayoregon had 1,468 votes to a total of 91 for his two Democratic opponents combined.

In Little Chute he had 305 to 81 for his foes; in Combined Locks it was 46 to 13 and in Kimberly it was 336 to 108.

Bayoregon carried all Appleton wards, but not by the wide margins in the Fox Villages.

Johnson captured the top vote in 11 outlying Outagamie County precincts.

The Nimbus I Weather satellite made this photo before noon Tuesday of Hurricane Dora from an altitude of 490 miles. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the picture was taken when the storm was about 400 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla. (AP Wirephoto) ice, had received the GOP state convention's endorsement by acclamation last spring, before Knutson raised his candidacy on the right.

With 3,557 of the state's 3,557 precincts reporting, Associated Press returns showed:

Reynolds 240,154
Frinzi 102,256

In 3,548 precincts on the Republican side, the vote was:

Knowles 245,539
Knutson 96,546

In the Senate race, Democratic senior Sen. William Proxmire was awarded a thumping triumph over two token candidates—Kenneth Klinkert, who describes himself as a social worker, and Arlyn Wollenburg, a former school teacher.

Close Election Seen

But Proxmire, seeking his second full term, described as "only 50-50" his November chances of defeating Wilbur Renk, moderate Republican leader from Sun Prairie who was unopposed on the GOP ballot.

With 3,548 precincts reporting, the Democratic count stood:

Proxmire 295,148
Klinkert 21,226
Wollenburg 17,035

With 3,425 precincts reporting, the Republicans gave:

Renk 319,327

Klinkert said he would attempt to get on the November ballot as an independent.

In the gubernatorial primary, Knutson coupled his congratulations to Knowles with a warning that "I will be very disappointed if you do not conduct a more aggressive campaign against spending, which grows by leaps and bounds just by being left alone."

If Reynolds is re-elected, Knutson added in a separate statement, "I am fairly certain I will be a candidate again" in 1966. He said that if Knowles "is elected and does a sincere job in attempting to reduce government spending, I will probably not seek the office a second time." He added that if Knowles were elected and should prove "ineffective in attempting to curtail a runaway budget," he also might run in 1966, but that in any event he would make a decision early next year to permit a more intensive campaign effort.

Lacked Organization

Knutson, who has maintained a radio news program during his five terms as La Crosse mayor, complained without a statewide organization, without paid workers and without public support from the Goldwater organization. A political colleague, Wayne Hood of La Crosse, is national campaign coordinator for the Arizona Senator.

Among the state constitutional office contests, three of the four Republican incumbents — Atty. Gen. George Thompson, Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman, and Treasurer Dena Smith were unopposed.

5 Persons Killed in Texas Auto Collision

ANAHUAC, Tex. (AP) — Five motorists died as two cars collided and burned Tuesday night. Two others suffered injuries.

The crash killed Annie Hollister, 60, of Houston, driver of one vehicle, and four teen-agers homeward bound from a beach party — Wilma Teague, 16; Brenda Teague, 14; Mary West, 13, and Albert F. Sanford, 14, all from the Gilchrist vicinity.

State police said the automobile driven by Wilma Teague edged off state Highway 87 east of Gilchrist, swung back onto the paving and skidded across the road in front of the Hollister car.

The Democratic ballot was featured by the return, in another party's column, of the La Follette name that worked political magic in Wisconsin for nearly a half-century. Bronson La Follette, 28-year-old son of the late Sen. Robert M. La Follette Jr., nephew of former Gov. Philip F. La Follette and grandson of Sen. Robert M. "Fighting Bob" La Follette, whipped William Evans of Milwaukee for the attorney general nomination.

Former Treasurer Eugene Lambs defeated Floyd Lucia, a fellow Milwaukeean, for the Democratic nomination to oppose Mrs. Smith. Lucey was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, as was Theodore Griswold for secretary of state.

being the only Wisconsin congressman to vote against the Civil Rights Bill. His district, especially the southeastern section and Winnebago County, is considered strongly conservative.

Five of Seven

In the Democratic primary, Weber, an Oshkosh public relations director, won five out of the seven counties, was close in another but was trounced in Race's home county, Fond du Lac.

In Fond du Lac County, Race had 3,590 votes to Weber's 1,153. In Weber's home county, Winnebago, Race lost 3,313 to 2,947.

All in all, Race's victory can be interpreted as a "home town victory" since his opponent had solid support throughout the rest of the district.

Vote by Counties

The vote by counties was:

Winnebago — Steinhilber (R) 8,702, Van Pelt (R) 5,309, Weber (D) 3,313 and Race (D) 2,947.

Calumet — Steinhilber (R) 1,356, Van Pelt (R) 1,746, Weber (D) 419 and Race (D) 298.

Fond du Lac—Steinhilber (R) 3,254, Van Pelt (R) 3,467, Weber (D) 1,153 and Race (D) 3,590.

Green Lake — Steinhilber (R) 1,096, Van Pelt (R) 1,188, Weber (D) 279 and Race (D) 470.

Washington — Steinhilber (R) 2,708, Van Pelt (R) 4,276, Weber (D) 1,435 and Race (D) 1,120.

By party, the two Republicans in the Sixth District polled 45,144 votes to 25,098 for the two Democrats.

In another hotly - contested Republican primary, Glenn R. Davis of New Berlin, who represented Wisconsin's old 2nd District for nine years, was back on the ballot today as the party's nominee for Congress in the new 9th.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki also was opposed for renomination. But the Milwaukee Democrat who has been the state's 4th District congressman for 16 years again found the going easy against Roman R. Blenski of Milwaukee.

Accord Averts Strike Threat At Chrysler

and the birthday of each employee. The auto company previously granted six full holidays and two half-days.

Reuther said the UAW had achieved an historic pension agreement which under certain conditions would give a worker 60 years old with 30 years service a $400 a month pension. The agreement also included an increase in current pensions for those already retired. Reuther estimated the over-all economic package at 15 cents more than the offer which Chrysler made to the UAW on Aug. 17.

Other Talks Wait

That offer originally was evaluated by the UAW at 39 cents an hour.

The UAW leader said his Executive Board will meet tonight to chart its course of action at Ford and General Motors.

"GM makes fairly good autos, but they are a long way back in labor management," he said. One of the union's biggest breakthroughs was on the issue of relief time, where Chrysler upped the time allocated to workers for rest periods from 26 to 36 minutes a day. Reuther, who had called auto production assembly plants "gold-plated sweat shops" had made this increase in relief time a primary demand.

Praises Chrysler

"Chrysler is a leader in the production of fine autos and now is the leader in the production of fine labor contracts," he said.

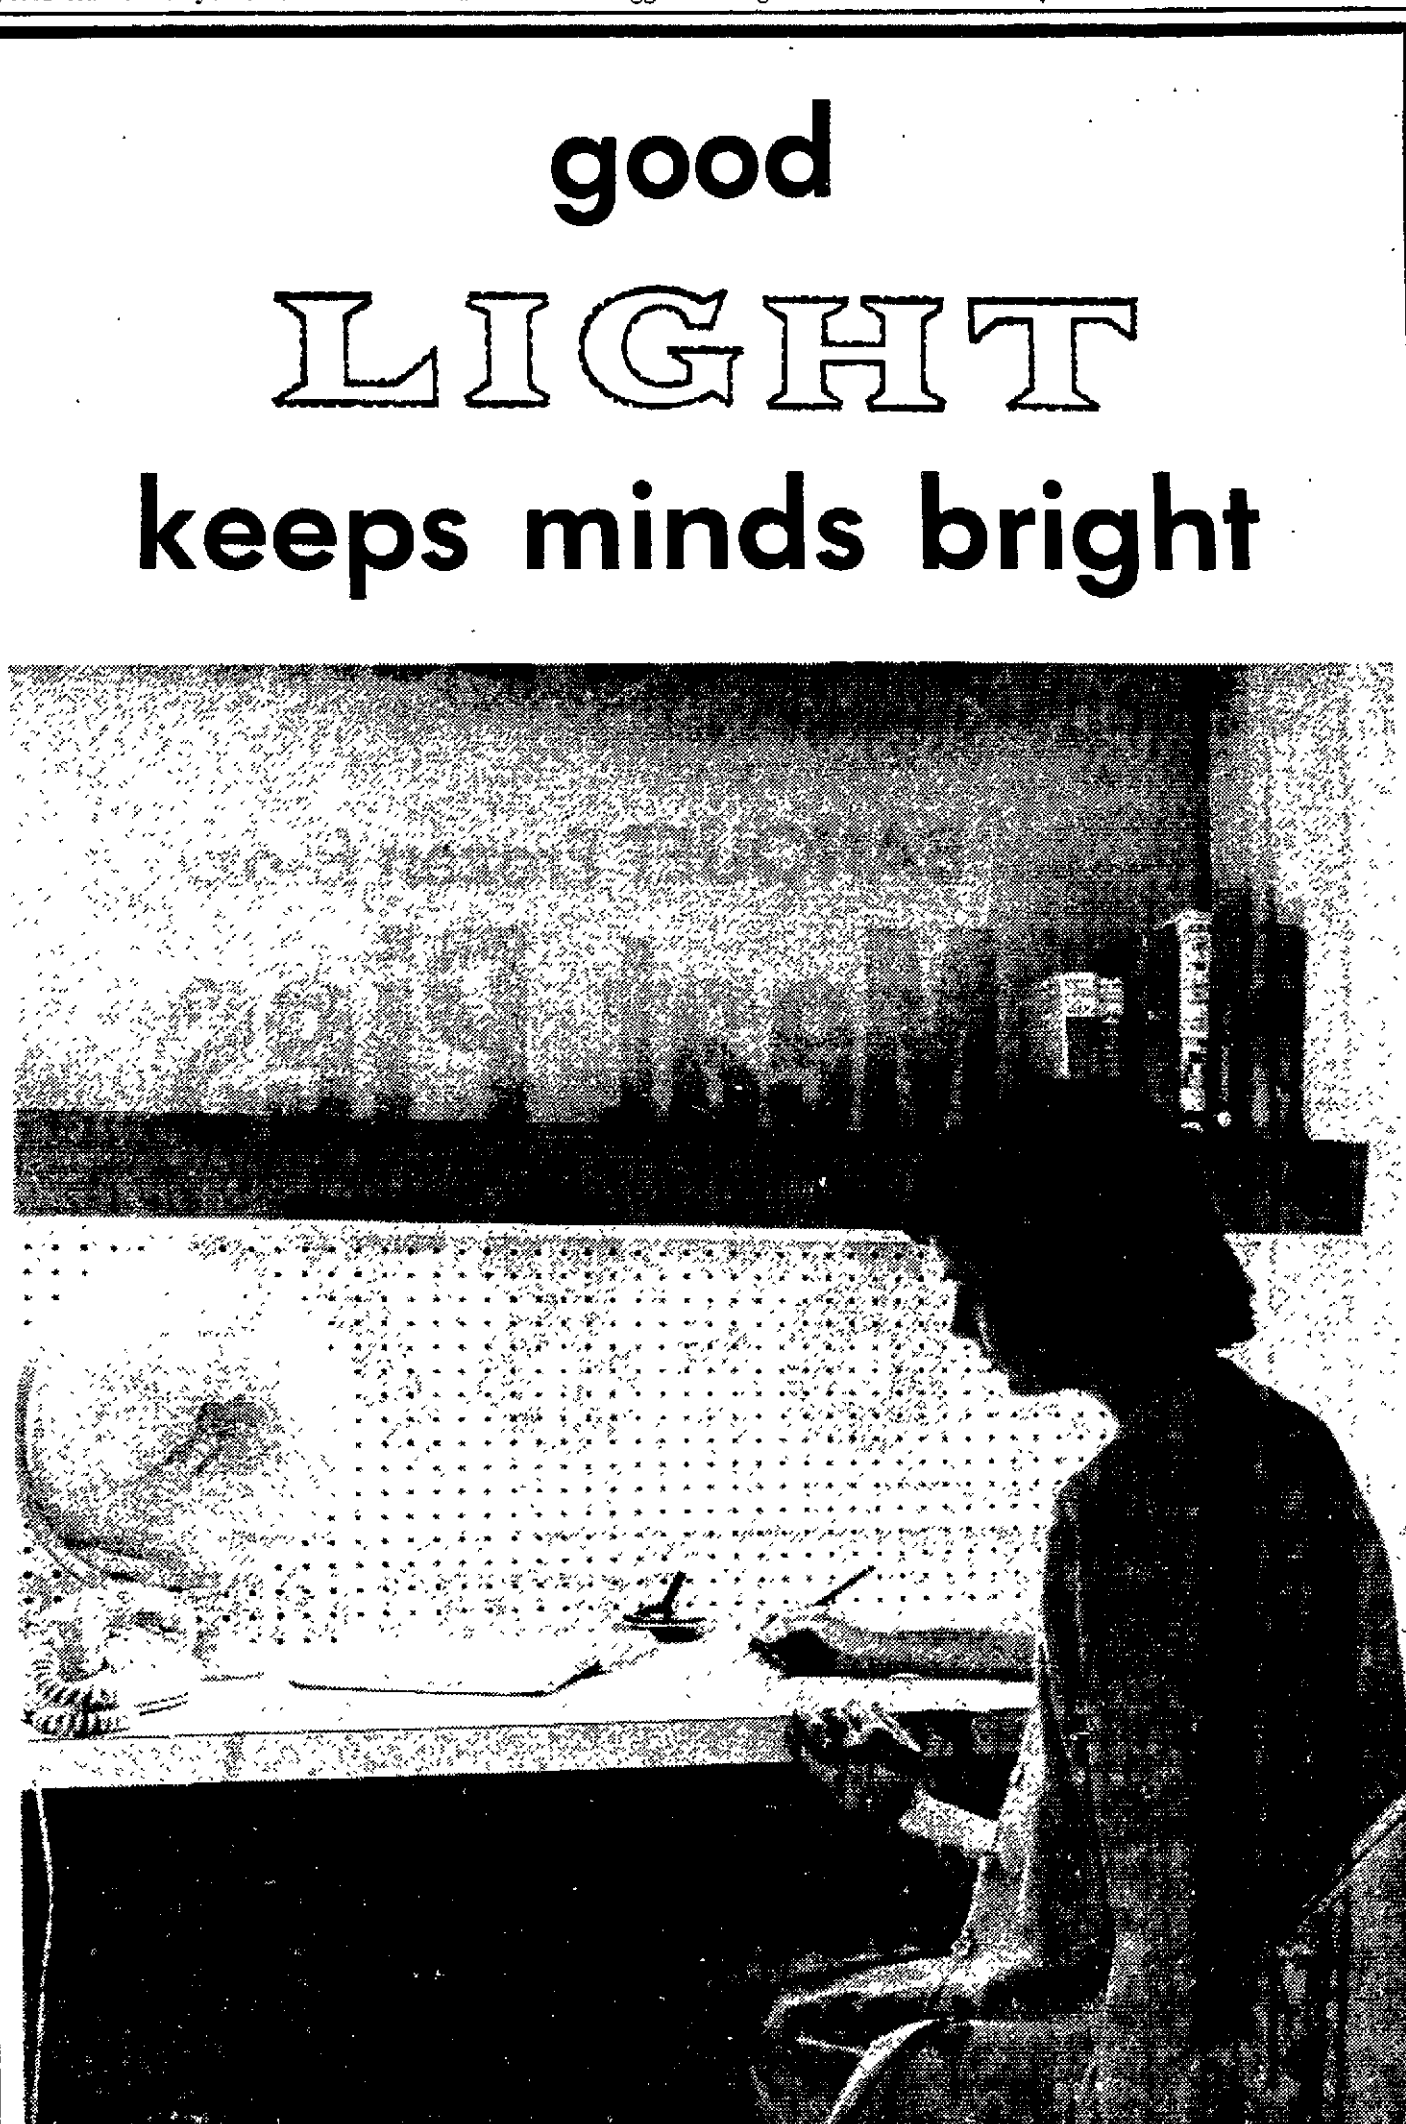

Chrysler Vice President-Management John D. Leary expressed satisfaction with the settlement. "We are glad Chrysler will now be able to have the stability it needs to continue uninterrupted production," he said.

Under the new agreement, Chrysler will pay the full hospitalization and medical insurance for retirees.

After a 15-minute news conference, Reuther and Leary headed back into the conference room to nail down the last few details of the contract.

They indicated the job should be accomplished in a couple of hours.

Be kind to your eyes. Remember, the right light in the right place helps protect your sight . . . and that's priceless.

School-agers need ample light for lessons done at home. Reading, studying, writing will be easier when there's adequate light to prevent eyestrain and fatigue.

Wise parents see that youngsters get a good look at what they're studying. See to it that when your children do their evening studies, they have the help of properly designed lighting. Where portable lamps are used for study, the lamp should have a diffusing bowl under the shade to prevent glare. The shade should be 16 inches or more in diameter, and the bottom edge about 15 inches above the desk top.

Craft May be Down In Shiocton Area

Plane Carrying Milwaukee Pilot, Daughter Missing Since Tuesday

A Milwaukee pilot and his 14-year-old daughter may be crashed in a remote and inaccessible area near Shiocton and Black Creek, Civil Air Patrol authorities confirmed today.

An air search for Lester H. Flaherty, 44, president of a Milwaukee automobile firm, and his daughter, Sharon, 14, who have been missing since early Tuesday morning when their four-place aircraft was expected to land at Timmerman Field in Milwaukee, has been held up due to foggy conditions today.

The pair left Wisconsin Rapids late Monday night and were to arrive shortly after midnight Tuesday. CAP authorities alerted squadrons to a possible lost aircraft about 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. Police were notified Tuesday night.

Bellaire Park Road Program To Continue

Area Residents Still Protesting Construction Work

Appleton Park commissioners said Tuesday the Bellaire Park road construction and beautification program will continue as scheduled.

The board again reaffirmed its position after receiving a letter from Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Zeiss, who offered suggestions on how the park should be treated and offered to meet with the board.

Some residents, mostly those in the park area, have been critical of the board for putting a road through the center of the park. They are circulating a petition.

An Appleton attorney has also filed a complaint against the city, asking the court to issue an injunction to have the project halted.

"When we get through with the Bellaire project it will be the prettiest park in the city," commented Art Jones, board secretary.

"It was never meant to be a flower garden area for six or eight people," Jones said.

"Those crying the loudest don't want anyone to go in there and use the park," Jones added.

The board produced a 1957 drawing, which showed plans for constructing the road through the park.

Members also recalled that the previous year a court decision ruled that money for the park could be used from the Peabody trust.

C of C Starts Campaign For Pledges

Appleton Chamber of Commerce workers started a campaign for pledges for its proposed $125,000 headquarters building at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Conway Hotel.

Three hundred prospect cards were distributed to 76 workers at the meeting. Willard Johnson, general chairman of the campaign, asked the volunteers to complete their work and report to the Chamber office by 4 p.m. Thursday.

More than $100,000 already has been pledged through the work of the board, according to Chamber secretary Kenneth Corbett. The current general campaign is being conducted among Chamber members.

Richard C. Van Sistine, Chamber president, outlined the history of the building program at the meeting Thursday, and Johnson described the campaign organization. Quotas are on a minimum basis, Johnson said.

The building will be erected at the corner of E. Washington and N. Oneida streets. Construction dates have not been set.

Plans for the building have been completed and approved. Bids probably will not be taken until the fund campaign has been completed, according to Corbett.

Conradt, Beck Victors in Outagamie Assembly Races

Win Republican Nominations For Third, Second Districts

Ervin (Butch) Conradt, a Chute (his home district), while Town of Bovina farmer, and Mares also carried his home district, Appleton's 19th Ward, insurance salesman, were victors Tuesday in Outagamie County's two primary election contests for assembly seats.

Beck and Conradt won the Republican nominations in the First, Second and Third districts respectively.

Other Republican and Democratic candidates in the First, Second and Third Districts were unopposed.

Two incumbents were without opposition in the primary. They were Republican Harold Froehlich, Appleton, in the First and Democrat William Rogers, Kaukauna, in the Second.

The November election for Outagamie's three assembly seats will match:

First District — Froehlich against Maurice Stack, Appleton. Second District — Beck against Rogers. Third District — Conradt against Wilbert Brick, Black Creek.

In the most contested primary race, Conradt captured 1,589 of the Third District GOP votes. He was followed by John Gillespie, a Town of Grand Creek landscape architect, with 1,475 votes, and Patrick Mares, an Appleton insurance agent, with 1,120. Brick, running unopposed in the Democratic column, received 1,142 votes.

Outagamie County got its third State Assembly seat in May as a result of the State Supreme Court's reapportionment of legislative districts.

Can't Counter

Included in the new Third are the towns of Black Creek, Bovina, Center, Cicero, Dale, Deer Creek, Ellington, Grand Chute, Greenville, Hortonville, Liberty, Maine and Maple Creek; Black Creek, Hortonville and Shiocton; and Appleton's 15th through 19th wards.

Gillespie and Mares outpolled Conradt substantially in the Third District's urban area, but not enough to counter Conradt's anticipated heavy strength in the rural areas.

Gillespie carried four of the district's five Appleton precincts plus the Town of Grand

Increase in Permit Fees Suggested

An increase in electrical permit fees was recommended Tuesday night by Joseph Schoenhaar, Appleton's acting electrical inspector.

In a letter to the public safety committee, Schoenhaar said the time has come to review the present fee schedule so any changes could be put into effect Jan. 1, 1965.

Schoenhaar said the city was issuing permits for major projects and not deriving enough fees for the inspection work done.

The matter was referred to the welfare - ordinance committee, which is reviewing various municipal fee schedules and recommending ordinances.

The committee also:

- Took no action on a request for a class A liquor license for Beverage Mart, Inc., which was previously denied.
- Had the city attorney prepare an ordinance prohibiting parking on the south side of Washington Street from Oneida to Appleton Streets, and the east side of Appleton Street from Washington Street to College Avenue.

There were 23,800 residents registered for voting in the city's 20 wards.

The turnout represented 42.2 per cent of the electorate.

Broehm Won't Say If He'll Quit Race

He's Analyzing Primary Results, Has Week to File Declination

Elden Broehm, Appleton city clerk, today refused to say whether he would quit as Republican candidate for sheriff in the November election.

Broehm, who was found guilty in a Milwaukee County court Saturday on a disorderly conduct charge for allegedly committing an indecent action in a hotel washroom, was the unopposed GOP candidate for sheriff in Tuesday's primary election.

He received 5,926 votes to 6,005 votes for incumbent Sheriff Calvin Spice, the Democrat. However, Broehm ran far behind the county ticket and its top vote-getter, Clerk Mollie Pfeffer, who received 8,966 votes.

Broehm told the Post-Crescent Tuesday that he would withdraw from the election after the primary. But today he was evasive when asked when he would file his paper declining nomination with the county clerk.

O'Brien Upset By Warren in Senate Contest

Want Okay to Start New School Plans

Kaukauna Board Hopes to Get Architect for Elementary Unit

KAUKAUNA — Permission to begin plans for a new elementary school will be asked the city council, the board of education voted Tuesday.

Members authorized their secretary to request council permission to engage an architect to draw up preliminary plans. The board indicated a new school was needed by September, 1966, and if work were not started immediately, the proposed school would not be completed in time.

Board members said that unless the school is built, mobile classrooms may be required.

They also informally agreed to continue to push the city council's finance committee to purchase land for the proposed school. The committee is studying three possible sites, two of which are owned by the firm also finished and relined the floor.

Committee appointments made by President Marshall Bayorgeon and approved by the board included Dr. George Behnke, Orlin Dryer and Robert Main, teacher committee; Dryer, Victor Haen and Richard Eslein, finance; Haen, Leo Driessen and Dr. Behnke, building and grounds; Main, board of health and city council; Principal Walter Schmidt and a teacher committee. The initial phase includes a statement of purpose, basic philosophy, teacher training.

The high school "K Klub" was authorized to purchase a $1,260 lighted sign which will be erected on Main Avenue in front of the school. The sign, 4 by 8 feet, will advertise school functions only.

Biehler was authorized to hire a teacher to teach a combined third and fourth grade at Pierce Park School after it was indicated late enrollments had increased the number in these grades beyond state recommendations.

Replace Gym Floor: Biehler said approximately one half of the floor in the new gym was replaced by the firm manufacturing the flooring after faulty workmanship was pointed out by school authorities. The firm also finished and relined the floor.

Install Playground Equipment in Spring

Playground equipment will not be installed in the new Northside Kiwanis Park until next spring, the Appleton Park Board decided Tuesday.

The Northside Kiwanis Club has donated $1,000 for equipment and plans to present another check to the board soon when the park is dedicated.

Originally, it was planned to erect play equipment this fall.

One Ends in Victory for Farm Group

Fox Valley police authorities Tuesday stood guard at two National Farmers Organization (NFO) demonstrations, one of which saw more than 700 persons objecting to livestock sales and resulted in a victory for the farm organization.

Some 30 Waupaca County sheriff department deputies were at Nolan Bros. sales barn at Marion, where the crowd was estimated at 700 persons. Meanwhile, about 40 NFO members boycotted the Armour and Co. receiving station four miles south of Chilton, where Calumet County authorities stood guard.

There was no violence, except for a tomato thrown during the Marion demonstration, but authorities were watching a sale at the Equity Cooperative sales yard at Bonduel. The NFO planned a demonstration there today.

Major reason for the huge demonstration at Marion was an agreement previously made which allowed sales at the Nolan barn two days a week. The firm normally had held three sales a week.

The demonstration resulted in a major local victory for the NFO, for Nolan Bros. signed an agreement to close operations completely until Sept. 20.

The agreement, signed by James Nolan, witnessed by William Mork, and countersigned by Carvel Voie, Scandinavia, secretary - treasurer of Waupaca County NFO, said: "We agree to shut down our auction market for a period from this date and to include Sept. 20, and after that date, if the members of the NFO succeed in closing the Equity markets on or before that date, we will remain closed until the end of the holding action."

Pete Neimuth, Manawa, a trucker, also agreed not to haul livestock for the same period.

The entire Calumet County Traffic Patrol and Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky kept watch at the Armour station.

Turn Back Truck

In an attempt to get into the station and unload, a truck knocked an elderly man down, according to NFO members at the scene. Police said the man apparently slipped.

The demonstrators there stopped one truck for more than 45 minutes until the driver turned around and went home, Ken Mainville, an Armour representative, said.

A truck owned by Pelhan and Puetz Livestock Inc. was stopped at the entrance, and only after more than two hours of negotiating, was it allowed to drive through and unload.

Mainville said the receiving station must stay open for the farmers who still want to ship their livestock to market. He said Tuesday's receipts were "light."

At New London, there were conflicting reports as to the success of the NFO action to raise prices and force master contracts with buyers and packers.

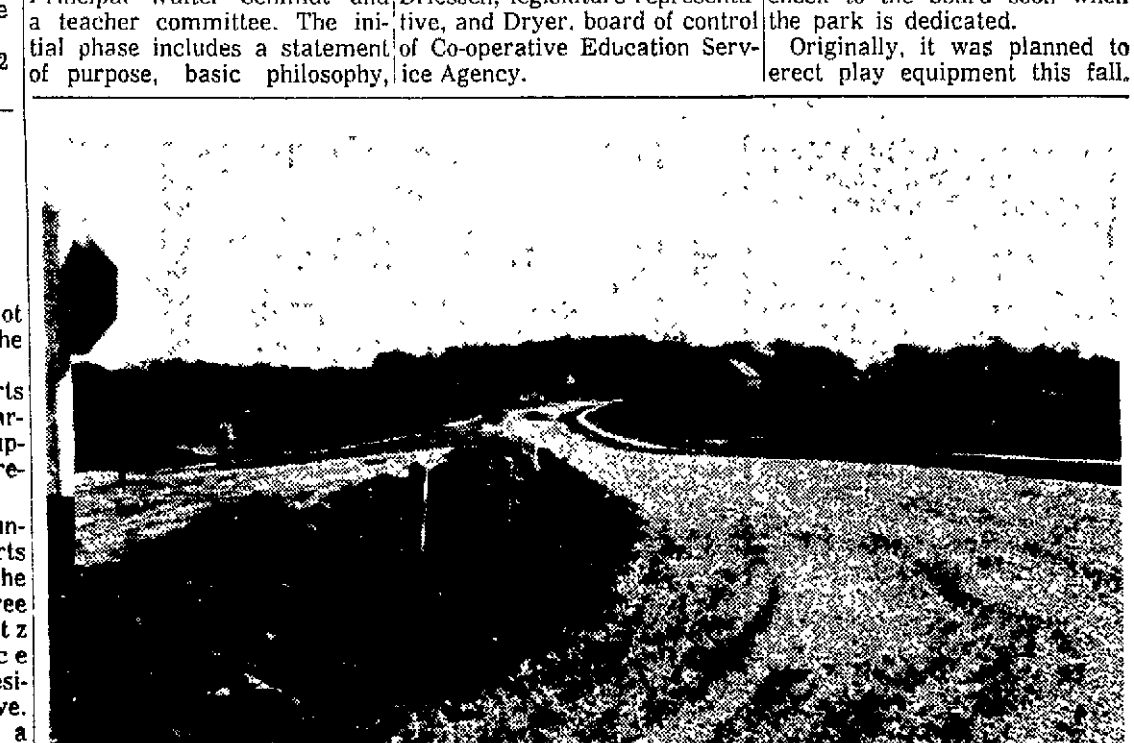

Armella Bernegger, secretary-treasurer of Quality Packing there, said receipts of cattle were exceptionally good Tuesday. She said the firm had not noticed any difference since the action was started.

Mrs. Bernegger said reports from the Chicago terminal market showed an "abundant supply" of animals was being received.

Robert Matz, Outagamie County NFO president, said reports from the national office of the farm organization did not agree with those of packers. Matz was backed up by Lawrence Dahl, Waupaca County president and district representative.

Matz said the NFO is in a stronger position now than during any previous holding action. Matz said a report from the national headquarters show the terminal market's receipts are too far below those before the action began three weeks ago.

Winnebago Names DA, Backs Losers

Engeldinger Holds 2,500-Vote Margin Over Hughes; Steiger Tops Lowell in Assembly Poll

Van Pelt, Race Bow In County

OSHKOSH — Promotion day came Tuesday for Neenah's Gerald L. Engeldinger as Winnebago County voters promoted him from assistant district attorney to the district attorney's office.

Engeldinger defeated Tom Hughes of Oshkosh for the Republican nomination. The Democrats did not have a candidate for the district attorney office so Engeldinger is unopposed for election in the November general election.

The Neenah attorney received 8,129 votes while Hughes, young son of the former state Supreme Court justice, Henry P. Hughes, garnered 5,759 ballots.

Engeldinger has served as assistant district attorney for the last 2½ years. The incumbent district attorney, Jack Steinhilber, did not seek reelection to that post, campaigning instead for the Sixth District congressional office and making a strong race against the incumbent for seven terms, William K. Van Pelt.

Carries Twin Cities

Engeldinger carried Neenah and Menasha, the village of Winneconne, 11 rural townships and the City of Oshkosh while Hughes won out in Omro and five towns.

Engeldinger's margin over Hughes in Oshkosh was only 98 votes but he picked up strong Twin City area support. Neenah backed him 2,063 to 672 for Hughes and Menasha gave him a 790 to 344 edge. The vote in the 16 towns was 1,602 for Engeldinger and 1,184 for Hughes.

The assistant district attorney won out in seven of the 16 Oshkosh wards but those wards gave him a 3,501 to 3,403 margin.

Steiger Wins

OSHKOSH — Assemblyman William Steiger came up with a victory in the Republican First Assembly District primary race Tuesday that served notice that he will be a powerful contender in the 1966 election for any office which he may seek.

Steiger scored a strong win over Sheriff Richard "Bud" Lowell for the GOP nomination to the seat in the state assembly representing 13 Oshkosh wards. He is seeking his third term as a state legislator.

ing his third term as a state legislator.

Steiger polled a total of 4,042 votes to 1,608 for Lowell who had served two terms as sheriff and is prevented by law from seeking a third consecutive term.

Steiger will be opposed in the November election by Herbert Pitz, a Winnebago County Board member and former Oshkosh alderman, who received 2,005 votes on the Democratic ticket. He was unopposed.

David O. Martin was unopposed for the Republican nomination for Third District assemblyman and collected 3,814 votes. He is seeking his third term. His Democratic opponent, Rufin Skiba, a labor leader, picked up 1,958 votes. He also was unopposed. Both are from Neenah and seek the election from the district which is comprised of the cities of Neenah and Menasha and the Town of Neenah.

The case involves a July approval of an assignment of trucking authority from Neenah-Nodaway Transportation Co. of Madison to Valley Express, Inc., of Schofield, Marathon County.

Opposed by Pitz

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County voters backed favorite son Jack Steinhilber in his close, but futile, bid to unseat veteran Congressman William K. Van Pelt and also supported Edward K. Weber in his losing race against John Race of Fond du Lac for the Democratic nomination for congress.

Steinhilber, Winnebago County district attorney, piled up a 3,500 vote margin in his home county but this failed to offset Van Pelt's strength in the rest of the district, especially Sheboygan County.

Race, who will face Van Pelt in November, edged Weber in the district after losing Winnebago County by only 400 votes. Weber carried Oshkosh but lost the rest of the county.

Carries 46 of 53

Steinhilber carried 46 of the 53 precincts in Winnebago County, losing four and tying three. Van Pelt, who is seeking his eighth term in Congress, carried Neenah's First and Third Wards, the Town of Neenah and the Town of Wolf River. They tied in the Towns of Clayton and Nepeuskun and the first precinct of the Town of Menasha.

Steinhilber's greatest strength in the county was in his home city of Oshkosh where he outpolled the incumbent by a slightly more than 2-1 margin.

Weber ran strong in Oshkosh and just about even in the rural towns but fell behind Race, who is making his second bid for Van Pelt's job, in Neenah and Menasha. Race carried 28 precincts and Weber 25, 16 of them in Oshkosh.

'Favorite Sons' Backed In Winnebago

Knowles, Reynolds Win in Primaries; Lamb Is Favored

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County voters stayed with their party's "favorite sons" by backing both Gov. John Reynolds for the Democratic Party nomination and Warren Knowles, a former lieutenant governor, for the Republican nomination for governor.

Reynolds led Dominic H. Frinzi, 5,648 to 1,225, on the Democratic ticket for governor while Knowles outdistanced Milo G. Knutson with a 10,646 to 3,035 lead in Winnebago County unofficial vote totals.

Jack Olson, incumbent lieutenant governor, received the county's Republican backing with an 11,600 vote to 1,582 for Willis W. Capps.

The other state office candidates on the Republican ticket were unopposed and again Secretary of State Robert C. Zimmerman led the ticket.

Zimmerman received 12,328 votes while Dena A. Smith, incumbent state treasurer, collected 12,157 votes and George Thompson, incumbent attorney general, picked up 12,220 votes.

Two other contests were available to the voters on the Democratic party ticket. Bronson C. LaFollette of the Madison area outpointed Milwaukee lawyer William H. Evans, who was raised in Neenah, for attorney general, 4,694 to 1,683. In the state treasurer nomination race Eugene M. Lamb received 3,390

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County voters stayed with their party's "favorite sons" by backing both Gov. John Reynolds for the Democratic Party nomination and Warren Knowles, a former lieutenant governor, for the Republican nomination for governor.

Reynolds led Dominic H. Frinzi, 5,648 to 1,225, on the Democratic ticket for governor while Knowles outdistanced Milo G. Knutson with a 10,646 to 3,035 lead in Winnebago County unofficial vote totals.

Jack Olson, incumbent lieutenant governor, received the county's Republican backing with an 11,600 vote to 1,582 for Willis W. Capps.

The other state office candidates on the Republican ticket were unopposed and again Secretary of State Robert C. Zimmerman led the ticket.

Zimmerman received 12,328 votes while Dena A. Smith, incumbent state treasurer, collected 12,157 votes and George Thompson, incumbent attorney general, picked up 12,220 votes.

Two other contests were available to the voters on the Democratic party ticket. Bronson C. LaFollette of the Madison area outpointed Milwaukee lawyer William H. Evans, who was raised in Neenah, for attorney general, 4,694 to 1,683. In the state treasurer nomination race Eugene M. Lamb received 3,390

Other series awards included Bob Vogt, first in the D scow tuneup; John Isakson, first in the X class tuneup; Geoffry Catlin, second in commodore series, D scows; Isakson, second in commodore series and Ann Hanlon fourth in commodore series, X boats; Linda Buchanan, first, and Pete Greenman second in senior X class championship series; Leroy Goldbeck, second championship series, D scows; Kathy Manley second and Isakson, third, class X championship series; and Greenman, first in senior class X championship series.

Because the Lightnings didn't sail at all and the E boats only had few races, eight trophies were not awarded in the two classes.

Neenah Police Investigate Five Cases of Breaking, and Entering NEENAH — An estimated total of $331 was taken in five cases of breaking and entering during the long Labor Day weekend, according to police.

Gib's Sinclair Service, 333 Main St. was burglarized sometime Monday night. Entry was gained through a small restroom window in the rear of the station, police said. Approximately $20 was taken from the cash register; nothing else in the station was disturbed, according to the police.

A pop dispenser containing between $5 and $6 was entered in the Milwaukee Journal office in the Durham building, 514 N. Commercial St., according to the police report. The complaint was received by the police at 7:30 a.m. Monday.

Doug Schoemike, manager, stated the office is open about 4 a.m. for the paper boys. Apparently the machine was opened after that time, police said. The machine was opened with a key and relocked after the money had been removed, according to the report.

Econ-O-Wash, 320 Main St., reported $185 taken from the premises sometime Monday night, according to the police report. The loss was discovered at 7:58 a.m.

A plate glass window was broken in the back door to gain entry into the building, police said. The office door was kicked open and a cash box taken from the desk. The box was opened with a screwdriver and $160 removed, along with $25 from the cash register, police said.

A cash register was discovered missing from the Kwik Shake Inn, 915 Winneconne Ave. Tuesday evening, according to the police.

A 20 inch square service window was broken and the register pulled through the opening, police said. The register was empty as the stand had been closed for the season.

The register had been found by a youngster fishing in the river in Riverside Park. The machine was found submerged in shallow water. The property was returned to the stand.

NEENAH — William Hanson was elected commodore of the Neenah-Nodaway Yacht Club by the board of directors Tuesday night. He succeeds Frank Grundman.

Other officers for 1965 are Ivaux Andersen Jr., vice commodore; "Buzz" Kellett, assistant vice commodore; William Casey, rear commodore; Ed Moon, secretary; and Sumner Parker, treasurer.

Kellett, Andersen and William MacLay were elected directors for three years. Parker and Leroy Goldbeck were named to 2-year terms while Tim Catlin, Dave Lincoln and Frank Remley will serve one year.

Retiring directors are Gene Vogt, Joe Sensenbrenner and Bob Kimberly.

NEENAH — The Neenah-Nodaway Yacht Club will play host to the national M-20 regatta Friday, Saturday and Sunday on Lake Winnebago.

Because there is no advanced registration, the exact number of entries will not be known until Friday, however, between 20 and 25 are expected.

Since it is a national regatta, boats are expected from throughout the country. Among the early entries are those from Tulsa, Okla., and Lake Geneva.

NEENAH — Rick Zimmerman, 17, 365 Dunning St., was taken to Theda Clark Hospital in the Neenah Ambulance at 5:39 p.m. Tuesday after receiving a hip injury at Menasha High School football practice. His condition was listed as satisfactory this morning.

NEENASHA — The second act of vandalism within a three block area here within the past few days is under investigation by Menasha police.

William Daniel, vice president of the Fox River Valley Oil Co., told police someone entered the company property during the weekend and took all the gasoline tank caps from five trucks.

Earlier this week police began investigating vandalism at a Central Paper Co. warehouse where vandals entered and threw boxes of material from the second floor.

Bad Reactions Vary On Sulfa and Penicillin

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Should sulfa drugs be given without allergy tests? If so, for how long?

What are the symptoms of sulfa poisoning? — I. P.
Dear Doctor: I have read so much about allergy to penicillin. My husband and I cannot agree whether to let the doctor administer penicillin to our three-year-old daughter who already has had her first and only shots of it within the last six months, both times for an ear infection. In both cases she showed marked improvement. Does this indicate that her body used up the drug in its entirety, so she will run no risk of its building up and causing a serious reaction? Is there some drug other than penicillin? — MRS. E.A.H.

Let's answer these letters separately, since the two drugs are quite different.

—Sulfa: Reactions to this drug are usually in the form of a rash, nausea, headache, and disturbance in the white blood cell count.

Newer forms of sulfa are less likely to cause reactions than some of the early ones.

I am not familiar with allergy tests or other methods of determining in advance whether a reaction is likely to occur. However, I don't see any great need for them.

If such a reaction occurs, and the symptoms cease promptly when the drug is discontinued, that is good reason to avoid giving it again.

—Penicillin: This is a different drug, and reactions can be much more serious than with sulfa.

Hives, rashes and other allergic responses may occur very quickly after an injection, or may be delayed as much as 10 days. Such results, while annoying, are not dangerous. Rather, the danger lies in cases in which the allergic response includes swelling of tissues of the respiratory system, interfering with breathing, or other such serious consequences.

It is not a problem, as Mrs. E.A.H. suggests, of the drug "building up," but rather of a person becoming more sensitive, allergically, to a substance the more often he is exposed to it.

Some people become readily sensitive to penicillin; others never do. Sensitivity, like hay fever or any other allergy in that respect, depends on the individual.

Millions of people have had penicillin without undesirable consequences. But with the drug so widely used, and sometimes promiscuously, quite a few have turned out to be allergic to it.

I don't want to say anything to encourage needless fear of penicillin. (Mrs. E. A. H. may well be worrying without any real cause.)

If there is any sign of reaction to penicillin, then sensitivity or "skin" tests should be performed to make sure. It can't be predicted in advance who will be sensitive, but I advise caution with any individual who is known to have other sensitive ganglion and is it serious? — C.R.H.

If allergy to penicillin exists, then it is possible to resort to quite a few other antibiotics. Your doctor will choose one which fits the type of germ being combatted.

Note to Mrs. H.A.P.: There's no reason why parsley or sas-

Mass for Lawyers Sponsored by Group In Columbus, Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's capital is among the latest of a number of communities in which "The Red Mass" has become an annual tradition.

More formally known as the Solemn Votive Mass of the Holy Spirit, it is an invocation of divine assistance for those who make, plead, interpret or apply the law.

A custom for centuries in Europe, it gets its traditional name from the red vestments worn.

A society of Roman Catholic attorneys sponsors the annual Red Mass in Columbus, and attorneys, judges, lawmakers and public officials of all religions are invited.

Italian Troops Hunt For Terrorist Leader

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — Police and Alpine troops virtually sealed off Italy's South Tyrol region Tuesday trying to intercept a terrorist leader believed wounded and trying to escape into Austria.

Georg Klotz, 45, was believed wounded in a gun battle that killed Alois Amplatz, 38, another terrorist leader who fled with him to Austria and returned two weeks ago.

Both men had been tried in absentia and convicted of undermining the sovereignty of the Italian state by trying to return the South Tyrol region to Austria. Amplatz was sentenced to 25 years 6 months and Klotz to 18 years 2 months.

Kosmosky Defeats Vice for Calumet Sheriff Nomination

Math Nilles, Veteran Court Clerk, Upset in Primary Vote

CHILTON — Calumet County's veteran sheriff, C. J. Kosmosky, won the right to represent the Republican party in the November election by downing county patrolman Irvan Vice in Tuesday's primary.

The balloting also provided an upset when Roger Testke, route 4, Chilton, apparently broke a 24-year grip on the office of clerk of court held by Math Nilles, 703 Park St. Both were Republican candidates and the Democrats do not have a candidate on the ticket.

Vice Wins 2 Precincts

Kosmosky, who polled 1,974 votes to 1,233 for Vice, will be seeking his sixth term in office. Together with his wife, Lucille, who successfully kept the post in the family on two occasions when Kosmosky could not run, the couple has held the office for 14 years.

Kosmosky carried about the same margin of victory in all precincts with the exception of Harrison Township and Appleton's Ninth Ward, Second Precinct, which gave Vice a plurality. The only other precinct in which Vice showed significant strength was in New Holstein where only nine votes separated the two.

Kosmosky will face Democrat Herman Weaver, route 1, New Holstein, in November, but the GOP nomination in traditionally Republican Calumet County is tantamount to re-election.

A mere 98 votes gave Testke his victory over Nilles for Republican nomination. Testke received 1,570 votes compared with 1,472 for Nilles. Nilles carried six of 17 precincts with Testke, who waged an ambitious campaign, winning 11.

November Opposition

Although unopposed Tuesday, incumbent county treasurer, Merlin Zahn, 122 Court St., Chilton, will be opposed by Democrat David Solchenberger, New Holstein in November. Zahn received 2,805 votes Solchenberger, also unopposed, got support from 654 Democrats.

Unopposed Democratic incumbents, who also will be without opposition in November, are F. J. Schmieder, district attorney, 2,576, and Leroy Hughes, coroner, 2,476.

Woman Gets Prison Term For Forgery

Mrs. Stickney to Serve Up to 4 Years; May Appeal Ruling

An Appleton woman charged with forgery of a $20 check and with forging a name to a department store credit slip for purchase of a $12.98 dress was sentenced Tuesday to up to four years in the women's state prison at Taycheedah.

Mrs. Jo Ann Stickney, 32, indicated through her attorney, Allan Cain, that she planned to appeal the conviction. Cain asked for a stay of the sentence for several days in order to prepare the appeal, but it was denied by County Judge Gustave Keller.

Earlier Judge Keller had approved Mrs. Stickney's request to discharge her court-appointed attorney Joseph Van Susteren and to substitute Cain. Cain is to be paid by funds supplied by friends of Mrs. Stickney.

Cain requested that pleas of guilty to the two charges be laid aside and that Mrs. Stickney be allowed to plead innocent. Judge Keller denied the request.

Mrs. Stickney was charged with the offenses June 22 by Appleton police. She has been in the Outagamie County jail for failure to provide bonds of $3,500 for her release.

Outagamie Democratic Committee Appoints Fall Campaign Funds

Executive committee members of the Outagamie County Democratic Party Tuesday night made final apportionment of funds to county and district candidates for the November election campaign.

In addition to aid from the party's campaign treasury, a mutual assistance dinner will be held in October to benefit candidates. William Cherkasky, Lester Balliet, county chairman, and Dr. James Barnstable were appointed to complete arrangements for the dinner, which will include a speaker of statewide importance.

Theodore Griswold, Democratic state candidate for secretary of state, will be the featured speaker Sept. 17 at the regular county meeting at Outagamie County Bank.

Chairman Balliet asked the membership committee to exceed the membership quota set by state headquarters — four new members by Sept. 17 — and aim for 1,000 members by the November election.

Our Saviour Church to Start Building Drive

The council of Our Saviour Lutheran Church will have an orientation meeting Thursday evening with Alfred Klimesz, fund-raising director of the Lutheran Laymen's Movement for Stewardship of the Lutheran Church in America.

Klimesz will conduct a capital funds campaign in the congregation during the next three weeks for the new building the congregation will erect on Florida and Meade streets in the near future.

Klimesz has been active in campaign direction for Lutheran Laymen's Movement in Eastern and Midwestern states and is an active churchman in Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Wildwood, N.J. His work with the Lutheran Laymen's Movement followed 20 years of business experience and necessitated the closing of the Klimesz public relations agency in Wildwood. Klimesz served in the Navy during World War II and was attached to the staff of the commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet.

Klimesz has just completed a successful fund-raising campaign in Pueblo, Colo., for another congregation of the Lutheran Church in America.

Goals for the Our Saviour campaign have not yet been set, but all funds pledged will be used towards construction of the first unit to be built.

The congregation now rents the chapel located at 1506 N. Meade St. for worship and Sunday School. The chapel was recently purchased by the Fox River Baptist congregation and the two congregations share the space. This arrangement will continue while the Lutheran congregation is erecting its new building.

It is hoped that construction will be started in late fall or early spring.

Woman Jailed For Forgery

Sentenced to Serve 2 Years for Offense in Waupaca County

WAUPACA — Mary Jane Leppen, Jackson, Mich., a former Iowa resident, was sentenced to two years in prison on each of eight counts of forgery when she appeared Tuesday in Waupaca County Court before Judge Wendell McHenry. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Mrs. Leppen pleaded guilty to the charges Aug. 25 when she was arraigned before Waupaca Municipal Court Justice George Whalen. She had been free on a $2,000 bond during a presentence investigation. The sentence is to be served in the Wisconsin State Home for Women at Taycheedah.

Mrs. Leppen was accused of forging a total of $475 in checks in Waupaca, Portage and Oneida counties. The charges in the two other counties were combined with the Waupaca County charges.

After forging the checks, Mrs. Leppen went to Jackson, and it required extradition proceedings to return her to Wisconsin to face the charges.

Incumbent in Calumet Edges Sylvester Simon

Carries 16 of 17 County Precincts In Hot Contest

CHILTON — Incumbent Calumet County Assemblyman William H. Struebing, route 1, Brillion, was successful in his bid for the Republican nomination in Tuesday's Primary election. Struebing is seeking his second term in the state assembly.

Struebing defeated Sylvester A. Simon, route 1, Menasha, by tallying 1,912 votes to Simon's 1,277.

The GOP race for nomination became heated late in the campaign when religious factors were brought in. The conflict arose because of an ad Simon ran in the Green Bay Register, a Catholic weekly newspaper. The ad charged Struebing had voted against the school bus bill and was aimed at the county's Catholic majority.

However, the ad was inaccurate since Struebing had voted for the bus bill. Late efforts at a retraction were made by Simon claiming he had made an "honest mistake." Struebing, however, said he didn't believe the ad was an "honest mistake" and charged Simon, a Catholic, was attempting to bring religion into the campaign.

In his march to victory, Struebing carried all 17 of the county's precincts with the exception of Harrison township, Simon's home.

Simon carried Harrison by 122 votes. The county was 273-152. Struebing showed strength not only in the rural areas consist-

Transfer of Iola Dam Ownership Gets PSC Okay

Madison — Transfer of ownership of the Iola Dam in the south branch of the Little Wolf River in Waupaca County to a co-operative real estate development firm has been approved by the state Public Service Commission.

F. J. Wipf, Iowa, asked for the transfer to Lake Iola Real Estate, Inc., which proposes to buy all land around the flowage and to improve the pond for real estate development. Individual land owners and buyers of lots riparian to the pond will become owners of the dam under a shared ownership plan.

The Village of Iola, the commission said, has declared its intent by ordinance to assume responsibility for continued maintenance of the dam if maintenance is not performed by the owners.

Inquest Set In Fatality

Calumet Coroner to Investigate Death Of Goodman Girl, 17

CHILTON — A coroner's inquest into the July 29 death of a Goodman girl in Calumet County has been set for Sept. 23 at the courthouse.

County Coroner Leroy Hughes called the inquest to check circumstances surrounding the death of Marie Kristine Wickstrom, 17, a Menasha company office worker, from a July 28 accident at the intersection of State 114 and County Trunk JJ, a quarter mile northeast of Potter.

Police said a car driven by Ross Danielson, 18, Houghton, Mich., skidded over 100 feet before coming to a halt wrapped around a pole.

Danielson told police he missed a curve while traveling west on JJ. The car he was driving, owned by Gordon Schmidt, route 2, Brillion, was a total loss.

Hughes said the girl died from injuries and complications from the crash. She suffered a fractured spine, two broken legs, several cracked ribs and cuts and bruises.

Motors, Steels Lead Advances

Chrysler Jumps Sharply as Strike Threat Is Ended

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors and steels advanced today as the stock market celebrated Chrysler's labor pact. Trading was active early this afternoon.

Wall Street heaved a sigh of relief on news that Chrysler had reached agreement with the United Auto Workers, avoiding the threat of a nationwide strike.

Chrysler was bought heavily. Industrials staged a general advance, putting them further into new high ground.

By midsession, however, the atmosphere began to calm and traders began to take some profits.

Chrysler's best gain of more than a point was trimmed back to a point. Major steelmakers remained generally higher, along with chemicals, rails building materials, retails and rubbers. But the pattern was mixed for tobacco, aerospace stocks, oils and utilities.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .9 at 320.0 with industrials up 1.60, rails up .5 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was 3.75 above the historic closing high reached Tuesday, putting the average at 855.66.

Volume Increases

Volume was running some 400,000 shares above Tuesday's. Chrysler was "all over the tape" following the news from the bargaining table, released minutes before the strike deadline.

General Motors rose nearly a point, paring the gain to a fraction. GM and the union extended their current labor contract, scheduled to expire tonight. Ford and American Motors added fractions.

Jones & Laughlin and Republic Steel held gains of about a point while U.S. Steel and Republic Steel showed fractional advances.

COMSAT showed a fractional gain Anaconda clung barely to the upside following its 34-point surge of Tuesday. Kennecott gained a point. Phelps Dodge dropped a fraction.

Polaroid held a gain exceeding 2. Control Data slipped nearly a point.

Sears, Roebuck was up a point, Du Pont more than that. Pan American World Airways was a 1-point loser in a soft airline section.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

China's Influence Growing in Congo

Peking Agents Seem Building Base for Spreading Revolution

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Red Chinese influence is growing in the former French Congo. Peking agents seem intent on transforming it into a base for revolution in central and west Africa.

Brazzaville, capital of the Congo Republic, provides headquarters for what seems to be a mastermind committee of the rebellion in the other Congo, to the east, against the Leopoldville government.

Red China may see bright prospects for the spread of revolutionary violence from seeds planted in the two Congos. Portuguese Angola to the south is a prime target.

Rebel Holdings

Rebels holding a large chunk of the eastern area of Leopoldville Congo, including the city of Stanleyville, refer to their forces as "The People's Liberation Army." The Red Chinese apply the same name to their army.

Evidently, the anti-Leopoldville uprising gets significant help from Brazzaville, an important transport hub for all central Africa. It is headquarters for an organization called the National Council for Liberation of the Congo. This group issues communiques on the progress of rebellion in the neighboring Congo, and describes itself as devoted to "Lumumbism." Patrice Lumumba, a pro-Communist premier of Leopoldville, was murdered in 1961.

Tshombe Complaint

Premier Moise Tshombe in Leopoldville complained this week of "interference from certain foreign countries in the service of Communist China, such as Brazzaville Congo and Burundi." Burundi is to the east of Leopoldville Congo.

The Brazzaville regime is headed by President Alfonse

Masseмба-Дебат, who overthrew conservative Fulbert Youlou a year ago. While members of his cabinet make lurid Marxist pronouncements, Masseмба-Дебат seems to be treading water in a sea of confusion.

Masseмба-Дебат says he is for nonalignment, but looking forward to expanded relations with Red China to help build "scientific socialism," which will "oppose capitalism." Trade relations have been expanded. Brazzaville attracts high-powered delegations from Peking. Chou Chiu-yeh, a foreign office expert on Africa, is ambassador.

Appeal to Youth

The Chinese make their biggest appeal, evidently, to youth. Young men played a large part in the revolution last August. Youngsters, calling themselves "revolutionary committees," fan antiwhite hatred.

People's Daily of Peking, with a show of satisfaction, quotes a Brazzaville youth leader as saying: "Not long ago Youlou appeared to be very powerful, but in less than three days he was overthrown. This proved the truth of Mao Tze-tung's dictum that the imperialists and all reactionaries are paper tigers."

There are still 8,000 French in the nation of 800,000, but French troops protecting them, according to Masseмба-Дебат, will soon be withdrawn. The French civilians probably will go, too. Without France, Brazzaville faces economic chaos, but logic seems to have little to do with what goes on in many new African nations.

People's Daily says the Brazzaville regime plays a "positive role in international affairs" in Africa. It says Brazzaville energetically supports "the people" in other African areas in "advancing the cause of African people's solidarity to combat imperialism."

Translated, that can mean the Chinese Communists consider Brazzaville all but safely in the bag and a base for spreading violent revolution.

School Integration Spreading Quietly In Southern Cities

Civil Rights Leaders View This Week as Turning Point

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public school desegregation spread quietly into some of the smaller cities of the Deep South this week in what one civil rights leader called a turning point for the area.

Union Springs, Ala., a rural-oriented town southeast of Montgomery, faced the test today, when Negroes begin their studies with white classmates.

The community was expected to take the court-ordered integration in stride just as did Montgomery and Gadsden, Ala., Prince Edward County, Va., and Albany, Ga.

Nine Negroes

Nine more Negroes planned to join 21 others in desegregated schools in Albany, a south Georgia city where hundreds of Negroes were jailed for street demonstrations in 1961-63.

Columbus, Ga., also began desegregation Tuesday, admitting two Negroes to a white school under court order. Every major Georgia city now has begun desegregation.

The pattern of nonviolence was described as "the turning point for the Deep South" by Constance Baker Motley of New York, the NAACP legal defense fund attorney who fought dozens of courtroom battles over desegregation.

"I don't recall any similar year of widespread peaceful compliance since the 1954 Supreme Court decision," she said in New York.

Four Pickets

At Montgomery, eight Negroes entered two white high schools and an elementary school. Four white men picketed Robert E. Lee High for a time but there were no incidents.

In Gadsden, a tense scene of demonstrations last year, three schools accepted 15 Negroes without incident. Only a few spectators were on hand and School Supt. I. J. Browder said the citizens "want to abide by the law."

Prince Edward County, Va. reopened its public schools but only seven white children were among the 1,400 Negroes. The schools were shut five years ago to avoid integration.

The remainder of the county's white school-age children, 1,200 of them, remained in the private segregated system set up after the public schools were closed in mid-1959.

Humphrey to Tilt With GOP On Farm Policy

Democratic Ideas To Be Presented At Plowing Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has decided to pit Vice-presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey against GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in a traditional two-party clash on farm policy.

Johnson has assigned the Minnesota senator to present the Democratic viewpoint on farm problems at the annual National Plowing Contest near Fargo, N.D., Sept. 19.

Campaign Schedule

After some indecision over his campaign schedule, Goldwater has told sponsors of the event he will be on hand. He also has agreed to speak at the National Corn Picking Contest in Sioux Falls, S.D., Oct. 16. There is no word whether Johnson or Humphrey will appear for the Democrats.

The plowing contest, held in a different state each year, traditionally has attracted presidential candidates by offering a large audience for the airing of their views. Sponsors expect a crowd of 50,000 to 100,000 farmers and their families Sept. 19.

Johnson is reported to have decided that as a Midwesterner familiar with recent agricultural legislation Humphrey was well equipped to state the administration's position.

Indicates Pattern

Whether his decision indicates a pattern of turning over much of the work-horse campaigning to his second man remains unclear. It seems certain that Humphrey will be seen much oftener in the Midwest than the President.

Humphrey has said he is going to campaign in the South, where his strong stand on civil rights has not been popular.

He got an invitation Tuesday from Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who gained national attention on the other side of the Civil rights fence in the Little Rock controversy, to make two speeches in Arkansas Sept. 17 and 18.

Miller Says Humphrey Connection With ADA Is Legitimate as Target

BANGOR, Maine (AP) —

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the Republican vice presidential candidate, says Humphrey's connection with Americans for Democratic Action is "an area of legitimate discussion as far as the American people are concerned."

"I shall continue to discuss it," said Miller Tuesday night in a television interview.

He fired back at Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who accused Miller Tuesday of "foul-mouthed vituperation and unvarnished misrepresentation" in Miller's continuing attacks on Humphrey, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, and the ADA.

Leftist Organization

Miller, describing the ADA as a "radical leftist organization," has cited for the past four days Humphrey's role as a founder, former chairman and vice chairman, and present member of ADA.

Miller said the ADA policies include recognition of Red China and repeal of internal security legislation.

"If he (Humphrey) is not in accord with these positions," Miller said, "he can say so."

Miller flew into Maine Tuesday night to begin a three-day campaign swing that will take him to five New England states and the Westchester County area of New York by Friday night.

He was accompanied by his wife and two daughters, Elizabeth, 20, and Mary Karen, 17.

Issued Statement

Just before departing from Washington on his campaign plane, Miller issued a statement in which he said that Fulbright's comments were "only new proof that Sen. Fulbright continues to live in his own little world of old myths and unrealities."

Miller said his statements about Humphrey "dealt exclusively with his record of virtually 100 per cent agreement with the radically liberal Americans for Democratic Action. I did not deal in name-calling tactics, as did Sen. Fulbright."

The GOP nominee said that "if Sen. Fulbright and the other liberal Democrats now find their record distasteful, I would remind them that it is their record, no one else's."

As You Vote . . .

"As you voted so shall you be judged by the American people," Miller declared.

Fulbright also had charged that the GOP presidential candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater, was advocating foreign policies that could lead to "nuclear conflict that would destroy the world."

Fulbright said that Goldwater's call "for an aggressive new American foreign policy was built on the assumption that communism and freedom cannot continue to exist in the same world."

Argentine Pilot Flies Plane Over Falkland Islands

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — An Argentine stunt pilot who reportedly flew to the Falkland Islands and unfurled an Argentine flag in the disputed British colony must explain why he didn't let the Air Ministry in on his plans.

A spokesman for Miguel Fitzgerald, 38, a civilian pilot of Irish descent, said he landed Tuesday in Port Stanley, capital of the Falklands, planted the flag at the airfield and presented the local commander with a declaration "reaffirming Argentina's rights to the islands."

Air Secretary Mario Romanello said Fitzgerald had erred in telling Rio Gallegos flight control he was going "on a short local flight."

Rolling Stones Replace Beatles

LONDON (AP) — The Beatles are no longer top mops with the British public.

The Rolling Stones, five young men who also sport long, unruly hair, replaced the Beatles at the top of the 1964 poll held by Melody Maker, a weekly for addicts of pop music.

Although the Beatles came out No. 2 in the British section of the poll, they were No. 1 in its international section.

The Beatles also lagged on the hit parade of 10 best-selling records. Their "Hard Day's Night" was seventh "You Really Got Me," by the Kinks, was No. 1.

Court Rules German Unable to Stand Trial

LIMBURG, Germany (AP) — A West German court has ruled that Dr. Hans Hefelmann is no longer physically and mentally able to stand trial for the deaths of 73,000 persons under the Nazi euthanasia program.

Court doctors ruled that Hefelmann, 57, is suffering from rapidly advancing senility and would live only two more years if his trial continued. The trial began Feb. 18.

Goldwater Man Wins GOP Gubernatorial Contest in Arizona

Gov. Paul Fannin Is Unopposed For Republican Seat in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard Kleindienst, field director of Sen. Barry Goldwater's successful bid for the GOP presidential nomination, won Arizona's Republican gubernatorial race as six states held primary elections Tuesday.

Kleindienst trounced Even Mecham, Phoenix publisher and auto dealer, in his bid to succeed Gov. Paul Fannin. Fannin was unopposed for the GOP nomination to the Senate seat Goldwater has held for 12 years.

Across the nation, in New Hampshire, Republicans apparently ended the political career of former Gov. Wesley Powell. He lost the GOP gubernatorial primary to John Pillsbury.

Renominated with ease were Sens. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Govs. John King, D-N.H., John W. Reynolds, D-Wis., and Philip Hoff, D-Vt.

Here is a rundown on key contests:

ARIZONA

Kleindienst was 15,000 votes ahead of Mecham on returns from about half of the state's precincts. His Democratic opponent in November will be Sam Goddard, who lost to Fannin in 1962. Fannin's senatorial foe will be Roy Elson, for 10 years administrative assistant to Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz. Elson defeated former State Supreme Court Justice Renz Jennings and four others.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

Powell conceded to Pillsbury as counting passed the halfway mark. The former governor said he would back Pillsbury in the general election, a contrast to 1962 when he supported King.

VERMONT

Lt. Gov. Ralph A. Foote edged former Lt. Gov. Robert S. Babcock for the GOP gubernatorial nomination against Gov. Hoff. Sen. Prouty will be opposed by State Sen. Frederick J. Fayette who defeated former Rep. William H. Meyer in the Democratic primary.

MINNESOTA

McCarthy swapped two foes and also outpolled Republican Wheelock Whitney, his November opponent.

COLORADO

There were no senatorial or gubernatorial races. All four House members were renominated.

Approval of Loan To Russia Defended

TOKYO (AP) — British Chancellor of the Exchequer Reginald Maudling today defended his government's approval of a 15-year bank loan of $67 million to the Soviet Union.

"We wish to trade with the Soviet Union as we trade with other countries," Maudling told a luncheon of the Foreign Correspondents Club of Japan.

He said five-year credits, the limit urged by the United States and some other members of the North Atlantic alliance for dealings with Communist countries, "are not sensible" for certain multimillion-dollar projects.

Jet Crashes After Takeoff Near Madison

MADISON (AP)—A 102-B jet plane of the 325th Fighter Interceptor Squadron crashed on takeoff from Truax Air Field near Madison today and its pilot ejected safely, a field spokesman said.

The pilot was identified as Jean Franzoi, 26, who lives at nearby Sun Prairie.

The craft was destroyed. Truax authorities said the cause of the crash was not immediately known and that it had not been determined at what height Franzoi ejected himself.

The jet crashed in an open field about a half mile north of the field along Highway 51. The plane was on a routine flight and was making a right turn at the time of the crash.

A field official said the pilot walked to a nearby furniture company warehouse and asked that the base be called to report the crash.

Buchanan Firemen Put Out Blaze in Tractor

DARBOY — Town of Buchanan volunteer firemen were called to the Joseph Wittmann farm, route 4, Appleton, to extinguish a tractor fire at 7:45 a. m. Monday. The tractor apparently ignited when the gasoline tank overflowed. Wittmann used another tractor to pull the burning machine away from farm buildings to prevent flames from spreading.

Form Catholic Organization To Foster Vocations as Sisters

The Theresians, a new organization to foster vocations to the Catholic sisterhood, will be started in Appleton at a luncheon meeting Thursday noon in Skall's Colonial Wonder Bar.

It will be the first group in Wisconsin, according to Mrs. Lyle Becker, temporary president. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Orville Griese, pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church, Brillion, and vocations director for the Green Bay Diocese, will speak at the initial meeting.

An organization for women, it is the counterpart of the Serra Club, which fosters vocations to the priesthood, but it is not an auxiliary of the Serra Club, Mrs. Becker explained. The Theresians were formed several years ago in Denver. The nearest group is in Chicago. The Appleton group, to include members from all Appleton Catholic parishes, will hold a monthly luncheon meeting, with the date and place yet to be set. Types of activities to be sponsored by the group will be decided by the membership. Temporary officers are Mrs. Becker, president; Mrs. Gene Birchler, first vice president; Mrs. Walter Bell, second vice president; Mrs. Ignatius Theiss, secretary, and Mrs. Alvin Gloudemans, treasurer.

U.S.S. Savannah Returning Home

MELMOE, Sweden (AP) — The U.S. nuclear ship Savannah is en route home after being delayed by technical trouble. It had been scheduled to sail Monday. A statement from the ship said its nuclear reactor was shut down to check for a possible malfunction. It was later discovered that the fault lay with instruments used to sample air near the reactor, the statement said, and "the nuclear aspects of the ship were not involved in any way."

The Company Picnic That Grew

A company picnic that started several years ago on a small scale and has grown to include more than a thousand people was held by Elm Tree Bakeries at Menominee Park, Oshkosh.

Originally a party for about 350 employees and their families, the all-day program now provides activities for all ages from its morning starting hour until late afternoon.

Games included races, bean bag, horse shoe, a bucket brigade contest, a pie-eating race, a tug of war, balloon blowing, raw egg tossing and many other tests of skill and courage. Food was served from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Heading the committee were Mrs. Roman Dietzen, chairman, and Mrs. Amelda Huisman, Mrs. Evelyn Abel, David Lesperance and Walter Benz.

Bonnie Schmidt, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Schmidt, Appleton, sat in the sawdust and clutched the peanuts she'd found in the peanut-penny hunt for little children at Elm Tree Bakeries' picnic Sunday. There were games for all ages at the event.

Young Women who work in offices and plants all week long tried their hands at games of skill Sunday. Testing her eye and her hand with a dart throw, above, was Miss Connie Buss, Appleton. The young lady had a crowd of well wishers as she aimed for the bull's eye. At right, as at any picnic, the food was a major attraction. Mike and Greg Griesbach, sons of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Griesbach, Hortonville, received plates of hot dogs from Mrs. Elmer Bobb, Neenah.

How Big a Balloon will blow before it breaks is not only a matter of breath but also of judgment. Robert Rosin, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosin, Kaukauna, was cautious about that last small puff. At right, the bucket brigade found that balancing plastic pails of water while walking with a ball between one's knees was no easy task. Sylvester Menting, Hortonville, looks on as Harold Rosin, Kaukauna, reaches one of the finish marks. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

FATHER BALKS

Dear Louise: We are Catholics but our daughter is engaged to a Protestant and will be married in the Episcopal church. My husband won't recognize any of her plans. He says he cannot prevent this turn of events because the young people are of age, but Miss Davis he won't endorse the marriage in any way. He refuses to pay any of the wedding cost and refuses to permit his name on the invitations. He claims that if we do, he will put a notice in the newspapers renouncing any financial or moral support. My daughter is having a very simple wedding and is intending to pay the cost herself. I intend to help in any way that I can. Would it be in bad taste if, under the circumstances, the invitations read: "Mrs. Joseph Brown requests the honour of your presence, etc." Could we get around this in any other way? Or should we just call my husband's bluff and include his name anyway?

Louise Davis Answers:

Your husband may not be bluffing and I advise respecting his wishes. He may relent but don't count on it. It would be bad taste to issue the invitations in your name and it wouldn't be right to defy your husband by including his name. In either case, there might be nasty repercussions. You don't want to get yourself out on a limb and you want your daughter's wedding to go smoothly without any town talk that your husband put thumbs down. Your only solution would be to eliminate your name too when ordering the invitations. The wording should be: The honour of your presence is requested at the wedding of Miss Mary Anne Brown and Mr. John Joseph Smith, etc. You will be present at the wedding and reception. That is enough to let friends and family know that the bride has at least her mother's backing.

Provide Enough

When you are refurbishing your table service, acquire enough small salt and pepper shakers so that there's a set for every two diners.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Topping Fashion

Fall hats are simply terrific. And selections that look terrific on you should be no problem. Designers have gone all out to create a choice of individually flattering silhouettes.

The better to suit your figure, hats range from doll size to dashing proportions. The better to flatter your face, shapes are posed in a multitude of ways—forward, straight, back and profile. Among the shape-makers, count malleable berets, sloping cloches, tailored bretons and sailors, Henry Higgins fedoras, contouring helmets and caps, and domed turbans with a back twist.

To assure a striking blend of hats and costumes, there is a grandiose assortment of colors and fabrics. Rich tones—warm reds, greens, browns, pinks and turquoise—dominate, with black and white coming on strong.

Materials run the gamut of supple felts, wools, leathers, jerseys, mousse, feathers, satins and velvets. Plus—a big one—furs and fakes that look real.

If you would make the most of this largesse, keep these points in mind: 1. Choose shapes with lines that counteract those in your face you could do without. For example, a round face needs the counteraction of shapes with straight or diagonal lines. 2. Try tilting a hat to render it more becoming. 3. Be sure the proportions of a hat are in balance with your own. 4. In mating a hat to a costume, work for interest. . . Wear a deep pink hat with a plum costume, or combine furry and smooth textures.

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, The Eyes of Youth. Danish Princess Bids Homeland Farewell; to Become Queen of Greece

BY RONALD THOMSON
COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Princess Anne-Marie says farewell to her Danish countrymen today in preparation for a new life as queen of Greece.

The pretty 18-year-old princess and her handsome fiance, King Constantine, were to drive in an open carriage today in a farewell procession through Copenhagen.

Anne-Marie, still inclined to giggle like the schoolgirl he was a few months ago, will become the world's youngest queen — married to the world's youngest king.

Constantine, an athlete with the reputation of a daredevil, is 24.

Danes were a little worried that Anne-Marie might soon be embroiled in such political issues as the Greek-Turkish dispute over Cyprus.

Danish Troops on Isle
Denmark has troops under the United Nations flag there and has been careful to avoid partisan statements about the future of the disputed island.

The young couple spent much of Tuesday looking over hundreds of their wedding gifts spread out in the banquet hall of Amalienborg Palace.

Crowds waiting in the courtyard set up a storm of cheering that forced the couple onto the royal balcony, waving and smiling. Tuesday night Constantine and Anne-Marie appeared again before a cheering crowd, this time from the outside balcony of the Royal Theater. Inside the theater 1,000 guests and 100,000 roses were on display.

Anne-Marie, stunning in a blue satin gown, had chosen the romantic program — two ballets and a one-act comedy, all having to do with problems of young love.

Danish Family Attends
Constantine and Anne-Marie's oldest sister, Princess Margrethe, the heiress to the Danish throne, leave by plane for Athens Thursday.

The bride-to-be, her parents, King Frederik IX and Queen Ingrid, and her other sister, Princess Benedikte, arrive in the Greek capital Sept. 11 aboard the royal yacht Dannebrog.

The wedding will take place

Miss America Becoming Part Of Our Cinderella Tradition

BY TOM SEPPY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The audience applauds and cheers, the music starts and a new queen begins her reign accompanied by the now familiar, "There she is, Miss America."

As she walks along a 120-foot ramp, a certain feeling of pride comes over the 30,000 persons jammed into this resort's Convention Hall and millions more viewing her coronation on television.

Miss America has become a part of the way of life in the United States during the past 43 years — a way of life that will lavish fame and fortune on a pretty young girl.

Who Is She?
But just who or what is Miss America?
To some, including the executive director of the pageant, Miss Lenora Slaughter, she's the "All America girl" — lovely to look at, talented, charming, well-educated and eminently respectable.

Others say Miss America is a commercial creation of a publicity man's imagination — a pretty girl who will sell automobiles, soft drinks and anything else that will bring in dollars.

Basically, Miss America is a young woman who, in the eyes and minds of 11 judges, is prettier, more talented and has more personality and poise than 49 others.

One of 60,000
The 50 girls who will compete in the annual pageant beginning Wednesday are also the products of some 3,500 local, regional and state pageants — most sponsored by Junior Chambers of Commerce — in which approximately 60,000 competed.

All are between the ages of 18 and 21 except Elizabeth Anne Emerson of Durham, N.H., representing the Granite State. She's 22.

Ten girls are 18, the minimum age to be eligible for the title. Miss Ellen J. Warren of Kennebunk, Maine, is the youngest in the contest after turning 18 Aug. 10.

Scholarship Prizes
All have college scholarships — earned at the lower level contests — and all hope to use the $10,000 first prize scholarship in the national pageant to further their education or careers.

Many hope the pageant will provide a stepping stone to the stage or movies, though few contestants have risen to any great heights in those areas.

Possibly the most successful was Joan Blondell, who reached movie stardom after appearing on the boardwalk as Miss Texas. Bess Myerson became a television personality after winning the Miss America title and its first scholarship in 1945. She will appear on the program this year and will be its television hostess.

Each of the girls will be vying to succeed Donna Axum of El Dorado, Ark., and for the $10,000 scholarship and public appearance contracts valued at an estimated $75,000 for her year's reign.

Runners-Up Win
Even if a girl doesn't win the title and the first prize scholarship, she still can earn part of some $40,000 in scholarships awarded to the runners-up and to those who win the talent and swim suit competitions.

The Cinderella world of Miss America began for the girls shortly after they arrived. On Labor Day, they registered, got hotel assignments and preliminary instructions and posed for pictures.

The public will get its first view of the girls as a group this evening, when they move along the boardwalk in the annual festival of floats. The girls will be accompanied by some 30 bands, 36 floats and grand marshal Perle Mesta during the two hour illuminated parade.

Preliminary Trials
Then it's three days of preliminary competition in the evening gown, swim suit and talent divisions as the judges award points which will give one of the girls the title.

On Saturday night, the names of the 10 girls will be called and they will step down stage at Convention Hall to become semifinalists of the contest. The runnersup will then be named until only one remains.

The Miss America pageant, oldest of all national beauty contests, has a mantle of refinement and culture these days — a far cry from its early beginnings as a boardwalk leg show created in 1921 as a means of extending the summer season at the shore a week or so.

Tone Raised
Miss Slaughter, who went to work for the pageant in 1935 and became its executive director six years later, was the one who helped raise the tone of the contests.

She surrounded the pageant with all kinds of safeguards.

She recruited prominent matrons as hostesses. They rarely left their charges' sides until the beauties were safe in bed. Men, even the fathers of the girls, were ordered to stay far away.

Bathing suits were deemphasized. The girls were exhibited in evening gowns, and last year for the first time, were shown in street clothes. Each contestant was required to display her talent. She could do anything from a soprano solo or a reading from Shakespeare to baton twirling.

Not 'Mere Beauty Contest'

Miss Slaughter preached the theme that the pageant was no longer a mere beauty contest, but a quest for talent. In effect, the world's largest series of amateur nights.

Some old-timers mourn for the good old uninhibited days when a judge's main equipment was a tape measure and the whole thing was a frolic.

Next Saturday night, Bert Parks, master of ceremonies, begins singing "There she is, Miss America." The girl who steps forward to make the long walk might come from a small community or a big city. Her name is virtually un-

TAFFY'S TIPS

By Dolly Martin

ATTENTION: WEIGHT WATCHERS

To fat for your age? Then get on that scale and check once more just how much you wish to lose. Better still, have a talk with your family doctor and follow his advice. Plumpness at thirteen up to fifteen or sixteen just sort of assures a girl that some lovely curves are on the way, so think twice before you start on a diet. Your doctor may recommend that you just keep eating well - balanced meals every day and avoid that extra piece of cake, pie and other rich foods. However, if you're more than a few pounds overweight, and your doctor agrees that you need some slimming down, there are some foods he'd probably suggest for in-between meals. Raw vegetables, (celery, cabbage, carrots, cucumber, green peppers, radishes, scallions, tomatoes, watercress) tomato or vegetable juice, sour pickles, dietetic gelatin desserts, dietetic jellies and jams, dietetic soft drinks. While you are slimming, it's wise to eat more protein foods such as meat or fish, eggs, cheese and milk.

Racial Violence Spreading Defeat Predicted for Marxist In British Guiana Fall Election

BY ROBERT BÉRELLEZ
GEORGETOWN British Guiana (AP)—Dr. Cheddi Jagan has turned in his prophet's robes for the trappings of a practical politician to avert election defeat this fall.

The consensus is that the darkly handsome Marxist prime minister will fail.

But to British Guianese who consider Jagan's ouster a certainty, the forthcoming elections will amount to no more than changing the driver of the same old bus route. This is because of a spreading belief that the wave of racial violence between Guianese of East Indian and of African descent has gone beyond political control.

Without internal peace and a common objective, little hope is held for the development of this troubled colony, whether the leader be Jagan or his arch-rival, Negro leader L. Forbes Burnham.

Guianese Opinion
Reflecting the opinion of some prominent Guianese, Police Commissioner Peter Owen said recently: "Neither Jagan nor Burnham can govern without the consent of the other. I'm afraid violence has now gone beyond the realm of politics."

Owen, a ruddy-faced Briton, commands a force of 1,600 men and 600 volunteers, often badly overmatched in 24 months of almost continuous civil strife. Terrorist violence since February has claimed 161 lives. 24 persons are missing, more than 800 wounded and damage to property and crops is estimated at over $2.5 million.

The violence has evolved around the controversial personalities of Jagan and big erudite Burnham, 41, a lawyer-Shakespearean scholar with a large following among the Negro middle and poor classes, but viewed warily by some intellectuals who say they see in him a thirst for power.

Ex-Colleague
A Socialist and political ex-colleague of Jagan, Burnham bosses the Peoples' National Congress from a small office marked simply "leader." Party members refer to each other as "comrade."

There is little doubt that Burnham enjoys the full support of the U.S. and British governments. Jagan, the first Marxist with a clearcut mandate in Western hemisphere history and winner of three elections in the last decade, has been unable to govern successfully because of strong resistance at home, in London and in Washington to his policies. They are regarded as too far left.

His waning popularity was visible in the 1960 elections that gave him only 42.7 per cent of the electorate. He held on to the prime ministry, however, under then existing election regulations.

Jagan apparently has decided the image cast by his left-wing extremist posture has cut too deeply into the ranks of his Peoples' Progressive party following to survive the new election test.

Party Shaken
The Jagan party's all-India base has been shaken by defections of small Hindu and Moslem groups. A larger segment pulled out recently behind one of Jagan's former top lieutenants.

Persons close to the party hierarchy report Jagan and his strategists are considering a public denunciation of communism.

The strategy is to overcome the election maneuver through which the British hope to oust Jagan and eventually grant independence to this long-unwanted colony. Under pressure from Washington, Britain has refused to let British Guiana go while Jagan remains leader.

The British Colonial Office has devised a proportional representation formula — bitterly opposed by Jagan and his party — for elections expected sometime in November.

Major Parties
Theoretically, in the absence of a clear majority for any of the three major parties the prime ministry would go to a coalition — in this case the Burnham party and the arch-conservative United Force party. They got 4.13 and 16 per cent, respectively, of the 1960 vote.

Although their programs have key basic issues — independence and social reform — in common, Jagan and Burnham differ vigorously on points that have proven irreconcilable and would rule out a coalition at this time.

Confronted with formidable obstacles, Jagan seems bent on recovering lost ground in the urban areas he had neglected in favor of the rice paddies and sugar plantations, where his following borders on the mystical.

Measured against the tempo of racial violence, most of the campaign talk sounds hollow. There are only thin hopes that election results will restore peace.

Warring Camps
Terrorism has torn this country of sugar cane fields, great rivers and dense forests into warring camps of Indians and Negroes. The economic, social and vocational differences that distinguish them become, subsequently, new causes for strife.

Some peace efforts are being made in urban areas where groups of Indians and Negroes have banded into volunteer vigilante units engaged in 24-hour patrols around their homes.

The idea of a form of partition, which Negro and Indian leaders decry is gaining ground. Indians are abandoning their old villages to set up new communities on privately owned sugar estate lands. This has created a new problem. Landowners are protesting vigorously that the Jagan government is doing nothing to discourage the squatters.

Cypriot Delegation Will Visit Moscow
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — President Makarios will send a delegation to Moscow this week to seek concrete terms for the Soviet offer of aid to the Greek Cypriot government.

The Greek Cypriot president called for Soviet military aid last month after Turkish war planes attacked Greek Cypriot positions. He has also asked the United Arab Republic for help.

The Soviet Union is reported to have offered Makarios $30 million in economic credits and to have left the way open for discussion of Soviet military aid.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duval, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duval, Ph.D.

WHICH MOTHER IS MORE LIKELY WORKING? EDUCATED OR UNEDUCATED?

The educated woman with children is more apt to be working than is the uneducated, according to a recent analysis made by the Women's Bureau. Mothers who have attended college are more likely to work than those with less schooling. The percentage of employed mothers typically rises among mothers with longer schooling—particularly in families with incomes under $6,000 a year. Many of these mothers are apparently trying to raise their families' living standards and give their children more of the good things in life.

Do we know what civilization is?

Yes — No —
Yes, we know a good deal about it. Civilization, in its essence, is knowing how to behave in ways that are beneficial rather than harmful to ourselves and others. A man is not civilized because he has a car, but Should parents go to college?

Yes — No —
A mother writes, "Our daughter is dropping out of college and my husband and I are heartbroken because we have sacrificed so much to send her." But if the daughter lacks the ability to make good or is simply not interested, why should she stay? If the mother believes that much in college education, let her go while the daughter stays home and takes care of the house. Why should we force upon our children what we want to do ourselves?

Wisconsin's Health

Tetanus Still Taking Lives; Easy Safeguards Neglected

BY CARL N. NEUPERT, M.D.
State Health Officer

Tetanus is a disease which has almost been conquered in our country. But almost is not enough. Each year, tetanus continues to take lives in Wisconsin, a loss that is particularly tragic when a simple way to prevent the condition is easily available.

The disease is most likely to occur following a penetrating or puncture wound, where the bacteria are thrust deeply into the flesh. From the site of the wound, the germs grow and multiply and send a powerful poison into the system.

These poisons attack the nerve cells, primarily the nerve endings of the muscles. Violent painful muscular spasms intermittently involve the entire body. These spasms may be severe enough to cause fractures of the spine. One typical symptom is rigidity of the jawbone; hence the common name—lockjaw.

Many people mistakenly believe that tetanus is a hazard only of those working on farms or around animals. While it is true that the risk of exposure is greater in agriculture, it should be remembered that tetanus germs can exist wherever there is soil, even in the dirt on city streets.

Inoculation Routine

Tetanus is usually a part of children's routine inoculations. Adults who have not been previously inoculated, will generally receive two injections a month apart, followed by a reinforcing dose a year later and then a booster dose once every four years.

Another protection is anti-serum. The serum provides temporary immunity by neutralizing the poisonous toxin, and is used following an injury when the victim does not have the full protection of the regular vaccine.

Serum must be given promptly to be effective, and it can cause a strong reaction in certain sensitized persons. The best bet then is to be sure you are protected, before an injury occurs.

The victims of tetanus are likely to be those who take an "it-can't-happen-to-me attitude." Unfortunately, "it" can and does happen—to the unprotected.

The two other books comprising each national award are entitled "Everyday Problems in Science" and "In All Our Winners of the stamp packets will have a chance to win the national prizes because their entries will complete automatically by local prize-winning entries from all other cities where this column is published. All prizes—local as well as national—will be awarded for accuracy, neatness and originality.

The contest problem is to find two clocks in the picture above that show the same time. When you have found them, mark them in some way so the judges can clip out the picture, paste it on paper or a postcard, print your name, age and address beneath it and decorate the entry in any neat, original way, using paints, crayons or cut-outs.

Address your entry to Cappy Dick's Midwest Contest at the Appleton Post-Crescent and mail before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Names of the prize winners will be published here and there in today's contest. These awards will be mailed to them. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries will become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

Ann Sothern Proves Her Acting Talents

After 7 Years in TV Comedy Role, Appears In New Dramatic Parts to Change Image

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ann Sothern is taking an ad in the Hollywood trade papers which reads: "How to change an image."

Photographs illustrate how well she has accomplished the process. Clustered around a photo of Ann as her own glamorous self are shots of her in recent film roles as a prostitute, a political busybody and a blowzy has-been.

What on earth has happened to Ann?

Wanted to Act
"I wanted to act," she explained. "After all, I was an actress before I got involved in comedy. After seven years in television I wanted to return to what I had done before. To do it, I had to make a complete break with my previous image."

A shrewd planner in matters concerning her career, she realized that she had to exercise the acting muscles that had stiffened during years of delivering and reacting to mechanical laugh lines in television. She enrolled for lessons with dramatic coaches Stella Adler and Jeff Corey.

"Private lessons," she emphasized. "I couldn't do those crazy things that the kids in classes have to do."

Pesticide Seen as Threat to Burglar

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Police advise whoever burglarized a wholesale grocery firm to see a doctor at once.

The prowler, or prowlers, took $35 from a refreshment fund collected by employees of the Kimball-Austin Co.

Before locking up for the weekend workers protected by gas masks sprayed the floor with a commercial pesticide containing cyanide.

A company spokesman told police Monday night that a person exposed to the gas might die without medical attention.

Civil Defense to be Topic for Kiwanis

Civil defense developments in the Appleton area will be discussed by Lee Penny, CD director, at the Sept. 15 meeting of the Northside Kiwanis Club. At the Sept. 22 meeting Vaughn Gehrt will report on his trip to the Trees for Tomorrow camp at Eagle River.

Next board meeting of the Northside Advancement Association of Appleton will be at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 15, at Integrity Mutual Insurance Co. This is open to all members.

Interesting Experiences As Listed by a Pollster

BY RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Some years ago, in a Broadway musical, they sang a song called "Leave My Pulse Alone," or words to that effect.

It kidded polls, pollsters, market researchers and those who attempt to measure trends and discover what people are thinking about. This of course includes newspaper reporters.

In every presidential election year, I try my hand at political pulse-taking. You have some interesting experiences, and frequently they recall that song.

For example, the elderly gentleman in Springfield, Mass., in 1956. He was the soul of courtesy when he answered the doorbell. I explained that I would like to hear his opinions about candidates, issues, etc., and his Yankee features froze.

Private Right

"That, sir, is an invasion of privacy," he said. "Why, I wouldn't even tell my wife what I think about those matters. Now, you get off my porch or I'll sic the dog on you."

Another time, in Passaic, N.J., a housewife made a deal with me. "I have some work to do upstairs," she said. "If you will sit here and watch junior, I'll talk to you."

So I watched junior for about 10 minutes until she returned. It wasn't a very rewarding interview.

No, she hadn't voted in the previous presidential election. Too young. No, she didn't know how she would vote this time "because I don't know what my husband thinks."

Dallas Man

But it doesn't always work that way. In Dallas, Tex., I questioned a man about his preferences. When he left the room, his wife whispered, "He says he's going to vote for Eisenhower, but don't you believe him."

"Why not?" I asked.

"He knows I always vote opposite to the way he votes. He told you that so that I'd vote for Stevenson. But he isn't fooling me. He will vote for Stevenson and I'll vote for Eisenhower," she said.

Another time, I stood outside a factory gate in Connecticut hoping to catch the pulse of some workers. Presently one emerged. I buttonholed him.

"Listen, Mac," he said, not unpleasantly, "I had a fight with my wife this morning. I've just had another fight with the boss. Now I've got a date with a bottle of beer and I don't feel like talking to nobody about nothing."

Factory Tour

Frequently, when a candidate tours a factory, I stay some distance behind and then ask the men, who have just shaken his hand, what they think of him. Typical replies in Detroit — "He's all right, I guess," "Seems like a nice fella," "I don't trust none of 'em."

How would you count these in your poll?

In Racine, Wis., during the 1960 presidential primary, I picked some numbers at random and tried telephoning. Results — a little girl who said Mommy and Daddy weren't home, a man who talked volubly but with such a heavy accent I couldn't understand much of what he said, and a woman who said, "Both my husband and I have been doctoring" — whatever that meant — "and I haven't paid much attention to the election."

Take Pulses

Another method is to stand near the cash register in a supermarket to take pulses. I tried that in San Diego, Calif., one time. One woman with a perambulator full of groceries was delighted to answer questions. The line backed up behind her. Some other women grew impatient and began uttering remarks such as "the nerve of some people," etc. Mine looked at them and said, with crushing scorn:

"They're the kind that believe in the United Nations and giving aid to Tito."

Oshkosh Woman In Shock After Being in Crash

NEW LONDON — Bess Boykin, Oshkosh, was treated for shock at Community Hospital Saturday after the car in which she was riding was in an accident.

The injury occurred when the car driven by Basil P. Boykin, 74, 1314 W. Murdock Ave., Oshkosh, traveling west on Beacon Avenue, collided with one driven by Walter J. Gleisman, 66, 1015 Appleton St., New London. The 2:40 p.m. crash caused an estimated $800 damage.

Cars driven by Bernhardt H. Boese, 55, 808 Lawrence St., and Albert J. Eisner, 61, 1115 Oshkosh Street, collided at Oshkosh and Beacon streets traveling west, at 11:55 a.m. Saturday, police said.

Tuesday, Boese entered a plea of guilty to a charge of failing to yield from an arterial when he appeared in Municipal Justice Court. He was fined $28.

The accident caused more than $100 damage.

Middle-Age Couple's Budget Can Allow Retirement Saving

BY MARY FEELEY

Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: On a net income of $11,395 yearly, can you help us set up a budget for two people, each 58 years of age?

I have just retired from a job after five years of work to help see our children through college, and now want to settle down with an eye to our future retirement. My husband, if he continues in good health, has the sort of job he will not be forced to retire from.

We own our apartment. Our monthly payments, including maintenance, are $169. Our annual insurance payments—for life, health, household, and car—amount to $349.60. My husband carries $10,000 worth of life insurance. We also pay $300 annually on notes, to run for the next three years.

With these expenses in mind, what can we hope to save for retirement and still live decently—and put something aside for the vacations we skipped while our children were growing up? Many thanks for any help you can give us.

Mrs. L. P., Coral Gables, Fla.

Dear Miss Feeley: I have a small amount of stocks, around $3,000 worth, which I would like my 14-year-old grandson to have. Can I turn them over to him now, even though he is a minor?

E. O. P., Pontiac, Mich.

Dear E. O. P.: Yes. This can be done through the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act in your state. There are certain formalities involved, which your stock broker will explain. If this information is not available to you locally, you can find out what you need to know by sending for a booklet on the subject — "Gifts of Securities or Money to Minors," published by the Association of Stock Exchange Firms, 120 Broadway, New York, New York 10005. The cost is 25 cents.

I assume you know that by giving these stocks to your grandson, you may be able to gain some federal income tax or estate tax benefits.

Dear Miss Feeley: I have been working for 12 years, paying social security tax for the entire time. If I should die, would my two children, ages eight and 10, receive any benefits?

Mrs. R. L., San Bernardino, Calif.

Dear Mrs. L.: Yes. On your credits, your children are entitled to receive benefits up to the age of 18 provided you are currently insured at the time of your death. This means that you have at least one year and a half of coverage out of the last three years prior to that time.

You can get Mary Feeley's handy Budget Leaflet by writing to her in care of Appleton Post-Crescent. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope plus interest. In addition, this

STAMS TO ME

Questions On Sewing

Q. How can I reinforce the underarms of kimono sleeves that do not have gussets? Mrs. R. E. B.

A. To reinforce the underarm seam of a kimono sleeve, fold a six-inch strip of ribbon seam binding in half, lengthwise, and press. Pin the seam binding to the seam line and stitch through seam and seam binding. Clip the seam allowance at the curve and press the seam open. (see illustration).

Q. I get confused when trimming curved seams. When do you slip the seam and when do you cut little chunks out for less bulk? Mrs. H. R.

A. Always clip seams when they are inside curves such as necklines. Clip them at intervals, almost to the seam line, so that the seam allowance can fold back against the wide curve. The sharper the curve, the closer your clips should be. But be sure not to clip into the seam line. As for cutting out little chunks . . . they are just small notches.

This method is used on outside curved seams such as the outer edge of a collar, where some fabric must be removed to get the seam edges to lie flat. If the seam allowance seems bulky and actually pleats when you fold the seam edges back along the stitching line, make narrow V-shaped notches. Be sure you don't cut right to the seam line. Do it carefully. The sharper the curve, the more notches you'll need.

Q. Why do all of my set-in sleeves pull badly across the upper part of my arm? Mrs. D.N.

A. Your upper arm is probably larger than what the pattern provides for. You'll have to adjust your pattern before cutting the fabric.

Q. The front of my dresses fit perfectly, but the backs are terrible because I have a narrow back. How can I adjust my patterns? Mrs. G. S.

A. Make a tuck (lengthwise at the middle of the shoulder line of the back. Also make the darts at the waistline and shoulder smaller by the same amount.

Q. Why is it that when I make double pointed darts on blouses they pucker? Miss M. H.

A. Probably because they are pulling. Make several clips at the center of the dart so it is able to lie flat.

Q. Exactly where should a long sleeve end on the wrist? Mrs. M. T.

A. Generally, it should hit just below the wristbone on a dress sleeve. On a coat it should be just above the first thumb joint.

Defending co-champion Sheboygan North has been tabbed as the team to beat in the Fox Valley Conference football race this season, a poll of sportswriters in conference cities indicates.

The Golden Raiders of North shared the league crown with Appleton High School in 1963 as both finished with 6-1 records. Writers of five of the six newspapers gave North the nod as a first place finisher and the sixth voted them for a second-place spot.

First Place Note
Oshkosh, runnerup last season with a 5-1-1 mark was picked to finish second. The Indians received one vote for first place, three for second and two for third.

The defending co-champion Terrors of Appleton High were ranked third. AHS received two votes for second place and four for third.

Green Bay East and Sheboygan South were picked to finish fourth and fifth, respectively and following were Green Bay West, sixth; Manitowoc, seventh; Fond du Lac, eighth and Green Bay, Southwest, a new member in the conference this fall, ninth.

Nine Schools
The addition of Southwest puts nine schools in the conference and most teams will get right into league play without the benefit of a tune-up in non-conference action.

Three games are on tap Friday night and one will be played Saturday afternoon.

In Friday night openers, it will be Appleton at West, North at Fond du Lac and East at Oshkosh. On Saturday, Southwest will play at Sheboygan South.

Manitowoc draws the bye the first weekend, but the Shipbuilders will be busy as they meet Two Rivers of the Mid-Eastern Conference in a non-league encounter at Manitowoc Saturday afternoon.

Here is a rundown on the teams:
North: Head Coach Ron Nieman has 10 lettermen including an all-veteran backfield which is expected to make the Sheboygan club another top threat for conference honors.

Heading the returnees are a pair of all-conference picks, Rick Reiss, end and defensive halfback and Glen Siegl, halfback. Other lettermen include John Gerend, slot back; Mike Garton, end; Ken Leys, center; Bob McComis, tackle; Dennis Ruppel, quarterback; Ken Sagal, halfback; Bill St. Pierre, halfback and Scott Sellinger, tackle.

Some of the top new prospects include Joel Grollimus and Tim Ebenreiter, guards; Lynn Nickerson, quarterback; Tom Seif.

Braves Hope To Finish in First Division

Pick Cloninger To Start Against Mets Tonight

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves headed for New York City today to see if they could turn the Mets into stepping stones to the first division. The Braves will meet the Mets again Thursday afternoon before returning to County Stadium for a home stand against first division competition. Milwaukee has cemented, at least for the time, its hold on sixth place. The Braves are 13 games off the pace, hold a full-game lead over the seventh-place Los Angeles Dodgers, and are only a half-game behind the fifth-place Pittsburgh Pirates. Milwaukee was idle Tuesday.

The Braves have 24 games remaining in the season. Fifteen of them are scheduled for County Stadium and six of the remaining starts are with the Pirates. Milwaukee leads Pittsburgh eight to four in the season series.

Eyes 20 Wins

Manager Bobby Bragan will start the Mets' series with his best, sending Tony Cloninger to the mound in search of his 16th victory. Cloninger, who has 12 defeats, still is hoping for enough starts to reach the 20 victory total.

Cloninger will be opposed by Galen Cisco, 5 and 15.

Despite the Braves' inconsistency in the standings, they are the only team with three players among the National League batting leaders.

Cincinnati's Joey Jay, a former Braves, said, "It's the toughest lineup in the league to tangle with for nine innings."

Holding places among the league's top hitters are Rico Carty, Hank Aaron and Joe Torre. Carty has a .328 average. Aaron is hitting .325 and Torre is third at .316.

Aaron has been on the bench because of a sprained ankle suffered last Friday, but may be able to make pinch-batting appearances against the Mets.

Backing up the top three are Lee Maye, who has been belting the ball in all directions, and Denis Menke, who has had six hits, including a pair of homers, in 13 trips since breaking out of a slump.

Offsetting the hitting is the pitching. Milwaukee hurlers have a combined earned run average of 4.21 and have given up 142 home runs.

The Oakland Raiders were looking forward today to an all-out assault on the American Football League's Western Division throne after making two big scores in the circuit's final pre-season scramble for talent.

The Raiders, by acquiring both Billy Cannon, former Heisman Trophy winner, and pass-catching star Bill Miller Tuesday, appear to have made the biggest gain in the wheeling and dealing that accompanied 11th-hour roster revisions in the American and National pro leagues.

With season openers only a few days away, AFL clubs trimmed their squads to the legal limit of 34 and NFL teams to 40 via waiver and trade routes.

Oakland figured in two of the more prominent transactions, obtaining Cannon from Houston in exchange for three players and luring Miller from Buffalo for a future draft choice.

Slowed by injuries Cannon, the AFL's first superstar and leading ground-gainer in 1961, has been slowed by injuries the past two seasons. If healthy, he could team with Oakland's Clem Daniels, last year's rushing leader, to give the Raiders the most potent 1-2 punch in the league.

Appleton QB Club Meeting Set Sept. 15

The Appleton Quarterback Club will open its 1964 season Tuesday, Sept. 15. The meeting in the Edison School will start at 7:30 p.m.

Scheduled to be shown are films of this Friday night's Appleton High School football opener against Green Bay West.

As a bonus, movies of last year's Chicago Bear - New York Giant championship game will be shown. Parents and friends of AHS students are being invited to the meeting.

The club officers for 1964 are Paul Tepper, president; Paul Eviszior, vice president; Gene Sage, secretary; and Walter Trimrud, treasurer.

ca, working under a second three-year, $100,000 contract, had apparently fallen out with Sammy Baugh, the Oilers' new coach. But Baugh said two fines levied against Cannon this fall for breaking training rules had nothing to do with the trade.

Houston General Manager Carroll Martin said, "We're having our troubles with the line and that's what we were trying to do with this trade—get help up front."

Second-Year Pro
Veteran guard Sonny Bishop was the key man in the three-for-one swap. "I hated to see Sonny go," Oakland coach Al Davis said, "but he was the man they wanted."

Bob Jackson, a 6-foot-2, 240-pound full back, and flanker Dobie Craig completed the deal.

MADISON (AP) — Minor injuries and illness have sidelined a half dozen Badgers as Coach Milt Bruhn continues two-a-day drills for his Wisconsin football team.

Part of Tuesday's preparations included the weighing and measuring of all the Badgers. Guard Bob Monk—who married a Rose Bowl princess during the summer — is the heaviest man in camp, hitting 255 pounds.

The longest of the lot is 6-foot-5½ tackle Al Piraino and the little people are quarterback Jim Henning and halfback Dave Neubauer at 170 pounds.

The latest casualty was end Ralph Farmer who pulled out of Tuesday's practice with a knee injury.

Working on the sidelines were tackle Mike Sonnenbert, who has a chest injury, fullback Dick Maslowe, nursing a shoulder problem and tackle Nate Jenkins, hobbled by a sore knee. Guard Bob Freimuth is recovering from a virus.

End Hank Cuccia went to the infirmary for more x-rays after an old ankle injury began to act up.

Yanks Win, Climb Within 1 Game of First-Place Orioles

Dodgers Beat Phils, 3-2, on Doubles by Gilliam, Roseboro

BY MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American League pennant contenders have gone through four fifths, but each day makes it more difficult for one of them to break out the champagne.

With less than one-fifth of the season remaining, Baltimore leads the see-saw battle, but Chicago is only one-half game behind and New York is just one game back. Only six percentage points separate the Orioles from the Yankees.

The race became the tightest it's been since Aug. 5 when the Yankees edged Minnesota 2-1 Tuesday night.

Only 18 days ago, even many of the most astute baseball observers were counting out the Yankees. They were in third place then, too, but they were 5½ games from the top.

Since that time, they have won 12, the last five in a row, and lost just four. In the same period, the Orioles won eight of 17 while the White Sox were 9-10.

2 Extra Games

The Yankees now have two more games remaining than the Orioles — 25 to 23 — and are even in losses. In other words, if the Yankees win their two extra games, they would have the same record as Baltimore.

The White Sox, on the other hand, have 20 games left and have lost two more games than the other contenders, putting them at a statistical disadvantage.

None of the teams plays each other the rest of the season. That is, unless they meet in a playoff.

The Yankees nosed out Minnesota on Elston Howard's run-scoring single in the seventh inning. Roger Maris started the rally with a double and eventually reached third on a sacrifice bunt by Joe Pepitone. Howard brought him home with a single to center field.

Maris also figured in the Yankees' first-inning run. He singled Tony Kubek to third from where he scored on Mickey Mantle's sacrifice fly. The Twins tied it in their half of the first on singles by Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles and a pair of force plays.

Packers, Bears Post Identical Records in Exhibition Season

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Packers lost Saturday night that's ancient history today, but the memory lingers on.

And said memory may serve as a little extra shot in the arm for the Packers when they go forth to meet the world champion Bears in City Stadium Sunday.

This is the league opener, in case you just came from the old country, and it is significant for a number of reasons among them:

First, it will be the Bears' first appearance in defense of their world championship and second, it will be the Packers' first appearance as a non-champion since before they clinched their Western division title in 1960.

The Packers took to the practice field Tuesday with a little bit of protection from a enemy Dietzen, 192.

Little 9 Football Campaign Will Begin Friday; Close Race Forecast

Table with 10 columns: Team, W, L, T, Final, Conference, Standings. Rows for Denmark, Omro, Hilbert, Winneconne, and Freedom.

Denmark, the perennial powerhouse of the Little Nine Football Conference, and co-defending champion Omro may find the route to the league throne room a little rougher when the 1964 season opens Friday afternoon.

Coach Jerry Leitman, in his fifth year at Denmark, has held or shared, the conference crown thrice in the last four years. Omro Coach Ed Goss and his 1963 title-sharing Foxes must replace three top backfield men in Bob Meronk, Glenn Tews and Ron Bieber. The Omro triumvirate rambled for 2,001 yards in '63 and accounted for 22 touchdowns.

Denmark has six returning lettermen in uniform, and Omro counts nine. Coach Doug Davidson's Wrightstown unit numbers 15 monogram winners, the most in the conference. Winneconne and new Coach Glenn Sapienza have 12 letterwinners. Freedom and Reedsville number 10 veterans while Hortonville has nine.

Has 8 Veterans

Hilbert and Coach John Stock can count on eight veterans. Shiocton will suit up 11 lettermen.

In a poll of coaches, Freedom was rated the title favorite, with Winneconne and Denmark picked right behind. Freedom invades Winneconne for the opening-day feature game.

A breakdown of prospects follows:

DENMARK—Leitman's lone returnee in the offensive backfield is halfback Bob Kozlovsky. Jim Schief, a letterman end, has been shifted to quarterback. Tackle veterans are Dick Kempfert and Al Johnson. Ron Brezinski handles the hunking duties and Al Rasmussen returns for defensive end duties.

OMRO—Among the veterans here are Don Lee and Dan Baurichter, guards, Dave Tritt fullback, Ron Borchardt, tackle; Bob Wipf, guard, Joe Bonnett, defensive back, Bob Wink, center; Scott Miller, quarterback and Larry Edmister, end.

The top prospects include Russ Rilling, junior halfback, Jeff Williams and Carrol Merry, backs and linemen Terry Nachtrab, Ron Sperling, Mike Johnson, Jerry Sipple, Dick Snyder, Dave Kallas, Mike Patri and Mike Engstrom.

HILBERT — The returning "H" winners are guards Al Kessler and Warren Krug, end Andy Schaeffer, tackle Don Federwitz, fullback Lyle Roehrig, halfback Gary Schmitz, quarterback Bob Preuss.

Stock numbers linemen Dave Mueller, Lee Ott, Ron Schabach, Jerry Wollersheim and Dennis Halbach among his top prospects. Backs, who may prove worthy of starting berths, are Ken Harder and Jerry Pasetwald.

Steelers' Ed Brown Isn't Shedding Tears Over Trade

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Steeler fans still are upset about the Buddy Dial trade, but quarterback Ed Brown, who threw passes to the place receiver, isn't shedding any tears.

"Everything was on Dial last year," said Brown who is beginning his 11th National Football League season. "I think we'll be better off."

The off-season trade, which caused a gnashing of teeth among Steeler rooters and raised eyebrows of many fans, sent Dial to the Dallas Cowboys for the draft rights to Scott Appleton, the All-America tackle from Texas.

Appleton signed with Houston of the American Football League.

Balanced Attack

"I actually think we'll have a more balanced passing attack than last year," Brown said. "I think (Gary) Ballman is just as good (as Dial), maybe better. Ballman is faster than Dial."

The reference to speed was in answer to how the trade would affect the Steelers' long passing game. Dial is especially adept at catching "bombs."

Brown also thinks Paul Martha is coming along. Martha, the former Pitt star who was the Steelers' first draft choice, is being counted on heavily as a pass catcher.

championship trophies for all five second round titlists as well as first round champion Cecil.

Hurls 1-Hitter

Sunday's games were featured by a 1-hitter by Howie Vanden Elsen of Navarino. Vanden Elsen fanned eight batters and gave up a single to Bill Decker leading off in the first inning. Jim DeWaal was the losing hurler for Seymour.

Lyle Gehm hurled a 2-hitter for Landstad in the win over Freedom. Glen Schroeder doubled and Jim Brockman singled for the only Freedom safeties. Gehm helped his own cause with three for five including a triple. Brockman was the losing hurler.

Kay Plamann slammed two homers for Nichols and Don Kroll had one in the romp over Hofa Park. Plamann had four hits in six trips. Joe Buss was the winning hurler.

Don Krull slammed a homer and drove in a total of six runs as Bonduel downed Garson.

Attorneys Rate Sale Of Yankees to CBS As 'Calculated Risk'

BOSTON (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick has been advised by his attorneys that baseball would be taking a "calculated risk" of a possible antitrust suit if the American League club owners formally approve the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The league club owners, with their representatives, met with President Joe Cronin and a battery of lawyers today to vote on the sale of 80 per cent of the Yankees to CBS for $11,200,000 last month.

The vote of eight of the 10 owners is needed for approval. Frick, from his home in Scarsdale, N.Y., declined to comment on the report given exclusively to the Associated Press.

According to the informant, attorneys Paul Porter of the commissioner's office and Lou Carroll of the National League advised Frick that "there was inherent danger" in welcoming a public service such as CBS into the inner confines of baseball.

"There could be a danger of antitrust suits," Frick was advised. "We think there is a calculated risk."

At the time of the sale, last Aug. 14 a storm of criticism, both from people in government as well as in baseball, developed over the entry of the television and radio networks into big league ownership. Congressmen promised they would press for a closer scrutiny into baseball's exemption from antitrust laws.

ert, fullback and Larry Hackbarth and Bob Fieck, ends.

Oshkosh: A total of 12 lettermen return to Coach Harold Schumert of the Indians and, as was the case last year, Oshkosh will have one of the heaviest teams in the conference.

Two of the top running threats are expected to be Roger Lienhard, 215-pound fullback and Ray Lux, 210-pound halfback.

Starters back from the 1963 team which had a 6-1-1 record overall and 5-1-1 in the conference include quarterback Wayne Louts and tackle Pat Schrage. Schumert has indicated that his main concern is the general lack of speed on the squad.

Appleton: Six lettermen return for Coach Ade Dillon, now starting his 22nd year as Terror mentor.

Dillon faces a rebuilding project as 26 lettermen were lost via graduation. Lettermen back include Dick Boldt, guard; Pat Gendron, halfback; Mark Tepner, halfback; Jeff Sage, guard; Gary McIntyre, end and Terry Soley, quarterback.

Green Bay East: Al Mancheski has 13 lettermen and East could be considered a darkhorse in the race for conference honors.

The backfield includes a pair of letter winners at quarterback, Larry Ebert and Randy Ribicki. Halfbacks returning are Dick Lancelle and Bob Duca while Wayne Dietrie returns as fullback. Other lettermen include Oat Harrington and Larry Miller, ends, Ron Gierczak and Larry Renard, tackles; Dennis Johnson, Joe Taylor and Tom Lambert, guards and Paul Boehm, center.

Harrington led the conference with 25 pass receptions last season and is expected to give the Red Devils a strong passing attack again this season.

South: Coach Fritz Goettel will be in his first year as head mentor at Sheboygan South. Goettel served as an assistant for 13 seasons.

improving on the 4-3 record in the conference last season.

Letter winners back include Dennis Kaborod, tackle; Gene Gasper, tackle; Bill Gilmore, halfback; Tom Bainatis, end; Bill Simenz, tackle; Tony Gonzales, halfback; Mark Meiners, center; Tom Jesinski, guard; Bill Bensman, quarterback; Dick VanderVaart, halfback; Mark Pfister, halfback; Tom Siefert, halfback; Mike Kaker, tackle and Dan Madison, halfback.

Green Bay West: Quarterback is again listed by Coach John Biolo as his major problem on a team that is built around eight lettermen.

The Wildcats, who finished fourth in the conference on defense in 1963, are expected to be tough again. Lettermen back include Dick Woosencraft, end; John Baumgart, tackle; Bill Bennis, guard; Bob Joslin, center; Rick Hempel, quarterback and running backs Dave Greenwood, Al Long and Ken Smith. The West jayvees had a 7-0 record last season and Biolo is hoping some additional help will come from underclassmen to give the varsity more depth.

Manitowoc: The Shipbuilders have 11 lettermen back from last year's team which was 3-4 in the conference and 4-4 overall.

Injuries in practice sessions have taken a heavy toll as starting quarterback Dick Orth and starting halfback Jack Haag have been on the sidelines much of the time.

Other lettermen in addition to Orth and Haag are Dave Loritz and Mike Pekarske, halfbacks; Dave Williams and Pete Hoffmann, ends; Dennis Kueter, Paul Stephani and Duane Holschbach, tackles; Tom Girardi, guard, and Mike Pike, center.

Fond du Lac: Jim Johnson, who was an assistant coach last season, has taken over the reins at Fond du Lac. He had 11 lettermen returning but one will be out for the season with a leg fracture.

Tom Oldfield, junior end, will sit out the campaign with the leg injury. Two other monogram winners, John Barbeau, 215-pound guard and Pat Krumel, 205-pound fullback along with Dave Demboski, slated for the starting center spot, have decided to drop the sport.

Lettermen back include Vic Ringhand, guard; Dan Christus, tackle; Doug Roughen, end; Greg Nelson, tackle; Steve Cochran, guard; Rob Stoebauer, guard; Roger Yust, halfback; Bob Diener, quarterback; Gary Bergstrom, halfback and Leo Goldapske, halfback.

Green Bay Southwest: Jim Reinke, a former assistant at Green Bay West will be handling the coaching duties at the newest school in the conference encounter much difficulty as both the men's and women's divisions reached the fourth round, with 16 players left in each.

Southwest, which will have an enrollment of only 400 students. These include Larry Mann, halfback; Paul Debban, guard and Jeff Havill, guard. About 35 candidates are out for the team.

Reinke will be working with the Trojans with an eye on the future.

In featured matches today Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., seeded No. 2 played his Davis Cup captain, 41-year-old Vic Seixas, and Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., No. 4, faced a formidable rival in Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y.

Ralston still didn't look up to standard in his 8-6, 6-3, 6-2 triumph over Crawford Henry of Atlanta. On the other hand, Seixas bounced around like a teen-ager and showed the class that won him the U.S. and Wimbledon crowns in beating Shiv Misra of India 7-5, 6-2, 6-4.

Stolle played one of the secondary members of the Australian delegation, Bill Bowrey. Emerson opposed Torben Ulrich, the bearded Dane.

Rafael Osuna the nimble-footed Mexican who surprised everybody by winning the title last year, bounced back into the title picture by crushing Owen Davidson of Australia 6-2, 6-1, 6-2. He meets Cliff Richey of Dallas.

Maria Bueno of Brazil and Margaret Smith of Australia, the Nos. 1 and 2 seeds in the women's division, had dangerous fourth round opponents.

Miss Bueno faced Judy Tegart of Australia and Miss Smith played Karen Hantze Susman, winner at Wimbledon two years ago.

No Serious Injuries

The best thing that could be said about the 20-17 loss in Cleveland was that the team came out of action with no serious hurts. The Packers thus will go into their crucial opener at top condition.

exhibition season, each winning three and losing two. One of the Bears' wins was over the College All-Stars. They also beat the Redskins and Cowboys. The Bears beat the Cowboys, Bears and Giants.

The Packers finished with the best defense against points, allowing 60 in five games, an average of 12 per. The Bears permitted 64, which is, mighty close.

The big difference is in points scored. Green Bay counted 114, the Bears 62 but they'll both be starting from scratch Sunday.

Tom Miller, Packers publicity director, said this morning that no announcement on the team's final cut would be made today. The deadline for getting down to the NFL player limit of 40 was midnight Tuesday, but a club is not required to publicize its cuts until the expiration of the 48-hour waiver period.

like looking for someone who doesn't read newspapers

Very hard to find. 99 million people in almost 9 out of every 10 homes read newspapers. It's the most sought after, often bought, eagerly consumed, intensely depended upon product in the world. The reason is obvious. We can't do without it. The need to know about the news and events that touch and shape our lives is deep, intense, unending. And the need to know is now. Today. So it's not very hard to figure out why more advertising dollars are spent in daily newspapers than in TV, magazines, radio, and outdoor combined.

Unrest in the Parties

The primary election is a measure of the partisan preference of the state electorate. The mechanism requires voters to choose one ballot. Thus even the proudly independent voter who eschews partisan identification is obliged to show a preference, unlike the November general election when the voters are entitled to pick and choose from both ballot offerings and thousands typically do so.

The Tuesday primary election vote pattern was probably a more reliable guide to the partisan leanings of those who took part than others recently held, because for the first time in a decade and a half there were significant nomination contests in both parties.

We can accordingly speculate reasonably that there was comparatively little "cross-over" to blur the meaning of the decisions.

The general meaning, we would conclude on the basis of the admittedly small share of the electorate recorded, is that there is resistance among rank and file sympathizers of both parties against the ticket leaders of both.

As he feared, Gov. Reynolds found a suggestively strong vote for his little known opponent Frinzi.

But Republicans who were prepared to chortle about that expected result have abruptly discovered something to worry about in the attitude of their own voters. The unexpectedly strong backing for the hitherto obscure mayor of La Crosse against the seasoned campaigner Warren Knowles, the Republican nominee, may well be more meaningful than the anti-Reynolds vote. For the governor has been on the firing line, making tough decisions offensive to many constituents during a difficult first term.

Two National Defense Issues Posed

Two issues involving national defense policy were rather clearly delineated by Messrs. Johnson and Goldwater in the first week of official campaigning.

In his opening address Senator Goldwater stated that the Selective Service draft should be abolished. President Johnson replied that such a move should not be done precipitously and that while this might be desirable eventually it could cost billions of dollars in providing monetary incentives to secure the necessary volume of voluntary enlistments.

Senator Goldwater also said that "a way must be developed to provide NATO with its own stock of small, tactical nuclear battlefield weapons—what may be truly called conventional weapons." President Johnson took strong issue with this advice. He declared that "no President of the United States can give up responsibility for deciding when or where to use nuclear weapons." He stated flatly, "make no mistake—there is no such thing as a conventional nuclear weapon."

We were rather surprised that Senator Goldwater chose the matter of ending the draft as one of the main points of his official opening campaign address. There are certainly a host of other national issues of more immediate concern. We also felt he did a rather poor job of detailing his reasons for such a proposal. His main concern was that in his opinion President Johnson and the Democratic Administration was using Selective Service for ulterior political motives.

We suspect that Senator Goldwater's motive in making this a campaign issue was also basically political. Lacking documentation of his case, it appeared mainly to be an appeal for the support of American motherhood. But in this connection Senator Goldwater may find that the political appeal of a campaign to "keep my boy out of the Army" is not as great today as it may have been a number of years ago. The obligation for all American young men to put in a certain amount of time in the service of their country's armed forces is fairly generally accepted today. It may well be that there is a certain amount of unfairness inherent in Selective Service. But if we are to change our philosophy and say that young men no longer have this obligation, then we will be faced as President Johnson pointed out with the necessity of making service in the armed forces financially attractive enough to be competitive with other good-paying careers.

The question of giving NATO control over certain nuclear weapons is one which has been troubling American and Allied military men for years. Certainly giving NATO that control would be a favorable factor in trying to rejuvenate NATO enthusiasm and strength. But what about our country's obligation in the matter?

There is basic disagreement here between President Johnson and Senator Goldwater. The President takes the position which all former presidents have enunciated up to now, that he alone shall have the final voice in firing a nuclear blow, of whatever magnitude. This is obviously based on the thinking that our firing of even a small nuclear weapon could lead to immediate retaliation by the Russians, and astronomical escalation into nuclear holocaust.

Mr. Goldwater would entrust military commanders of other countries as well as our own with this decision, providing the weapon was small enough.

The issue here may well be even deeper and of more significance. We have been gaining the feeling that in matters military Senator Goldwater speaks from the point of view of the professional military man who generally objects to tight civilian control of the military establishment. President Johnson in the position he has taken on this matter upholds the American tradition that civilians will always have the final authority.

The campaign hopefully will define this difference in philosophy more clearly.

The Case of the Disappearing Dime

When the man tied his tie and put on his coat, he also took the dime from his dresser. On his way to work, he used the dime to buy a paper. The newsboy spent the dime for a cup of coffee at a shop where the proprietor gave the dime in change to a man who bought a pack of cigarettes. This man left the dime as a tip when he bought his lunch and the waitress spent it for bobby pins that afternoon at the dime store. The dime store gave it in change to a woman who bought a pair of sunglasses and she spent it for a roll of mints at the candy shop. The man in the candy shop gave the dime in change to a man who bought his wife a box of chocolates.

In a single day, this one dime served as a medium of exchange in eight transactions. But there it stopped. For the man who bought the chocolates is not only a thoughtful husband, he is also a dime-saver. When he got home, he dropped the dime into a cigar box in his dresser drawer where it will remain—along with 157 earlier dimes—and more to come.

Is the dime-saver doing wrong? Not in the usual sense. In fact, he is practicing thrift through saving, a generally accepted virtue. But today our country is in the throes of a coin shortage. Nobody claims this shortage is being caused by dime-savers, but the dresser drawer deposit, the piggy bank balance and the sugar bowl supply are ancient and widespread customs and account for literally billions of coins now desperately needed to ease the needs of retail trade.

Both U. S. mints are now working overtime to increase coin production, and another mint is to be constructed. In the meantime, coins already minted must be kept in circulation if both retailer and consumer are not to share in a frustrating impasse at the cash register.

Do your share. Take your coins to the bank and turn them in for paper money. Or better yet, put them in a savings account where they'll multiply through the magic of interest. That's an added benefit you'll never get from your dresser drawer.

Inside Washington

'Declining U. S. Prestige' Abroad Again Becomes Political Issue

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The declining prestige of the U.S. overseas could become as explosive an issue in the presidential campaign as in 1960—if not more so.

GOP challenger Barry Goldwater plans to ignite this debate by charging in a major speech that the government's own intelligence surveys clearly show that this country's influence abroad has steadily declined during the Johnson and Kennedy administrations.

Lifting a page from the successful campaign book of the late President Kennedy, Goldwater will highlight this issue by urging the White House to make public these disturbing "world trends" estimates now being circulated inside the administration by the Central Intelligence Agency.

CIA Estimates
Regardless of what President Johnson does, Sen. Goldwater's aides believe their candidate can't lose. If the President refuses to release the confidential surveys, Goldwater has an issue. If the surveys are published, their content will support Goldwater's charges.

For example, one of the most recent of these CIA estimates not only reveals the declining U.S. prestige but fully supports Goldwater's claim of growing disunity in NATO.

Entitled "Trends in the World Situation," the 47-page secret document flatly states: "The disunity, indiscipline, and decline in ideology which have developed within the Communist world have been matched by a similar development in the West."

"The Atlantic Alliance has suffered a further lessening in its unity of purpose, the United Kingdom has been rather rudely disinclined to participate in the Europe Economic Community and U.S. influence in Europe has been reduced."

Differences Widen
Another section (No. 31) of the same CIA survey stresses that "the differences between the U.S. view of the world situation and that of the Europeans have become even more striking than in the past."

It bluntly points out that most European leaders believe (as does Goldwater) that "the principal problem of the Alliance is to strengthen its deterrent effect by providing a greater measure of European control over its military forces and particularly even its nuclear strategic arm."

"In most recent years, as the U.S. has become increasingly engaged in disputes and undertakings all over the world, they have felt that the deterrent effect of the alliance has been somewhat dissipated."

Growing Disorder
Significantly, the CIA estimate also backs up Goldwater's charge that revolution and disorder has steadily increased in many areas of the world during the Johnson and Kennedy administrations, stating:

"While the powerful and developed nations of the northern third of the world have been coping with the problems of military power and moving with greater prudence and flexibility toward political and economic change, revolution and disorder in the southern two-thirds of the world have been intensifying."

"In four major areas, Latin America, Africa, the Near East, and Southeast Asia, indigenous political forces—in some cases with the assistance and encouragement of other powers—were overthrowing governments, forming political alignments, and impinging to a degree hitherto unknown upon the concerns and even vital interests of their more powerful northern neighbors."

Turmoil To Continue

"On the whole, we believe that the Latin American scene for many years to come will continue to be one of turmoil with much civil disturbance, plotting and counterplotting, political warfare, and terrorism. Some of the leftist-nationalist forces will probably succeed in acquiring power. These revolutionaries who take Castro as their model, inspiration, or guide will exploit whatever opportunities are open to them."

The Cuban Threat

Although it is the policy of President Johnson and his top aides to play down the threat of the Russian foothold in Cuba, the CIA estimate warns of its potential danger, stating:

"The presence in the Western Hemisphere of a Communist state backed by the U.S.S.R. will continue greatly to jeopardize U.S. interests throughout the continent and to complicate the problems of U.S. diplomacy."

In its review of Africa, the CIA survey is just as bleak. It reports, "The situation in Africa is at least as unstable as that in Latin America."

"Plotting and violence occur, but they are not usually directed against the existing social and political systems," it says. "Their aim is usually simply to replace those enjoying the privileges of office by others who would like these privileges themselves."

Warning that "the drift seems to be toward political and social chaos," the CIA survey concludes, "The area is becoming increasingly vulnerable to meddling from the outside."

The Coming Crisis

As the new "widen-the-war or pull-out" crisis grows in South Viet Nam, the Goldwater advisers predict that this issue of U.S. prestige will mount proportionately in the campaign.

By "limiting" the U.S. military response in the Gulf of Tonkin, they argue, President Johnson narrowed his options—none of which are designed to increase his prestige—by identifying the North Vietnamese and not the Chinese Communists as the enemy.

If he now follows the "hard line" and extends the war to North Viet Nam he could involve the U.S. in a Korean-type conflict against a Communist puppet government, which is not our major enemy in the Far East.

If the "soft line" is followed by the President, they stress, the President must withdraw U.S. military advisers and leave South Viet Nam to fall to the Communists.

His other option—a "political settlement" with the Communists—would now require the U.S. to make compromises for a face-saving formula that would undercut U.S. prestige throughout all of Southeast Asia.

That is the trap that Peking laid for the U.S. at Tonkin Gulf.

Family Council Law Has Won Acclaim From Many Sources

BY JERRIS LEONARD

MADISON—One of the least publicized stories that has emerged from the 1963-1964 session of the Legislature is the successful fight waged by the majority party to establish in state government an advisory council for home and family.

Leonard

Historically the home has always been recognized as the bulwark of society. But in this 20th Century the foundation of the American home is being slowly eroded by a startling increase in the three fold evils of marital abandonment, illegitimacy, and divorce. Over the last 50 years, Wisconsin's divorce rate has just about tripled, jumping from 6.41 per acted the Family Code, a revision of our marriage and divorce laws. The drafting of the Code was accomplished under the leadership of Republican legislators. The Code's philosophy is best summed up in its opening provisions which states its intent, "To promote the stability and best interests of marriage and the family."

Not the least important effect of the Code was to turn the spotlight of public opinion on the problem of family disintegration. The verdict of public opinion has been that a great deal more remains to be done in this vital area.

The new council is charged with the study of laws relating to marriage, divorce and child support, and must report every two years. It will also study the causes of family disintegration, investigate the effects of divorce on public welfare costs and programs, and make recommendations to improve marital stability.

Guest Columnist

John Wyngaard, whose Wisconsin Report column normally appears in this space, has arranged for a series of guest columns during his assignment to the Democratic convention and a vacation period following. Guest columns will appear here through Sept. 11.

CHURCH BACKING

In addition, the family council bill received strong support from other interested persons, church, and fraternal groups. A number of rank and file Democrat legislators voted for the bill and against any weakening amendments, in spite of the foot-dragging of their leadership. Tremendous support came from the Fraternal Order of Eagles which adopted resolutions praising the bill.

Although the new law has been in existence for only a few months, it has already received much acclaim. The National Catholic Family Life Convention in Washington, D. C., in June praised it as a "remarkable new approach to social problems." The convention sent a message to Wisconsin commending the Legislature for enacting the law.

In Wisconsin's splendid tradition beginning in 1908 when it was the first state to enact a workman's compensation law, once again our State Legislature has blazed the trail as the pioneer in effective social legislation.

Jerris Leonard of Bay-side, a lawyer and a member of the Wisconsin State Senate, is chairman of the Republican policy committee of the upper house of the Wisconsin Legislature.

Some of Our Proverbs Really Silly Sayings

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

At dinner the other evening, we were talking about proverbs, and one of the guests mentioned having read a statement by the American Kennel Club, insisting that you can teach an old dog new tricks—if the dog is well trained and bright enough.

Harris

Then, another guest proposed that we make up a list of the 10 silliest maxims, to see how much common agreement there was. Surprisingly enough, we all agreed on eight of them, and I thought you might like to know what they are:

"A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush"—this counsel of prudence is true less than half the time, since most progress consists in deferring present advantage for future profit.

"Necessity is the mother of invention"—most great and fundamental inventions have been thought up long before there was any real need for them; and it is only when men are not under the whip of necessity, and have the leisure for intellectual speculation, that profound inventions are created.

"You can't change human nature"—you can change it downward almost to the apes, upward almost to the angels.

"Experience is the best teacher"—but most people keep repeating the same mistakes over and over again; as Aldous Huxley once said, "Experience is not what happens to us, but what we do with what happens to us."

"You can't tell a book by its cover"—these days you can generally tell a book not merely by its cover, but by its dust-jacket; anyone who knows books, like anyone who knows people, can tell a great deal about them before going through the contents.

"You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear"—why not, if you can make one out of a worm's intestines? Too many of the world's silk purses men and women have come from sow's ear families to sustain this superficial snobbery.

Potomac Fever— by Jack Wilson

The President gave Humphrey some good tips on campaign strategy. Quote: "Now, Hubert, when somebody brings a beagle up to you, just pat it..."

Sen. Goldwater ripped into the Democrats in a statement sent from his yacht in the Pacific. And you thought politics stopped at the water's edge!

August frosts set weather bureau records and worry the Democrats. They've been saying it'll be a pretty cold day when Goldwater can beat Johnson—and they don't like the forecasts.

Looking Backward

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Monitor for Sept. 8, 1864.

It is said that 35,000 Union prisoners are penned up at Andersonville, Ga.

Their situation is described thus: In an enclosed field of 30 acres of ground, exposed to the heat of an all but tropical sun, fed upon a daily ration for each man of three-quarters of a pound of dirty corn bread and two ounces of rancid swine flesh, and supplied with water from a stagnant ditch, which forms a receptacle of the excrement of the camp, are 35,000 of our bravest soldiers—the men who were foremost in the hard-fought field and the most daring in the final grapple and crisis of battle.

There they swelter and rot, or go raving mad, or find an end to it by crossing the "dead line" where the friendly rifle of the sentinel brings them final release without the aid of cartel or commissioner. It is a seething, reeking pen, surcharged with horrors unimaginable. Pestilence in every form of deadly fever, scurvy and nameless disease raging with undisputed sway; and death making its daily harvest of half a hundred.

This diabolical treatment is prompted by two motives; 1st, to compel us to exchange the 50,000 stout, well-fed rebels we now hold for these 35,000; 2d, to render the Union prisoners unfit for service when they are exchanged.

The rebels have allowed four of these prisoners to come North to present the condition of their associates to the President.

25 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, Sept. 8, 1939.

Henry Weeks, Jr., Evergreen Valley, was declared the winner of the horse and buggy race at the Calumet County Fair. Spot Ziegelbauer, Chilton, finished second. A floral horseshoe was presented to Len Eckes, 11-year-old rider of the winning saddle horse in the second race.

Four members of Deborah Rebekah Lodge, Appleton, who reported on the district meeting at Sturgeon Bay were Mrs. Orville Peerine, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. George Jackson and Mrs. George Rigley.

Members of the Appleton Y.M.C.A. fraternal softball team were Orville Wonser, Jerry Captain, Ray Risch, manager, Ed Krause, Cecil Furringer, Carleton Fuerst, Jerry Risch, Homer Gebhardt, Howard Branchford, Louis Grishaber, Heinie Rammer, Milton Schwandt, Norman Lamarr, George Griesch, Hack Wilson and William Gallaher. Charles Captain was bat boy.

10 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, Sept. 8, 1954.

Allan Schampers gave a demonstration on the proper way to make a rope halter at a meeting of the Nitingale 4-H Club.

Robert Wittmann, route 4, Appleton, entered a giant tobacco plant in the Calumet County Fair exhibits. He was a member of the Darboy Ever Alert Club.

Edwin N. Massonette, Appleton, retired that day after 38 years with the Western Union as a telegrapher.

Miss Beverly Ann Steffen, Appleton's 1952 Alice in Dairyland, was to travel to Yale and Stanford Universities, Los Angeles, New York City, Buffalo and Washington in connection with her home service work with National Corporation.

Reynolds, Knowles to be Governorship Race Rivals

BY DION HENDERSON

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds and long-time Republican wheelhorse Warren P. Knowles won the major party nominations for governor in Tuesday's primary, but for each there was a jolt in victory.

Dominic Frinzi, Milwaukee attorney who won nearly 30 per cent of the Democratic vote with a campaign assailing Reynolds, state party chairman Louis Hanson and former chairman Patrick J. Lucey for what he termed "bossism," said early today he hadn't decided whether to run as an independent Nov. 3.

"The triumvirate can make the next move, it's up to them," said Frinzi, who chewed heavily into Reynolds' industrial strongholds in southeastern Wisconsin.

And Knowles lost seven counties to Milo G. Knutson, outspoken conservative mayor of La Crosse whose part-time campaign was based largely on television appearances. Knutson, 43-year-old foe of state spending and an early advocate of GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, congratulated Knowles but warned the three-time lieutenant governor on to a "more aggressive campaign" against state spending.

Reynolds, who held the state's convention delegates for President Lyndon B. Johnson against Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace last April, said he was "very gratified" at the results.

All counties for Reynolds. He carried every county, but held somewhat less of his party's vote than did Knowles, who took nearly 72 per cent of the Republican total. Knowles, veteran of 20 years in state service.

Accord Averts Strike Threat At Chrysler

Reached Less Than Hour Before Deadline Set by Union

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union announced agreement today on a national contract, avoiding the threat of a nationwide strike by some 74,000 workers.

The announcement came less than one hour before the strike deadline.

Walter P. Reuther, union president, termed the historic agreement "the most important agreement in the history of the American labor movement."

Reuther told newsmen the settlement included a pension plan calling for up to $400 a month payment in benefits at the age of 60 years for workers with 30 years service.

3 Year Contract

Reuther said negotiators were still working on language technicalities but that a three-year agreement had been reached on all major issues.

Without a contract, a hitting walkout would have hit Chrysler's 40 plants in 12 states and shut down production just as the new 1965 models have started rolling off the assembly lines.

Reuther said he had notified all local units across the nation of the settlement.

There was still a remote possibility of scattered walkouts on local plant agreements — but more than half of the 106 UAW bargaining units already have reported settlement of their problems.

Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. declined immediate comment on the new three-year pact at Chrysler.

Reuther said the agreement added two new paid holidays for each worker — Good Friday.

Wege Unopposed on Democratic Ticket for 14th Senate District

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Gerald Lorge Tuesday passed the main roadblock on his way to a third full four-year term as state senator from Wisconsin's 14th District.

Lorge, a Bear Creek attorney, easily outpolled his Appleton opponent, George Buckley, also an attorney, by a surprisingly heavy 5,512 votes. Lorge's was 10,601 to Buckley's 5,089.

Richard Wege, a labor union official from Appleton, was uncontested in the Democratic 14th District primary and captured 5,860 votes.

Buckley strategists had said that, in order to win, Buckley had to gain an approximate 2,500 vote majority in Appleton and about 25 per cent of the vote in the rest of the district.

However, Buckley failed to win a single Appleton precinct. Of the 56 Outagamie County precincts, Buckley won only one, the Town of Maple Creek by a 28 to 18 margin.

2-County District

Two counties, Waupaca and Outagamie, make up the 14th Senate District. Lorge defeated Buckley 6,609 to 3,472 in Outagamie County while Wege had 4,990.

In Waupaca County, Lorge had 3,992 votes to 1,617 for his primary opponent and 870 for Wege, the Democrat.

Lorge did not win by a spectacularly wide margin in many precincts, but maintained a solid two to one margin.

Lorge's heaviest victory margins came in the rural Outagamie and Waupaca County precincts. His most one-sided margin was in the Village of Black Creek where he defeated Buckley 101 to 19 and in Bear Creek, his home town, where he won 93 to 16.

Buckley came the closest to Lorge in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Wards in Appleton where he lost by 16, 11 and 13 votes respectively. Buckley lost his home precinct, the 14th Ward, by a substantial margin 250 to 157.

Wege's vote topped the total vote for Lorge and Buckley combined in 11 Outagamie precincts — the towns of Kaukauna, Buchanan and Vandenberg, the villages of Kimberly, Little Chute and Combined Locks; plus all five Kaukauna wards.

Wege's strength in this area wasn't a surprise, however, since the Democratic Party strength in Outagamie County is concentrated in the Fox Villages and their surrounding townships. This is due to a large population of industrial employees.

Lorge was elected to the Senate in 1954 in a special election to fill the unexpired term of Gordon A. Bubolz, who resigned. He was re-elected by margins even more comfortable than Tuesday's in the 1956 and 1960 elections.

In a concession statement Buckley congratulated Lorge and pledged "to work for Lorge's re-election and for the county, congressional and state GOP ticket."

Uruguay Cuts Off Relations With Cubans

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The last Cuban embassy in South America gets closing orders today.

Uruguay's nine-man governing council voted Tuesday night to break relations with Fidel Castro's government in accordance with the resolution of the Organization of American States.

The council's vote was six in favor and three abstentions. Mexico and Canada will be the only countries in the Western Hemisphere maintaining relations with Cuba. Canada is not a member of the OAS.

The Uruguayan announcement said diplomatic relations were ended "as of this date."

It said direct or indirect commercial exchanges also were ended, "with the exception of foodstuffs, medicine and medical equipment which might be sent to Cuba for humanitarian reasons."

Police reinforcements were sent to foreign embassies and key public service areas to prevent damage by demonstrators.

Rain drenched a pro-Cuban demonstration in downtown Montevideo.

St. Augustine Hit Sharply by Hurricane Dora

Telephone Service At Marineland Is Disrupted by Storm

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Dora, thrashing slowly toward the Florida coast, knocked out telephone service at Marineland today with 81-mile gusts and sent gales swirling through the quaint streets of St. Augustine.

Six-foot tides crashed into the beach at Marineland, a tourist spot noted for its collection of living sea creatures, as the giant tropical storm lashed the Atlantic.

This 400-year-old city of 15,000, oldest in the nation, lay in the path of the storm Dora, slowed down to an eight-mile an hour travel, was centered 100 miles east-southeast of the city and moving toward the northwest.

Velocity Drops

Highest winds were estimated to have dropped from 125 to 115 miles an hour.

Hurricane warnings were displayed from Vero Beach, Fla., to Brunswick, Ga., and gale warnings with a hurricane watch were extended northward to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Eastern Air Lines canceled its flight today from Philadelphia to Jacksonville, Daytona Beach and Melbourne, Fla. The flight was terminated at Washington.

Thirty miles north of St. Augustine, the city of Jacksonville faced on what could be the first head-on blow by a hurricane in its history. Highest wind ever recorded in this city of 250,000 was 86 miles an hour in gusts in 1944.

Health Care Vote Seen Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders hope to bring up President Johnson's proposal for Social Security health care for a crucial vote next Wednesday.

The vote would be on whether to instruct House members of a Senate-House conference to back the Senate-passed health care proposal unless the House conferees are so instructed, most members believe the conference would reject the health care plan.

The health care plan — an amendment to a bill raising Social Security benefits — was passed 49 to 44 by the Senate last week. There has never been a test vote on it in the entire House.

Two Men Killed on NFO Picket Line

Demonstrators Run Over by Truck In Front of Bonduel Market Yard

BONDUEL, Wis. (AP) — Two pickets continued to mill around the building.

State patrolmen joined county police in an effort to keep the group under control.

Three ambulances were sent to the scene and Shawano County authorities issued a call for "every available man."

The incident occurred in front of the Equity Livestock Cooperative yards in Bonduel, a northeastern Wisconsin community near Green Bay.

About 250 NFO pickets were at the yards when a truck carrying the name Ivan Miller of Cecil, Wis., arrived with a load of cattle. The driver was armed with a pistol. Police took the weapon after the truck entered the gate of the yards.

The pickets were jammed around the truck.

Police said that before they had a chance to push the demonstrators away from in front of the truck the vehicle moved forward, running over the two men.

Sheriff's officers quickly removed the driver and took him through lines of jeering and screaming pickets to the Equity office.

A reporter at the scene described the pickets as in an "ugly mood."

Still Present

Rain began falling immediately after the driver was taken into the office but most of the

Brynes to Meet Johnson in November Test

John Brynes, veteran Eighth District Republican congressman from Green Bay, will be opposed by Green Bay attorney and businessman Cletus Johnson in the November election.

Celebrating by Johnson, the Democrat, must have been limited, however, because he has been hospitalized in Green Bay's St. Vincent Hospital for the past five days.

Brynes had no opposition in the Republican primary, but Johnson was involved in a three-way race with two mayors — Joseph (Doty) Bayorgeon of Kaukauna and Frank Tachovsky of Sturgeon Bay.

Brynes 35,007 vote total was $410 higher than the 29,597 of his three Democratic foes combined.

Democratic Votes

Johnson had 14,203 votes in the seven Eighth District counties to 3,349 for Bayorgeon and 7,045 for Tachovsky.

Bayorgeon carried his home Outagamie County by a wide margin. Finished second in Brown County and was last in the other five counties. Tachovsky won his home Door County by a safe margin and edged Johnson in Kewaunee County.

However, Johnson won handily in Brower, Manitowish, Marinette and Oconto counties.

Geography Important

Johnson proved geography an important factor in a primary campaign. While his two Democratic opponents were limited by severe pain throughout his body and has been hospitalized since last Friday at St. Vincent Hospital where he is undergoing

Khanh Becomes Defense Minister

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Khanh took on the added title of defense minister today, government sources said.

In a continuing reshuffle of top posts, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh has reportedly been named chairman of the ruling triumvirate on which Khanh and Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem also serve. But Khanh is still considered the most powerful man in the government.

Vote Close for Democrats in 6th District

Race Edges Weber By 734 to Win Nomination

Although he had the scare of his political life, Fond du Lac's conservative Republican congressman, William K. Van Pelt, won his primary election contest Tuesday.

Van Pelt, who has served in Congress since January, 1961, defeated Winnebago County's 32-year-old Dist. Atty Jack Steinhilber in the seven county district by a scant 3,954 votes. Van Pelt's total was 24,549 and Steinhilber's 20,595.

Fond du Lac came out ahead of Oshkosh in the Democratic primary also.

In a race even closer than the Van Pelt-Stenhilber contest, John Race of Fond du Lac defeated Edward Weber of Oshkosh.

Solicitor General of India Found Strangled

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — H. N. Sanyal, solicitor general of India, was strangled in his bed early today by four unidentified men, police reported.

The police blamed burglars but said they did not rule out revenge as a motive. Sanyal, 62, was the government's top prosecutor.

Officials said the house was ransacked and many articles were taken.

'Senseless Sabotage'

Reynolds Asks State to Join in Bombing Probe

MADISON (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds has described the dynamiting of three southwestern Wisconsin livestock yards as "senseless acts of sabotage" and asked that state investigators join local authorities in probing the explosions.

Lafayette County authorities said the blasts occurred during the Labor Day holiday weekend but were not discovered until employees reported for work Tuesday morning.

Racine County authorities said that shots were fired into two trucks near Burlington Monday night.

There was no evidence linking the incidents to the livestock withholding action being carried out by the National Farmers Organization, authorities said.

One Lafayette County NFO official said, "we'll never get any place if this sort of thing continues."

Reynolds said Tuesday evening he had asked Atty. Gen. George Thompson to send members of his investigating staff to Lafayette County to work with authorities there. The governor continued.

"The use of physical force, as I have stated previously, is reserved under our laws to the state. The use of violence by private individuals, no matter their objectives, will not be tolerated in Wisconsin."

"It is my hope that the law violators will be apprehended quickly and that there will be no repetition of those senseless acts of sabotage."

Typhoon Strikes North Philippines

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Typhoon Sally lashed the northern Philippines today with winds up to 200 miles per hour.

The typhoon cut through the Babuyan Channel north of Luzon Island on its way into the South China Sea. There were no immediate reports of damage from the fringed areas.

Sally's isolated winds struck south Formosa, but no damage or casualties were reported.

Refugees from Red China reported in the Portuguese mainland colony of Macao that Typhoon Ruby killed more than 20 persons and injured 100 others in Communist country inland from Macao.

The refugees said the storm, which swept Red China's Pearl River delta Saturday, also caused severe flooding in many parts of Kwangtung Province.

Ruby killed 41 persons and injured 300 in the British colony of Hong Kong.

GOP Incumbent Bows to Foe by Almost 2-1 Margin

Brown County Dist. Atty. Robert Warren handed veteran State Sen. Leo O'Brien of Green Bay a stunning defeat Tuesday in the newly-reapportioned 2nd State Senate District Republican primary.

In the district, which includes the southern half of Brown County and all of Calumet County, Warren received 6,638 votes to O'Brien's 3,289. A third Republican in the race, Gerald F. Holloway, also of Green Bay, got 2,569 votes.

In the Democratic Party primary, John O'Malley of Green Bay defeated Donald D. Miller of Green Bay, 3,427 votes to 3,259.

Substantial Margins

As a result, two Green Bay men will be opponents in the November election — Warren and O'Malley.

Warren won substantially, both in Brown and Calumet counties, but Miller had nearly twice as many votes as O'Malley in Calumet.

Calumet County totals were: Republican — Warren, 1,499; O'Brien, 964, and Holloway, 506; and Democratic — Miller, 492, and O'Malley, 229.

Brown County totals were: Republican — Warren, 5,139; O'Brien, 2,325, and Holloway, 2,063; and Democratic — O'Malley, 3,198, and Miller, 2,767.

One Appleton precinct, the second precinct of the Ninth Ward is in Calumet County. In Appleton, Warren had 82, O'Brien, 79, Holloway, 12, Miller, 50 and O'Malley, 34.

Seek to Form Children's Unit

State Official to Speak at Meeting
In Manawa School

MANAWA — Mrs. Trudy Lattin, unit service consultant, Wisconsin Council for Retarded Children, will speak at a county-wide meeting called to organize a county unit. It will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the home economics room of the high school.

Even though there is a trainable and four educable classes in Waupaca County, Clintonville has the only Association for Retarded Children.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Buhr, Marion, members of the Clintonville association, and Mrs. Irving Lotz, teacher of the trainable class in Manawa, have organized this meeting.

While Mrs. Lattin is in this area, she plans to spend some time in Shawano with the county nurse and interested parents with the possibility of organizing a parent group.

Mrs. Lattin also plans to meet with Mrs. Violet Viitanen, president of the Clintonville association, to discuss such items as fund raising, publicity and programming.

Johnson, DeVaud Win in Waupaca

Candidates Face No Democratic Opposition in November Election

WAUPACA — Richard E. Johnson, Waupaca, and John DeVaud, Clintonville, were victorious in the only two county-level races in Tuesday's primary election in Waupaca County.

Johnson, an attorney here, defeated Richard E. Peterson for district attorney. Peterson, also a Waupaca attorney, had been the county's state assemblyman but did not seek re-election to that post.

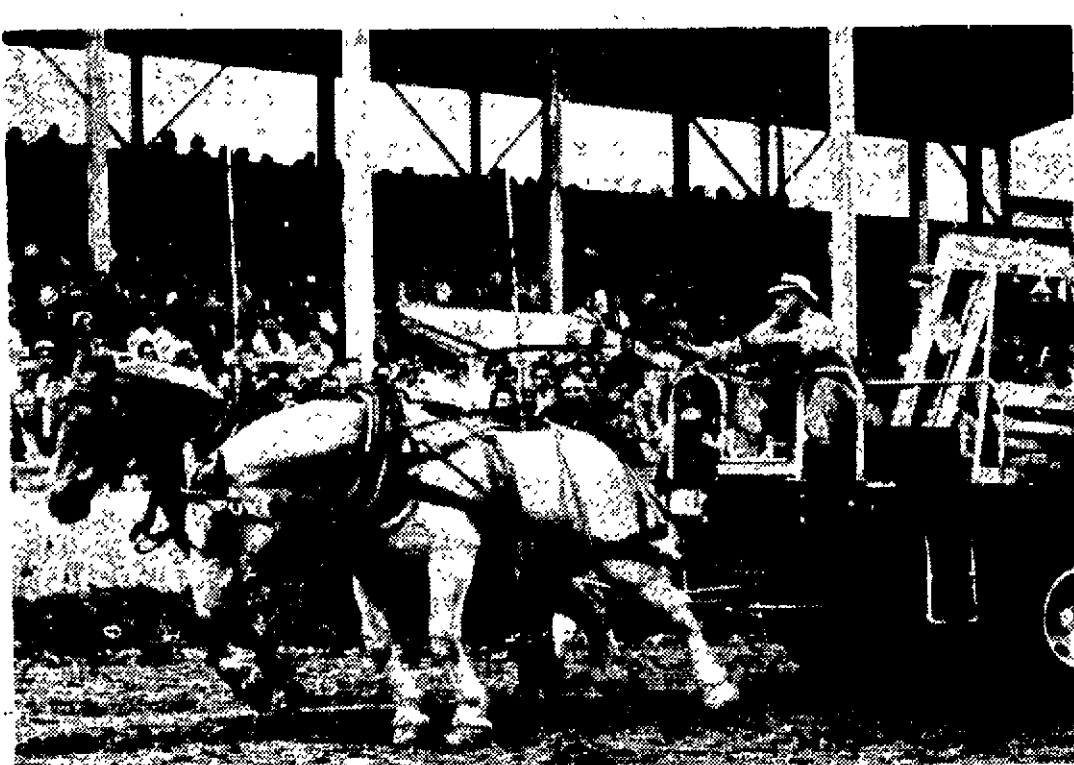

The district attorney's position is being vacated by Gerald K. Anderson, who won the Republican nomination as a candidate for the assembly seat.

Both Unopposed

The win Tuesday for Johnson now leaves him unopposed in the November election. The same holds true for DeVaud, who will be seeking his first full term as county treasurer. DeVaud was appointed to the position in January and was opposed by Orin A. Stevenson, rural Waupaca.

A total of 3,694 votes were cast for Johnson while Peterson polled 2,243. In the race for treasurer, DeVaud received 3,155 while his opponent received 2,489.

Only two names appeared on the Democratic side of the ballot for county offices. They were Henry D. Langman, a candidate for county clerk, who received 628 votes, and Clair J. Fitz-

Conradt, Beck Victors in Outagamie Assembly Races

Win Republican Nominations For Third, Second Districts

Ervin (Butch) Conradt, a Town of Bovina farmer, and Lawrence D. Beck, a Kaukauna insurance salesman, were victors Tuesday in Outagamie County's two primary election contests for assembly seats.

Beck and Conradt won the Republican nominations in the county's Second and Third districts respectively.

Other Republican and Democratic candidates in the First, Second and Third Districts were unopposed.

Two incumbents were without opposition in the primary. They were Republican Harold Froehlich, Appleton, in the First and Democrat William Rogers, Kaukauna, in the Second.

November Contests

First District — Froehlich against Maurice Stack, Appleton. Second District — Beck against Rogers. Third District — Conradt against Wilbert Brick, Black Creek.

In the most contested primary race, Conradt captured 1,589 of the Third District GOP votes. He was followed by John Gillespie, a Town of Grand Chute landscape architect, with 1,475 votes, and Patrick Mares, an Appleton insurance agent, with 1,120. Brick, running uncontested in the Democratic column, received 1,142 votes.

Outagamie County got its third State Assembly seat in May as a result of the State Supreme Court's reapportionment of legislative districts.

Can't Counter

Included in the new Third are the towns of Black Creek, Bovina, Center, Cicero, Dale, Deer Creek, Ellington, Grand Chute, Greenville, Hortonville, Liberty, Maine and Maple Creek; the villages of Bear Creek, Black Creek, Hortonville and Shiocton; and Appleton's 15th through 19th wards.

Gillespie and Mares outpolled Conradt substantially in the Third District's urban area, but not enough to counter Conradt's anticipated heavy strength in the rural areas.

Gillespie carried four of the district's five Appleton precincts plus the Town of Grand Chute (his home district), while Mares also carried his home district, Appleton's 19th Ward.

In Appleton's five Third District precincts Gillespie had 937, Mares 824 and Conradt 378.

Home Town

Conradt carried every rural precinct, except the Town of Bear Creek which Mares won by an almost 5 to 1 margin.

Inquest Set In Fatality

Calumet Coroner to Investigate Death
Of Goodman Girl, 17

CHILTON — A coroner's inquest into the July 29 death of a Goodman girl in Calumet County has been set for Sept. 23 at the courthouse.

County Coroner Leroy Hughes called the inquest to check circumstances surrounding the death of Marie Kristine Wickstrom, 17, a Menasha company office worker, from a July 28 accident at the intersection of State 114 and County Trunk JJ, a quarter mile northeast of Potter.

Police said a car driven by Ross Danielson, 16, Houghton, Mich., skidded over 100 feet before coming to a halt wrapped around a pole.

Danielson told police he missed a curve while traveling west on JJ. The car he was driving, owned by Gordon Schmidt, route 2, Brillion, was a total loss.

Hughes said the girl died from injuries and complications from the crash. She suffered a fractured spine, two broken legs, several cracked ribs and cuts and bruises.

Anderson, Struebing Win GOP Nod for Assembly

Calumet Edges
Sylvester Simon

Carries 16 of 17
County Precincts
In Hot Contest

CHILTON — Incumbent Calumet County Assemblyman Wilmer H. Struebing, route 1, Brillion, was successful in his bid for the Republican nomination in Tuesday's Primary election. Struebing is seeking his second term in the state assembly.

Struebing defeated Sylvester A. Simon, route 1, Menasha, by tallying 1,912 votes to Simon's 1,277.

The GOP race for nomination became heated late in the campaign when religious factors were brought in. The conflict arose because of an ad Simon ran in the Green Bay Register, a Catholic weekly newspaper. The ad charged Struebing had voted against the school bus bill and was aimed at the county's Catholic majority.

However, the ad was inaccurate since Struebing had voted for the bus bill. Late efforts at a retraction were made by Simon claiming he had made an "honest mistake." Struebing, however, said he didn't believe the ad was an "honest mistake" and charged Simon, a Catholic, was attempting to bring religion into the campaign.

In his march to victory, Struebing carried all 17 of the county's precincts with the exception of Harrison township, Simon's home.

Simon carried Harrison by 122 votes. The county was 273-152. Struebing showed strength not only in the rural areas consisting of nine townships, which he carried 947-610, but also in the eight precincts where he compiled a 965-667 margin.

Opposing Struebing in the November election will be Alex Pudlo, New Holstein Democrat who was unopposed. He received 569 votes.

Confirmands to be Tested at Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — An examination of the five confirmands by the deacons and deaconesses will be at 7 p.m. Thursday at Christ Congregational Church. Confirmation will be during the 10:45 a.m. Sunday service.

Kosmosky Defeats Vice for Calumet Sheriff Nomination

Math Nilles, Veteran Court
Clerk, Upset in Primary Vote

CHILTON — Calumet County's veteran sheriff, C. J. Kosmosky, won the right to represent the Republican party in the November election by downing county patrolman Ivan Vice in Tuesday's primary.

The balloting also provided an upset when Roger Teske, route 4, Chilton, apparently broke a 24-year grip on the office of clerk of court held by Math Nilles, 703 Park St. Both were Republican candidates and the Democrats do not have a candidate on the ticket.

Kosmosky, who polled 1,974 votes to 1,233 for Vice, will be seeking his sixth term in office. Together with his wife, Lucille, who successfully kept the post in the family on two occasions, when Kosmosky could not run, the couple has held the office for 14 years.

Vice Wins 2 Precincts

Kosmosky carried about the same margin of victory in all precincts with the exception of Harrison Township and Appleton's Ninth Ward, Second Precinct.

Sinkewicz Speaks on FWD Labor Relations At Rotary Luncheon

CLINTONVILLE — Rotarian Frank Sinkewicz, director of industrial relations at the FWD Corp., spoke Tuesday noon at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at Hotel Marston. He discussed labor relations.

Guests were Clarence Schneidewend, president of Local No. 815, AFL-CIO at FWD; Roy Trieglaf of Local No. 889, AIW of the AFL-CIO at Atlas Conveyor Co., and Mrs. Margaret Krueger, president of Local No. 130-G of the CIO of the Hansen Glove Corp., all of Clintonville. Ron Kershaw, administrative assistant to the vice president of Hansen Glove Corp.; State Sen. Gerald Longe, R-Bear Creek, and Al Sattler, a representative from the Ford Tractor & Implement Division of Ford Motor Co., Minneapolis, also attended.

Waupaca DA Opposes G. T. Murphy

WAUPACA — In a three-way Waupaca County race for the Republican nomination for State Assembly in Tuesday's primary election, Gerald K. Anderson emerged victorious.

Anderson, present district attorney, piled up 2,829 votes while Carleton (Cal) Cheek was run-up with 2,010. Ray E. Hemington, the third name on the Republican side of the ballot, received 988 votes.

Anderson will now oppose the Democratic candidate, Gerald T. Murphy, in the November election. Murphy, a New London insurance agent, was unopposed in the primary. He received 957 votes from his Democratic followers.

Seek Seat

The two men will be seeking the assembly seat which is presently held by Richard E. Peterson, who did not seek re-election but made an unsuccessful bid for GOP nomination as district attorney.

Tuesday was Cheek's first attempt to enter the political field. Before becoming a candidate, the Weyauwega resident was news director of a Waupaca radio station. Hemington is active in township politics and had made a previous bid for the assembly.

The November will be Murphy's second attempt for the Assembly. His first bid came in 1962 when he lost to Peterson.

2 New London Youths Hurt In Accident

1931 Model Auto
Hits Parked Car Near Northport

NORTHPORT — Two New London youths received head injuries when the 1931 model car in which they were riding struck a parked car on State 54 near the Pine Tree Tavern at 1:02 a.m. Saturday.

The driver, Roy D. Walker, 19, 522 E. Beacon Ave., and Rosemary Woeshnick, 16, 109 Pine St., were thrown from the car. The youths were taken to New London Community Hospital, where they are reported in fair condition.

Parked Car

Waupaca County Patrolman Gerald Pagel said Walker's auto was traveling west when it crossed the highway and struck the parked car, on the shoulder of the road. The parked car was owned by Donald E. Swinton, route 3, New London. The Swinton car was pushed 76 feet back into the ditch by the impact.

When the older model car struck the parked car the entire left side was torn away and pieces were scattered over a wide area.

Noble Grands to Meet

WAUPACA — Mrs. Ralph Hollday and Mrs. Guy Davis will be hostesses to a meeting of the Past Noble Grands of Rebekah Lodge at 8 p.m., Thursday in the IOOF Hall.

Calumet County National Farmers Organization (NFO) members Tuesday boycotted the Armour and Co. receiving station four miles south of Chilton on State 57. Some 40 men, women and children

One Ends in Victory for Farm Group

Fox Valley police authorities Tuesday stood guard at two National Farmers Organization (NFO) demonstrations, one of which saw more than 700 persons objecting to livestock sales and resulted in a victory for the farm organization.

Some 30 Waupaca County sheriff department deputies were at Nolan Bros. sales pavilion at Marion, where the crowd was estimated at 700 persons. Meanwhile, about 40 NFO members boycotted the Armour and Co. receiving station four miles south of Chilton where Calumet County authorities stood guard.

There was no violence, except for a tomato thrown during the Marion demonstration, but authorities were watching a sale at the Equiv Company's sales yard at Bonduel. The NFO planned a demonstration there today.

Major reason for the huge demonstration at Marion was an agreement previously made which allowed sales at the Nolan barn two days a week. The firm normally had held three sales a week.

The demonstration resulted in a major local victory for the NFO, for Nolan Bros. signed an agreement to close operations completely until Sept. 20.

The agreement, signed by James Nolan, witnessed by Waupaca County Undersheriff William Mork, and countersigned by Carvel Voie, Scandinavia, secretary-treasurer of the Waupaca County NFO, said: "We agree to shut down our auction market for a period from this date and to include Sept. 20, and after that date, if the members of the NFO succeed in closing the Equity market on or before that date, we will remain closed until the end of the holding action."

Pete Neimuth, Manawa, a trucker, also agreed not to haul livestock for the same period. The entire Calumet County Traffic Patrol and Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky kept watch at the Armour station.

Turn Back Truck

In an attempt to get into the station and unload, a truck knocked an elderly man down, according to NFO members at the scene. Police said the man apparently slipped.

The demonstrators there stopped one truck for more than 45 minutes until the driver turned around and went home. Ken Mainville, an Armour representative, said.

A truck owned by Pethan and Puetz Livestock Inc. was stopped at the entrance, and only after more than two hours of negotiating, was it allowed to drive through and unload.

Mainville said the receiving station must stay open for the farmers who still want to ship their livestock to market. He

Cars driven by John Daul and Eugene Horn, route 2, Hilbert, collided in the intersection. The Daul auto was traveling west and the Horn auto south

Table Move for County Cars In Waupaca

Sheriff Frazier Says He'd Rather Use Own Vehicle

WAUPACA — A recommendation to purchase county-owned cars for the sheriff and undersheriff has been tabled by the county law enforcement committee.

Sheriff Loran Frazier has expressed a desire to operate his own car instead of one furnished by the county.

By operating his own car, he said, he can use it for personal driving as well as county business without being criticized by the public. Sheriff Frazier also disputed that the county cannot operate their squad cars for 4.7 cents per mile as was reported at the August session of the county board. At present, both Frazier and Undersheriff William Mork receive seven cents per mile when they use their cars for county business.

Profit on Papers

Sheriff Frazier also told the members of the committee the county makes money on legal papers served by him and Mork. Last year alone, he said, a neighboring county took paper service out of the sheriff's department's hands and in doing so lost $4,000.

Frazier said when long trips are made to pick up prisoners all that is seen is a bill for mileage. In many cases the county is reimbursed by the person who has been transported, he said.

Receiving seven cents per mile, Frazier said he is not making any profit, adding his books are open for examination.

The discussion of the purchase of the cars will be continued at the next committee meeting.

In another report, Sheriff Frazier said during August there were 261 prisoner days in the county jail and the cost of caring for them was $652. Also during the month the sheriff's department took in $1,783 in fines and costs.

FOREST JUNCTION — Two months as a missionary in Japan have been completed by the Rev. Theodore Jordan who will occupy the pulpit at Zion Evangelical United Brethren Church here at the regular 10:35 a.m. service Sunday.

Homeward bound, he has stopped the past week in Hong Kong, Cairo, and the Holy Land at Heidelberg, Germany. He will call on a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Geraldine Bullock Jordan, Friday, leave Saturday morning and land at the Oshkosh airport at 7 p.m. Saturday.

The Rev. Mr. Jordan served as assistant pastor during July and August in the lone Christian congregation of approximately 60 members in the Buddhist city, Yonago, with a population of 100,000.

Gophers Are No Problem for John Looker, Fremont. He has tamed the little animals and they come running when they hear him crack nuts. (Schmidt Photo)

Gophers 'Come and Get It' At Sound of Cracking Nuts

FREMONT — Sounds of crackling nuts on a block of wood has become the "Come and Get It" call for gophers at the home of John (Casey) Looker here.

Training the gophers to the point where they have become Looker's pets began last year. After Looker would finish crackling nuts for his family's use, the gophers would climb onto the stump after he had finished and eat fragments of nutmeats he had left behind.

Soon the crackling sound became their call to "dinner," Looker says. One by one they sit on the stump and take the nutmeats from Looker's hand.

The same gophers apparently visit the feeding stump each year. Evidence of this is the return of one gopher, called "Notch Earl" by Looker, who has a scar on its ear.

Looker feeds them nuts left over from his supply of Christmas purchases. Smaller nutmeats are eaten from his hand, but the larger ones are dragged away and apparently taken to the gophers' lair.

It turns out the gophers aren't particularly fussy either — they also enjoy, according to Looker, raw, sweet corn on the cob.

Nearly 1,000 Attend Annual Boat Festival

NEW LONDON — Nearly 1,000 people attended the Labor Day Boat Club Festival Saturday morning.

The dance Saturday at the American Legion Clubhouse, boat club headquarters, was well attended. Earlier reports of low water in the Wolf River in August may have limited the crowd.

The water levels were approaching record lows before heavy rains shoved the levels up about 1½ feet at the reading station.

The local boating club is the only one in the state to sponsor a festival of this nature, according to Berkahn Boat Club from Wisconsin and Illinois were represented at the gathering.

The program for the event was planned by Bob Polaske Food committee chairman was Marilyn Rickaby.

WEYAUWEGA — Driving on a public highway proved more dangerous for a Virginia woman early Friday morning than her profession as a thrill show driver.

Mrs. Larry Adams, 20, Chapmenville, Va., lost three front teeth and sustained a head cut which required 10 stitches to close when the car she was driving rolled over a half mile east of here at 3:45 a.m. Her husband, who was sleeping on the rear seat of the car, escaped injury.

The couple was traveling from Marshfield to Oshkosh.

Mrs. Adams told police she had fallen asleep. Damage to the car was estimated at more than $1,000.

Woman Jailed For Forgery

WAUPACA — Mary Jane Leppen, Jackson, Mich., a former Iowa resident, was sentenced to two years in prison on each of eight counts of forgery when she appeared Tuesday in Waupaca County Court before Judge Wendell McHenry. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Mrs. Leppen pleaded guilty to the charges Aug. 25 when she was arraigned before Waupaca Municipal Court Justice George Whalen. She had been free on a $2,000 bond during a presentence investigation. The sentence is to be served in the Wisconsin State Home for Women at Taycheedah.

Mrs. Leppen was accused of forging a total of $475 in checks in Waupaca, Portage and Oneida counties. The charges in the two other counties were combined with the Waupaca County charges.

After forging the checks, Mrs. Leppen went to Jackson, and it required extradition proceedings to return her to Wisconsin to face the charges.

Craft May be Down In Shiocton Area

Plane Carrying Milwaukee Pilot, Daughter Missing Since Tuesday

A Milwaukee pilot and his 14-year-old daughter may be down in a remote and inaccessible area near Shiocton and Black Creek, Civil Air Patrol authorities confirmed today. An air search for Lester H. Flaherty, 44, president of a Milwaukee automobile firm, and his daughter, Sharon, 14, who have been missing since early Tuesday morning when their four-place aircraft was expected to land at Timmerman Field in Milwaukee, has been held up due to foggy conditions today. The pair left Wisconsin Rapids late Monday night and were to arrive shortly after midnight Tuesday. CAP authorities alerted squadrons to a possible lost aircraft about 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. Police were notified Tuesday night.

Conradt, Beck Win Outagamie Assembly Tests

Bear Creek is Mares' home town. Conradt won a few rural precincts by 2 to 1 margin, but won most by 5 to 1 margins and better. He captured his home precinct, the Town of Bovina, by 93 votes to five for Gillespie and four for Mares. The new Second District, won by Beck, includes the towns of Buchanan, Freedom, Kaukauna, Oneida, Seymour and Vandenberg; the villages of Combined Locks, Kimberly, Little Chute, and the cities of Seymour and Kaukauna. Beck received 939 votes to Town of Oneida chairman Norman Austin's 587 in the Second District GOP primary. The incumbent, Rogers, received 2,572 votes, almost twice as many as the two Republicans combined, even though he was uncontested. Austin was able to carry only four precincts—his home Town of Oneida and the neighboring towns of Freedom and Kaukauna, plus the City of Seymour's Second Ward. Beck won in Seymour's First Ward, all Kaukauna wards, Kimberly, Little Chute, Combined Locks and the Towns of Buchanan, Osborn, Seymour and Vandenberg. In the First District, incumbent Froehlich, the Republican, had 3,828 votes. His November opponent, Stack, the Democrat, received 1,645 votes. The First District includes Wards 1 through 14 and Ward 20 in Appleton, with the exception of the Ninth Ward's second precinct which is in the Calumet County assembly district.

Bellaire Park Road Program To Continue

Area Residents Still Protesting Construction Work

Appleton Park commissioners said Tuesday the Bellaire Park road construction and beautification program will continue as scheduled. The board again reaffirmed its position after receiving a letter from Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Zeiss, who offered suggestions on how the park should be treated and offered to meet with the board. Some residents, mostly those in the park area, have been critical of the board for putting a road through the center of the park. They are circulating a petition. An Appleton attorney has also filed a complaint against the city, asking the court to issue an injunction to have the project halted. "When we get through with the Bellaire project it will be the prettiest park in the city," commented Art Jones, board secretary. "It was never meant to be a flower garden area for six or eight people," Jones said. "Those crying the loudest, don't want anyone to go in there and use the park," Jones added. The board produced a 1957 drawing which showed plans for constructing the road through the park. Members also recalled that the previous year a court decision ruled that money for the park could be used from the Peabody trust.

42.2 Per Cent Cast Ballots in Appleton

Appleton's voter turnout in the Tuesday primary was 10,044, City Clerk Elden Broehm said today. There were 23,800 residents registered for voting in the city's 20 wards. The turnout represented 42.2 per cent of the electorate.

Outagamie Democratic Committee Apportions Fall Campaign Funds

Executive committee members of the Outagamie County Democratic Party Tuesday night made final apportionment of funds to county and district candidates for the November election campaign. In addition to aid from the party's campaign treasury, a mutual assistance dinner will be held in October to benefit candidates. William Cherkasky, Lester Ballet, county chairman, and Dr. James Barnstable were appointed to complete arrangements for the dinner, which will include a speaker of statewide importance. Theodore Griswold, Democratic state candidate for secretary of state, will be the featured speaker Sept. 17 at the regular county meeting at Outagamie County Bank. Chairman Ballet asked the membership committee to exceed the membership quota set by state headquarters—four new members by Sept. 17—and aim for 1,000 members by the November election.

Woman Gets Prison Term For Forgery

Mrs. Stickney to Serve Up to 4 Years; May Appeal Ruling

An Appleton woman charged with forgery of a $20 check and with forging a name to a department store credit slip for purchase of a $12.98 dress was sentenced Tuesday to up to four years in the women's state prison at Taycheedah. Mrs. Jo Ann Stickney, 32, indicated through her attorney, Allan Cain, that she planned to appeal the conviction. Cain asked for a stay of the sentence for several days in order to prepare the appeal, but it was denied by County Judge Gustave Keller. Earlier Judge Keller had approved Mrs. Stickney's request to discharge her court-appointed attorney Joseph Van Susteren and to substitute Cain. Cain is to be paid by funds supplied by friends of Mrs. Stickney. Cain requested that pleas of guilty to the two charges be laid aside and that Mrs. Stickney be allowed to plead innocent. Judge Keller denied the request. Mrs. Stickney was charged with the offenses June 22 by Appleton police. She has been in the Outagamie County jail for failure to provide bonds of $3,500 for her release.

Jaycees Revive Park, Zoo Plan For Appleton

Ask Board to Get New Park, or Use An Existing One

Plans for a new park, and municipal zoo, were revived Tuesday by the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees asked the park board to acquire enough land for a large, new park and pledged cooperation in providing funds to develop it. A three-member Jaycee committee told the board, the organization was interested in taking over an existing park or a new one. Zoo Needed They said, and park commissioners agreed, Appleton needs a large municipal park for summer and winter activities. They also felt the city of Appleton's size should have a zoo. Various properties were discussed as possible park sites, and the Jaycees said they would inspect land behind Pierce Park. That area has not been developed yet, but it is owned by the city. The park board said if the Jaycees are interested in the Pierce Park expansion, they should meet again and have the alderman of the ward present to discuss the matter. Pierce Park is comprised of 38 acres. Several years ago a zoo project was discussed but dropped.

Haiti Feels Sting of War By Guerrillas

Dictator Fails To Stem Tide; Showdown Soon

BY LOUIS UCHTELLE

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Two rebel guerrilla bands are operating in southern Haiti, possibly moving toward a showdown with the seven-year dictatorship of Francois Duvalier.

Their exploits last month included an attack on the southwestern coastal town of Port-au-Piment, ambushing an army patrol near the city of Jeremie, the downing of a fighter plane, attacks on three army posts, and purchasing of food from peasants at twice normal prices.

Rebels now total about 170 young and well-armed Haitian exiles who describe themselves as Social Christians and political moderates. They are sponsored by the "nonpolitical" Haitian Revolutionary Armed Forces, which claim to have raised money for guerrillas from public contributors.

Sixty landed June 29 at Saltrou, 30 miles southeast of here. The rest came ashore Aug. 5 near Dame Marie, at the tip of a peninsula 140 miles west of the capital.

Counter-Measures

Road travel has been forbidden in areas where the guerrillas are operating and there is a curfew in Jeremie. According to reports, soldiers and the civilian militia have been unwilling to pursue rebels into the mountains.

Whether the rebels can topple Duvalier appears to depend on how much support they can win and whether they can spread the fight to this capital.

A third landing — forcing the government to fight on three fronts — might produce quick and dramatic results, many Haitians believe.

Calm Capital
Port au Prince appears calm and normal. People go about their business as if they do not expect an immediate change. They discuss the rebels constantly, sometimes as if they were an academic question.

After nightfall, however, streets are nearly empty. Some night spots have closed. Lines no longer form at movie theaters for evening shows.

Arrests have continued. Informal sources say three entire families — perhaps 50 persons — have disappeared since mid-August. The families were suspected of having relatives among the guerrillas.

Defenders
Five hundred well-trained soldiers in two army units defend the capital.

The government's official attitude is that rebels are a nuisance.

"They are nothing," says Paul Blanchet, minister of information. "They will not succeed. They do not have the support of the people and they cannot succeed."

Two weeks ago Blanchet sent his wife to Europe for a vacation. Herve Boyer, minister of Edward Propson, 19, route 1, Hilbert, admitted driving after revocation of his driver's license, driving a car after the registration was revoked and speeding. He paid $75 and costs on the first charge; and $50 and costs each on the second and third charges.

He was arrested Sunday by state police in the Town of Stockbridge after police noticed the car he was driving did not have current license plates.

commerce industry, did the same, and Hosner Apollon, one of Duvalier's closest associates, has defected.

Turning Point
Many Haitians feel that if the guerrillas continue to apply pressure, Duvalier's associates might turn against the 57-year-old dictator, who was proclaimed president for life in June.

Rebel sources here and Santo Domingo say 30 soldiers, militia, and Tonton Macoutes — Duvalier's police — have been killed and others injured. An air force C47 was seen unloading wounded here, and an elaborate military funeral was held last week for two unidentified persons.

Duvalier has claimed only one rebel killed, in an engagement near Jeremie Aug. 13.

New Breed of Writers

Campaign Speeches of Today Differ from 1960

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) —There's a new breed of speechwriters at work.

Just read the speeches by President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

They're not like those in 1960 by Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Johnson has become a one-sentence-to-a-paragraph man, with one idea to a sentence.

After each sentence he looks around til the audience digests it.

Take his Labor Day speech in Detroit:

"This is a great day in an historic place.

"Here, and today, we begin to move toward new years of achievement for America.

"Sixteen years ago an American president came here and promised that America would enter a new period of hope."

"You gave him support and he gave you that hope."

Short Sentences

Goldwater goes for short sentences, too, but often bunches them in one paragraph.

He tries to give them a roll, a grandeur, with high-sounding abstract words like peace, freedom, liberty.

Here are some from his campaign opener Sept. 3:

"We mean something far different from the opposition party. We mean:

"Peace through preparedness.

"Peace through freedom.

"Purpose through constitutional order.

"These are the themes we shall make resound across this great land of ours, and across an anxious, troubled and listening world."

Kennedy relied on fairly short sentences, but not as terse as Johnson's, and usually packaged them in a paragraph.

Kennedy Speech

Here's Kennedy making a Labor Day speech in Detroit in the 1960 campaign:

"I am taking my case to the American people in the next two months because I believe that the American people should decide which direction this country is going to go. The issue is before you and I am confident that in November you will make a choice for progress, not for standing still."

Kennedy's instinct for clarity and brevity was so good he made up that part of his speech after his prepared speech had been released to the press.

The prepared one wasn't that simple, that quick:

"I am taking my case to the American people because that is where it belongs — because that is where there will be no threat of veto or parliamentary obstruction — and because that is where we can always place our confidence."

Sense of Composition

Because Nixon lacked Kennedy's sense of composition, he didn't get across as easily as Kennedy, and maybe that's one of the things that hurt him.

His sentences were often too stretched, as one of his first 1960 speeches shows:

"I call upon all the people here, whether you are Republicans or Democrats or independents, to hear what I have to say, to hear me on the issues, and then to make your decision — not on the basis of the party label, even though you happen to be a member of my party — but on the basis of whether you think what I stand for is best for America."

The trouble with Johnson's bang-bang-bang is that he may make people hard of hearing.

And Goldwater may put them to sleep if he keeps playing that peace-liberty-freedom record over and over, as he says he will.

A Public Service Message From Your Local Fuel Oil Dealers

Let's clear the air about which modern fuel causes household dirt and grime

Science Proves:

90% of Household Grime COMES FROM COOKING FATS AND OILS!

The truth is simple. The culprit is in the kitchen. Cooking fats and oils create the problem. They, and not the modern fuel you burn, tend to cover drapes, walls and furniture with greasy film. Modern science proves it.

Fortunately the solution is simple too. Put a hood and exhaust fan over the stove. Turn on the fan when you cook. Result — no more grit, grime or grease! Heat safely. Choose the clean, modern economical fuel — OIL! Today's highly-refined, clear, golden heating oils burn spotlessly clean in a completely sealed combustion chamber — never any soot or fumes to escape and soil furnishings, tarnish metals. Enjoy OIL, Nature's finest fuel.

Lawrence Says Many Reasons Businessmen For Democrats

Probably Will Not Have Much Effect
On Voting Totals

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Why should it occasion so much surprise when a score or more prominent businessmen form a group to work for the election of President Johnson in November? Is it assumed that businessmen always think alike on matters of public policy and that in the past they have unanimously supported the Republican party?

Lawrence

Unquestionably the preponderant number heretofore have been on the Republican side and probably still are. It nevertheless seems to be news when anybody in big business says he prefers to see the present administration continued. Hence much discussion has ensued among businessmen themselves as to why there not only are "defectors" but that they seem willing to draw attention publicly to their preference.

All sorts of reasons are advanced in explanation of the phenomenon. For one thing, many businessmen who feel that the economic situation is rosy today don't want to see any change which they think could "rock the boat." Others believe that if businessmen of prominence like themselves line up with the administration, a responsibility will be imposed upon the latter to exercise restraint on the excesses in labor-union policy. If, for instance, a big company is on the verge of a strike of major proportions, it might be thought better for the management to become friendly with the administration, rather than hostile, so that some governmental intercession in their behalf can be achieved.

$100 Billion

It is being suggested, too, that with $100 billion to spend every year, the present administration has many worthwhile contracts to hand out for defense and other public projects in which awards are not always made to the lowest bidder. Some members of Congress have protested against this trend, but it exists nevertheless, and the businessman at the head of an enterprise with a capacity to do a diversified business isn't likely to adopt a course in politics that could be considered unfriendly to the administration in power.

Big Government

Then there are other businessmen who feel that the emergence of big government has made necessary the enlargement even of what is known as "big business." Unfortunately for some of these businessmen, the Department of Justice still thinks the antitrust laws can be construed arbitrarily to give the government the right to decide not just what is a monopoly but what is "big" or "too big." There is hardly an industry that hasn't a few antitrust suits pending against it, members in the courts or being prepared through the investigations of the Department of Justice. Certainly under all such circumstances, it is considered wise by some businessmen to play ball as far as possible with the incumbent administration, especially if it seems likely to continue in office.

The regulatory authority of the federal government, moreover, is extensive today. The Federal Communications Commission has the power of life or death over radio and television stations. Tariff rates and the regulation of imports are handled by federal commissions and departments. These matters can make quite a difference on the profit-and-loss side of a business. The penetration of government into business is growing, and many businessmen want a friend at court whenever they can get one.

Political Activity

Businessmen, as a rule, prefer not to be active in politics. They have, however, watched the labor-union leaders carry on campaigns for the Democratic candidates, and assume that this pays off in favoritism to union labor. So perhaps it is natural for some leaders of industry to conclude that maybe it is time they found a way to make a Democratic administration feel a bit indebted politically to businessmen as well.

All this can prove largely irrelevant in the matter of total votes. For the top business executives in America constitute a relatively small percentage of the vote in any state.

The importance fact to be borne in mind, however, is that business conditions are today good for most businesses, though some large and small companies are experiencing setbacks. If and when the artificial business boom comes to an end in the next year or two, maybe the argument for change in existing economic policies will gain more support. This may then be reflected in a change of political affiliations and a return to the Republican fold of many of the businessmen who are today anxious to stay in the good graces of an incumbent administration.

Voters Show 'Free Choice' In Primary

Voters managed to exercise a certain degree of "free choice" in Tuesday's primary, penning in at least a dozen write-ins for Outagamie County offices.

Former Sheriff Donald Heinrich received two votes of confidence, as did Sheriff Lt. Jack Zuelzke. Incumbent Sheriff Calvin Spice, a Democrat, was written in for a Republican candidate in the Town of Cicero, and in the Village of Shiocton. Incumbent Coroner Bernard H. Kemps was written in as a Democratic candidate. Kemps is a member of the executive council of the Outagamie County Republican Party.

Town of Dale voters picked state patrolman Duane Jorgenson, and a resident, Dan Perkins, for sheriff choices.

In Combined Locks the name of the Greenwood Funeral Home was submitted as a possible candidate for coroner. A "John Kelley" received one vote for sheriff in the Town of Ellington, and very possibly the voter meant to nominate Ray Kelley, a candidate for two years for sheriff.

Write-in votes in Wisconsin primary elections are invalid.

Indian Tobacco Has High Nicotine Content

BY AL LANIER

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — The American Indians, unaware that smoking might be a health hazard, contentedly puffed a species of tobacco that would make a wooden Indian cough sawdust.

This Indian tobacco, with a nicotine content twice that of today's varieties, is being grown by Clemson University specialists in a cooperative effort to furnish researchers with various obscure types for experiments aimed at eliminating possible cancer-causing factors.

The Indian leaf, grown by Clemson officials under carefully controlled conditions, is shipped in 50 or 100 pound lots to the Tobacco Research Division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md. There the leaf is broken down into component parts and the differences and similarities carefully compared with other species.

State Economy

South Carolina is officially proceeding on the assumption that tobacco will continue to bring well over $100 million annually into the state's economy. The U.S. surgeon general's report calling smoking a health hazard was discontinued recently by Robert C. Edwards, president of Clemson University, in an address to tobacco exporters.

At the Clemson Pee Dee experiment station near Florence, in the heart of South Carolina's tobacco growing area, cooperative experiments with seven tobacco companies are under way. These experiments are aimed at developing tobacco lines with high quality that appeal to smokers and manufacturers.

Dr. John Pitner, director of the Pee Dee experiment station, said the major contribution of the tobacco companies is data. Most of the funds for the experiment, he added, come from the state.

The new tobacco lines grown under supervision of Clemson specialists are carefully analyzed by manufacturers for chemical makeup, physical characteristics, quality and texture.

Dr. Pitner said quality in tobacco is hard to define. The new leaf must have a nicotine content that is not too high nor too low, is not too dark nor too light, and has a soft, silky feeling, he explained.

Most of all, it must have flavor — the thing that led the Indian to put tobacco in his peace pipe and smoke it.

Financial Aid for Students Proposed

BY SYLVIA PORTER

"If we are to get out from under the yoke of poverty and under-education, it will be necessary to make high school and college feasible by making payments to students to study and work in school."

Porter

It's a startling suggestion even to those of us who were students in the 1930s and know what it meant to fight for an education in the worst depression in world history. It easily may infuriate those who believe in Senator Goldwater's program for a free America.

Nevertheless, this proposal will appear next Tuesday, Sept. 15, in the U.S. Labor Dept.'s Occupational Outlook Quarterly in an article by Tufts University professor of education William C. Kvaraceus.

Most dropouts today are really "pushouts," argue Kvaraceus, for actually the decision is made by parents, teachers, school counselors. Teachers, he charges, give up on underprivileged children much too easily; they do not believe the needy child has a chance or that he ever will make it. Counselors do not have any first-hand contact with needy students or their parents; they slavishly follow counseling principles which apply to middle-class homes rather than to the impoverished family.

As for the dropout's parent, "The harsh realities of everyday life have stunted his view of what is possible for him and his children." This parent "forecloses" both on himself and his children.

There is simply no disputing the grim evidence that today's average high school dropout is doming himself to economic disaster. There is no hiding from the fact that the untrained, uneducated youth today is likely to become a burden on every taxpayer, forcing us to pay a huge price for his life-long chronic unemployment and underemployment. What's more, this dropout is cheating us, as a society, out of a potential major contribution, for an astonishingly high number of this era's dropouts have an I.Q. well above the national average.

How do we help the young boy or girl who, as he returns to high school this month, must face this awesome dilemma, stay in school in the face of overwhelming economic pressure at home or drop out and invite second-class citizenship just because he is without a diploma in this most competitive job world?

The way to help, says Kvaraceus, is by paying students to stay in school. Otherwise, "We shall be left forever frozen in the situation that now confronts us, all other educational innovations notwithstanding."

Surprising as it may be to most of us, paying students to stay in school is not a novel idea. It has been used in other countries and in ours too (under the National Defense Education Act, we have been paying counselors in training, and including a stipend for each child). Economically, Kvaraceus insists, the policy is sound. Aiding the working child in the classroom is an investment in his and our national future. Psychologically, it makes sense. The direct payment via the teacher-paymaster in the classroom reassures the poor but able student that his school and our society value him highly.

Knowledge Explosion
"With the knowledge explosion, paying a student assumes that he is working. The classroom is not a crib or a playpen. There is more and more to learn today; learning is getting harder and harder. Learning and study are hard work."

One major point in favor of Kvaraceus' view has been our dismal post-World War II experience in building spacious, ultra-modern schools and offering a bewildering variety of fancy courses. These have not perceptibly shrunk our dropout problem. Kvaraceus hits home when he remarks that the direct payment method "will reach more children and have more effect on their school achievement and motivation than many elaborate back-to-school and stay-in-school programs involving personnel who are themselves not poor."

Receptive as I am to all ideas—new and old—to solve the urgent problem of the school dropout, I admit this one strikes me as far out.

Old Battleship Nears End of Final Voyage

BY STAN ATKINS

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Lucky to the last, the battleship Alabama is nearing the end of her final voyage — a sentimental journey to become a state shrine.

Instead of being undignifiedly scrapped, the huge battlewagon is being towed from the moth ball fleet at Bremerton, Wash., to Mobile where it will be enshrined in Mobile Bay as a memorial to the war dead.

How do you go about getting a battleship from the government?

$1 Million

It takes the concerted efforts of a state and its people. It also takes at least $1 million.

In Alabama, the $1 million is being raised from the pennies of school children, from gifts of industry and business, from hundreds of organizations. Life underwriters worked as solicitors and virtually every bank in the estate accepted contributions.

The drive began in April and $713,063 has been raised so far. A drive to raise the final $300,000 is now under way.

Donations have come from throughout the United States; from Ethiopia and Ecuador, Alaska and Puerto Rico; from Canada, the Philippines, the Panama Canal Zone and from Mexico.

Most of the contributions from outside the continental United States were from Alabamians working there or serving in the armed forces. Some came from persons who had heard of the campaign and wanted to help.

The idea for the battleship Alabama shrine originated in 1961 when a group of Mobile professional and business men learned that the Navy planned to sell the 35,000-ton vessel for scrap. They formed a "Save the Alabama Committee" and went to then Gov. John Patterson for assistance.

Patterson named an advisory committee to find out if the project could be accomplished. When Gov. George C. Wallace took office in 1963 he gave the project enthusiastic support.

The legislature created a Battleship Alabama Commission and authorized it to borrow $50,000 from the Alabama State Docks to begin operations.

A site for the shrine was chosen alongside the Mobile Bay Causeway, across the bay from the downtown business district. The causeway bears U.S. 90 and 98, major highway links to the east. Officials estimate upwards of two million tourists annually travel along its four lanes.

State Given Title

The Navy gave the state of Alabama title to the ship at Washington June 11. The battleship, still carrying its nine 16-inch guns, was formally turned over to the commission at Bremerton July 7 and the long tow down the Pacific Coast, through the Panama Canal and up the Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico began on July 21.

The gallant old lady, whose luck in World War II was fabulous, will be welcomed to her final home later this week.

Two other states have enshrined their namesake battleships — the North Carolina at Wilmington and the Texas at Houston.
